Republican County Convention.

Pursuant to the order and direction of the Republican County Central Committee of the County of Lake and state of Illinois, a Republican County convention will be held at the Town Hall, in the village of Libertyville, Lake county, Illinois, on the 23rd day of September, 1904, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Circuit Clerk, a candidate for Coroner, a candidate for State Attorney, and a candidate for County Surveyor.

It having been heretofore resolved that each voting precinct in the county be declared a primary district, and that a primary election or caucus be called for each of said primary districts, and the Republican legal voters of said Lake County, in their last county convention, having passed the resolutions hereinafter mentioned and recited, and said County Central Committee, pursuant to said resolution, having adopted rules to carry the same into effect, which rules are as follows:

Rule I.
All Republican primaries, or caucuses, for the selection of delegates to the Republican county conventions hereafter called shall be called by the Republican county central committee in each and every voting precinct in said Lake County, to be held on the same day, and the hours thereof, to be between two o'clock p. m. and eight o'clock p. m., and the polls thereof shall be open for at least three hours, and each County Central Committee shall see to it that such primary is fully advertised.

Rule II.
All voting at such primaries or caucuses shall be by uniform ballot, which ballot shall be printed by the County central committee and distributed by such committee to the Republican township committees of the several townships, who shall be named committee delivered to the judges of the primaries of the several precincts of such townships, who shall be chosen by such township committees, wherein same shall be delivered to voters and printed and voted the same as the Australian ballot under the regular Election Laws of Illinois, and ballots to be used in voting.

Rule III.
Said ballots shall have printed thereon, in addition to the names of the delegates, the names of all candidates for the several offices for which nominations are to be made at the convention for each township, who shall be selected, and the voter shall receive his ballot from one of the judges of the primary and indicate his choice of candidates by making a cross opposite the name of the candidate of his choice for each office and cast his ballot so marked the same as at an election by Australian ballot under the regular Election Laws; and the candidate for any office who will receive the highest number of votes for that office in such primary shall have the delegation of that precinct instructed for him and to vote for him at the County convention for which such delegates are appointed, and the ballot shall so state such instruction.

Rule IV.
Such ballot shall be in the nature of an official ballot and shall bear the name of the Secretary of the County central committee printed on the back thereof and which shall be voted by the primary judges who shall have the initials of the primary judge who delivered them, written thereon, and in counting ballots cast thereon, and in counting ballots cast thereon shall be counted other than such official ballot so marked.

Rule V.
Such ballot shall contain the names of but one set of delegates in each precinct, who shall be selected by the County central committee in each precinct for his precinct and spaces shall be left vacant so that names of other delegates may be written thereon, and by the voter by erasing printed names and substituting written names therefor.

Rule VI.
Each candidate shall register his name as such candidate with the Secretary of the county committee immediately upon declaring his candidacy, and pay to said secretary a fee of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) to help defray the expenses of printing and distributing such ballots.

Rule VII.
The call for the County convention shall be by the primary judges published at least once in each of two successive weeks, the first publication to be thirty days before the Convention day, and the second publication to be ten days before the convention and district convention calls render a notice of such necessity.

Rule VIII.
The Judges of the several primaries shall make up credentials according to the result of the ballots cast, and shall file forthwith with the Secretary of the County central committee and shall preserve all poll books and ballots until after the adjournment of the County convention to which delegates are elected.

Rule IX.
The County committee shall meet to execute these rules on the call of the chairman or secretary thereof.

Rule X.
These rules shall of course, be subject to such changes and modifications as may result from any primary election law hereafter passed by the Illinois General Assembly, and said County central committee and said County committee shall preserve all poll books and ballots until after the adjournment of the County convention to which delegates are elected.

The several primary districts will therefore call their primary elections to be held in each primary district in said county on the 23rd day of September, 1904.

ber 1904, the polls of each of such primary elections to be open for at least three hours, between two o'clock p. m. and eight o'clock p. m., on said last mentioned date, the judges and clerks thereof to be appointed by the several township committees.

