L. D. CASTLE AT REST.

Pioneer Settler of Cook County and Prominent Resident of Barrington Passes Away.

Lester D. Castle, one of the pioneer settlers of Cook county and prominent citizens of Barrington village, departed this life at his home, Sunday afternoon, October 8, after a brief illness, at the age of 77 years. It was hoped that his life might be spared by an operation which was performed Sunday morning, but disease had so far developed it proved to be of no avail.

Mr. Castle was born near Mexico, N. Y., in 1827 and came to Illinois in 1853 with his father, settling on a farm near Palatine, which he owned at the time of his death. He received his education in the common schools and the academy at Waukegan, and in 1852 married Miss Lucy Taylor of that city.

In 1860 when Cook county was governed by a board of supervisors instead of a county board, Mr. Castle was elected a member from Palatine and served four years.

Mr. Castle was engaged in farming up to 17 years ago when he retired and moved to Barrington. He served as a Justice of the Peace of the town of Barrington and Police Magistrate of the village of Barrington. Mr. Castle was a staunch republican and always took an active part in the republican campaigns.

He is survived by a widow and seven children, Charles S. Castle, cashier of the Federal Trust & Savings bank, Chicago; Arthur L. of Elgin; Percy V., a lawyer, Chicago; Perley D., cashier of the State bank of Austin; Ben B., cashier of the Arlington Heights State bank; Mrs. C. W. Coltrin of Austin, and Miss Eva Castle of this village.

Funeral services were held from the family residence Wednesday afternoon, Rev. T. E. Raam of Elgin M. E. church and Rev. W. H. Tuttle of the M. E. church of this village officiating. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

REV. TUTTLE TO LEAVE HERE.

Popular Pastor of M. E. Church is Assigned to Dundee.

We regret to announce that the Rock River conference of the M. E. church has assigned Rev. W. H. Tuttle from this charge to the church at Dundee. During the four years Rev. Tuttle has presided over the M. E. church of the Methodist Episcopal society in Barrington he has attracted many warm friends and admirers outside of his church among all classes of our people. He has been foremost in all work that aimed for the prosperity and welfare of Barrington. Each of his parishioners are not the only ones who wish that the conference might have suspended the rules of that body and returned the popular minister to the work in this village.

Rev. Tuttle, estimable wife and daughter have a home at Dundee. Each church work in this village and they will be missed, not only by Methodists but by all denominations and society circles as well.

Rev. Tuttle goes to Dundee. To the people of that village he is not unknown and will no doubt find a warm home there. While people of our village dislike to part with Rev. Tuttle and family to planning to know that their home will be among as congenial a class of people as they will find at Dundee, and wish for them the full measure of happiness and success.

Rev. F. M. Lapham, who has been stationed at Waukegan, succeeds Rev. Tuttle here.

Stanger officially has to be present at the convention there will be no services at St. Paul's church Sunday.

Under the direction of the Misses Beulah Oles, Florence Peck and Mabel Banks a social was given in the Baptist church Wednesday evening which was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. ## STORIES OF THE VILLAGUE.

Told by Mackay.

If the township of Barrington ever returned a majority for democratic candidates it was so long ago that the memory of most men is weak, but it must be going to break away from the old faith this year if the action of the Roosevelt-Fairbanks-Denoon contingent in that hawick denotes anything. The managers are audibly excited. They are bustling around as if something great was about to happen. They are getting the fate of the presidential contest depended on the town-

From the Ashes.

Eugene Sullivan, Cook county constable, has lately returned from an extended trip to the home of his childhood in the Emerald Isle. His trip included the principal cities, villages and towns of the lovely island as well as the hinterland east to the heart of every Irishman. He viewed the beauties of Killarney's lakes and falls, mountain paths and winding bays; he wandered where when a lad himself and Kathleen Maourunen tramped upon the moss and recited tales of lore.

In County Cork, the place of his birth, he met the boys and girls at Ballinollig, Mr. Mary, Crosshaven, Blarney, Glanmire and Ballinastick, and watched the sun creep over the beautiful Inchragh mountains.

In the vicinity of City of Cork Mr. Sullivan cut several beautiful black-thorn sticks on which he has presented to Police Magistrate Morrison of this village, who is familiar (from narratives oft feigned to him when a boy) by loved ones passed away of the ground which Mr. Sullivan visited.

NATIONAL ELECTION BETS.

One Man Will Stand on See Barrovered off at the House.

The season of frank bets on the presidential election has begun, says the New York Evening World. An interesting spectacle will be presented in case of Roosevelt's defeat by the Farmer enthusiast who pledged himself, should his candidate be defeated, to stand on a 300 pound oak of live with the law for a year.

The bet was made at the Hoffman House in New York, and the man on the other side of the bet agreed, in case Farmer is elected, to let his hair and whiskers grow untrimmed until 1908.

A Parker man in Brooklyn, in case of Parker's defeat will roll a penny across Brooklyn and make good. That will be nothing compared with the amusement which his opponent will offer should Roosevelt be beaten. He has agreed to shave only one side of his face for one month.

Another bet is that of a Democrat of Harlem who agrees, in case of Parker's defeat, to walk barefoot on Broadway to Thirty-fourth street on Broadway, in New York, with his opponent seated on his back. The Democrat man has proposed to bring once a week with the Salvation Army for the period of one year in case his candidate should be defeated.

Another bet is the following: Walking through the rapid transit subway with a lantern, standing on one hand with both feet against the wall for two miles, and doing a week, swimming the coldest day of the year, wearing clothes backward.

Subwayers are also being offered on the lottery of making good. One man has volunteered to stand on his head five minutes on Broadway's busiest corner if a friend takes the odd half designated.

Faithful Dog as a Placeman.

A Lehigh Valley railroad passenger train was brought to a sudden stop near Yonkers, Pa., the other day by the engine driver seeing a dog ahead with a red danger signal flag in his mouth, says the New York Herald. The crew investigated and, finding a clear track, placed the animal on board and took him to Yonkersville, where it was learned the dog belonged to Bernard Dougherty, an old Lehigh Valley track walker. For six years he was accompanied on his best by the dog. Dougherty died the other morning and all the usual time for getting duty the dog, not seeing his master about, evidently thought he had left the house without him. The dog ran to the railroad, and when a shanty where the red flag was kept, took the bundle between his teeth and started down the track, as he has been taught to do many times before by his master.

American Boy and the Bear.

An eleven-year-old boy of Hamilton, Ont., recently wrote to the ear setting out a collection of Russian postage stamps, says the New York Evening World. His majesty was pleased to accept the collection and the boy received a handsome album containing a complete set of all the stamps issued by the Russian postoffice. The covers of the album are of embossed gold. On the front is embossed in gold the Russian seal and on the back the imperial monogram, surrounded by the words "Imperial Postoffice of the Russian Empire." The collection of stamps is estimated to be worth several hundred dollars.
