Naming of Battleships

Battleships are named after states, of which the U. S. S. Arizona is an example. Cruisers are named after cities. Destroyers are named after deceased naval heroes, the last or full name being used, such as the U. S. S. Brooks and the U. S. S. John D. Ford. Submarines are named after fish and the U. S. S. Bass is a good example.

Young Spiders That Fly

Young spiders, although equipped only with legs for locomotion, have a strange method of flying. They climb to a high place, spin a thread that is strong enough to support them, then go sailing off on it in the breeze. Many have landed on ships miles at sea.

Barrington Sav Loan Associat Given Charte

Community Gets Unit Under U. S. Home Loan Bank

Stockholders Will Meet Soon to Perfect Permanent Organization

The Barrington Savings and Loan association, newly formed organization for local saving and home financing, has been issued a charter by the federal government according to information received by Howard R. Brintnaper, temporary chairman.

The charter is numbered 94, indicating that this is the ninety-fourth association in the United States to receive a charter under the home loan banking act. The Barrington association will operate under supervision of the Federal Home Loan bank of Chicago, parent institution for units in Illinois.

Subscribers of stock in the association will hold a meeting at some time within the next two weeks to perfect their permanent organization. At that meeting a board of nine directors will be elected. The directors will then elect a president, a vice-president, a secretary, and a treasurer. Mr. Brintnaper expressed hope that a local capitalization of $25,000 of paid in stock will be completed after the association gets underway. The amount paid in stock will be matched 100 per cent by funds from the federal treasury, regardless of whether it is $5000 or $25,000. At the final meeting held before application for a charter was sent in, a total of $3300 (to be paid in upon receipt of charter) was pledged.

As soon as the organization gets underway, the capital stock (local and government) will be available for sound risk applicants who wish to borrow for the purpose of building, remodeling or buying homes. Loans can also be procured for the purpose of taking up sound mortgages now held elsewhere.

The home loan banks and their subsidiary loan associations form the perfect institutions for local banking of money on real estate. In addition to the home loan banks there is the federal home owners loan corporation which has been organized for speedy emergency action. It is believed that the HOLC is a temporary government institution which will eventually turn over its assets and duties to the home loan banks.

A matter of interest to local people is the Barrington Savings and Loan association is that Henry G. Zander, of Barrington, is chairman of the board of directors of the Federal Home Loan bank of Chicago, parent institution to the local association.

March 15 Closing Date for 25% Reduction on Village Vehicle Tags

The time for the vehicle tag reduction of 25 per cent, ordinarily according until March 1, has been extended to March 15 so that all Barrington residents will have a chance to get the reduction according to A. C. Burandt, village clerk, who warns people to take advantage of this opportunity. The usual number of tags issued in Barrington is about 800 for pleasure cars, trucks, motor vehicles, and taxicabs to be listed in a separate group. The reduction applies to all tags, however.

Scouts to Collect Gifts for Needy in Canvass Saturday

"Good turn day," as set aside by village president Elden Gieske in a proclamation last week, will be observed in Barrington Saturday when local scouts will call on every home in the village for help in doing a good turn for the needy of this region. Each of three local troops will be assigned a certain section of the village and there will be intense competition between the individual members to see who can collect the most articles.

They will ask for chairs, tables, bedroom furniture, dishes, buckets, cooking utensils, blankets, pillows, sheets, quilts, clothing, underwear, stockings, sweaters, overcoats, shoes, or anything that can be used by the poor in and around town and which the homeowner can no longer use or has no need.

After completing their rounds of the village, scouts will leave all donations at the local relief station from where they will be distributed to those who need it most.

Citizens would help the scouts a great deal, local scout leaders reported, if they would look through their attics, basements, garages and closets for anything that they might no longer need and would set aside such things for the boys to pick up Saturday.