The voting at each of such primaries shall be by ballot, of the kind and in the manner provided for in and recited in the resolutions hereinafter mentioned and set forth.

The representation for each primary district in said County convention hereby by called will be one delegate for each twenty-seven votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for the Republican candidate for president in 1900. The several primary districts will thus send delegates to the said County convention as follows:

FARMERS' MONTH AT WORLD'S FAIR

Biggest Department of the Great Exposition Ready for the Inspection of the Army of Men Who Made Its Creation Possible.

Now that crops have been or are being laid by the farmer, the progress for his trip to the World's Fair, a treat that has long been promised him and for which he has patiently waited. No exhibition has offered so many inducements for the farmer's presence as this one at St. Louis, nor has any previous Exposition given the prominence and space to the subject of agriculture.

August and September are ostensibly the farmer's months at the Exposition, for it is at this season that the agricultural exhibits are the freshest and best. The great harvest of the year is pouring into the booths from every state in the Union, and additions are constantly being made to the gorgeous display.

Headquarters for visiting farmers may be found in every state section of the Great Agriculture Palace, but for the most part, the farmer who has just been completed a Grange House situated in the south end of the building. It is equipped with a reception room, ladies' retiring rooms and check rooms, where parcels may be left free of charge. Here will be kept a list of moderate prices to aid visiting farmers and their families in procuring accommodations.

The largest building on the grounds is the Palace of Agriculture, covering twenty acres, while the Palace of Horticulture near by covers about a third as much space. These two immense structures are filled with exhibits of the farm, garden and orchard of the most extensive and elaborate character, every state in the Union and most of the principal countries of the world being represented.

Agriculture is given more prominence than any other department at the Exposition, the paramount importance of this great industry having been fully appreciated from the very beginning of the World's Fair movement.

About seventy acres of ground are covered by the agriculture and horticulture departments. The Fair, large outdoor spaces being devoted to this industry. Outside there are growing crops, trees and flowers, an instructive six-acre farm maintained by the United States Government Plant Industry, and gardens in all parts of the grounds.

There are more exhibits in the Agriculture building than in any other section of the Exposition. This building is considered by many people the most interesting part of the World's Fair. The exhibits in the palaces of Agriculture and Horticulture committee display vast enough and instructive enough to occupy the attention of visitors for many days. Nothing to compare with them has ever attempted before. They are the climax of several decades of educational work which is placing farming on a high plane and making scientific agriculture a pleasing reality.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Why is it that Ayer's Hair Vigor does so many remarkable things? Because it is a hair food. It feeds the hair, puts new life into it. The hair cannot keep from growing. And gradually all the dark, rich color of early life comes back to gray hair.

"When I first used Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was about all gray. But now it is as black as the raven's wing."—Mrs. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

Gray Hair

Passing through these colossal buildings, studying the attractive exhibits and fascinated with the bewildering encyclopaedia of rural life spread out before his eyes, the World's Fair visitor is impressed with the important part the farmer plays in the great work of industry, and every farmer who views these interesting exhibits is given a new pride in his vocation if filled with inspiration and impressed with new ideas in harmony with the progressive strides that farming has been making for the past few years. The visit will give an insight into up-to-date farming on the most approved plan and will bring new hopes and blessings to the farm.

How properly to rotate crops, how to get the best results from fertilizing and irrigation, how to protect crops and fruit from the ravages of insects—all these and many more things of vital interest to farmers and fruit growers are taught at the World's Fair.

WEATHER AT WORLD'S FAIR.

Cool Nights and Delightful Indian Summer to be Expected at St. Louis. Usually the warmest month of the year, July proved to be one of the most pleasant of the World's Fair season, the average temperature being 67 degrees, a record lower than that made by either Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati or Chicago. The weather bureau records show that the temperatures in St. Louis during July were just between the extremes recorded at New Orleans and St. Paul, cities located at great distances from St. Louis.

August in St. Louis is a month of cool nights, and September and October are the most delightful months of the year. It is that perfect known as Indian summer, when the foliage and birds linger to challenge the coming winter. Nowhere on the American continent is there a spot more delightful than the World's Fair city, a garden of blooming flowers and spraying fountains.

St. Louis, like all cities, experienced several hot days during July, but the highest temperature recorded was 93 degrees against 94 degrees registered by the thermometer at Chicago. On the same day the mercury rose to 90 degrees in Philadelphia, and scores of heat prostrations were reported from New York and Boston.

The relative humidity shows St. Louis to be about normal. Assuming absolutely no moisture in the atmosphere to be zero and absolute wetness to be 100, the relative humidities for July, taken from the records of the first twenty years, Boston shows 70.6, New York 72.2, Philadelphia 68.0, Chicago 64.4, Chicago 65.9 and St. Louis 63.3. The same degrees of heat in two places, with different degrees of humidity, would cause it to seem the hotter at the point of greater density.

St. Louis may therefore rightly claim to be a summer resort this summer, positively one of the most comfortable and delightful places on the map.

Chickens With an Extra Leg.
N. P. Whiteside of Cricket avenue, Annapolis, Pa., recently had a large delegation of Annapolis residents at his residence viewing Annapolis' latest freak, a three-legged chicken, says a Philadelphia dispatch. The third leg is between its two natural legs and hangs under its tail. Since the chicken was hatched all the other poultry in the chicken house have ignored the three-legged wonder, and it is obliged to trot around on its three legs by itself.

Filter For Impure Water.
M. M. Milnes and Mosbet have devised a new filter for impure or unfiltered water from lakes, rivers and springs, says the London Globe. The water is directed over a layer of fine sand a meter thick, with gravel underneath. The solid particles and bacteria in the water are filtered out by the fine sand, and the water escapes freely from the gravel underneath. The authors consider it well suited for the supply of pure alimentary water.

CONCERTS BY MASSES BANDS

Prize Aggregating $30,000 to Be Distributed at the World's Fair.
Never were musical events in America planned upon such an elaborate scale as those of the World's Fair. A series of concerts will be given by competing bands in the fair for prizes offered by the World's Fair. These contests will take place in Festival Hall, Sept. 12 to 17.

Nine cash prizes, aggregating $30,000, are offered for the successful bands. The prizes are divided so as to give to the band securing the highest number of points $3,250; $2,500 will be given to the band scoring the second highest number of points and $1,500 to the one getting the third highest number.

The above division is made for bands in Class A, which consist of twenty members. The B class $10,000 will be given in prizes—first, $4,000; second, $3,000; third, $2,000.

Class C, which includes bands of thirty-five members, will enjoy the division of $12,500. The B class $10,000 will be given in prizes—first, $4,000; second, $3,000; third, $2,000.

A separate program has been prepared by the Bureau of Music for each class, and each band will play through the full programme of its class. The numbers in all three programmes are of eminent composition and are chosen with the view of bringing out the qualities of the bands performing them. The list of composers includes Wagner, Goussé, Offenbach, Verdi, Saint-Saens, Bizet, Stratus and Lova-civalla.

All bands entering must agree to play one concert in addition to the competing concert and massed concert.

A separate programme has been prepared by the Bureau of Music for each class, and each band will play through the full programme of its class. The numbers in all three programmes are of eminent composition and are chosen with the view of bringing out the qualities of the bands performing them.

Sewing Machine No. 9
The Rotary Hook dispenses the old, out-of-date, unmechanical and troublesome shuttle.
The Frictionless ball bearings and perfect mechanical construction enable it to be operated with one-third less exertion than is required by ordinary machines. It sews three yards of goods while a shuttle machine sews two.
It makes the most elastic and most perfect stitch without sewing light or heavy goods.
With our superior attachments the greatest variety of work is possible.
Do not make the mistake of buying a sewing machine until you have given the Wheeler & Wilson No. 9 a trial.
