Mrs. Nancy Sutherland.
Another of Palatine's old pioneers away this week when Mrs. Nancy Sutherland died at her home in this village, Tuesday, Nov. 15, 1904, after an illness of three days of pneumonia. Mrs. Sutherland was born in Meredith, N. H., December 23, 1830.

In the fall of 1838 she came west with her brother-in-law, J. B. Rice, traveling by boat on the lakes to the port of Chicago. From there they came to Deer Grove, locating in the north of the present village of Palatine. There she taught school for some time at a salary of $1.00 a week, there being but five or six families in the settlement at that time. It was while there she met and was married to Mason Sutherland, November 28, 1842.

Her husband enlisted in the war of the rebellion, was commissioned captain and died of typhoid fever at Young's Point, Miss., during the siege of Vicksburg, January 27, 1862.

To them were born six children, three of whom survive them, Mrs. Emma Matthei, Edward H., and Dr. C. M. Sutherland.

Mrs. Sutherland was an exceedingly courteous, generous and kind lady, one whom it was always a pleasure to meet. Of her younger life we have heard only good words, and in her ripe old age she maintained a lovely spirit. Although somewhat crippled by old age she was always active in mind and body.

Funeral services were held at the home this Friday afternoon, Rev. W. H. Smith of Park Ridge preaching the funeral sermon.

RUMORS ARE RIFE

Regarding Future of the Factory Plant at Chicago Highlands.
For months past rumors have been flying about the fate of the big manufacturing plant at Chicago Highlands, formerly operated by the American Malleable Iron company. According to some of the reports the plant had been leased for a term of years to the American Car Equipment company of Chicago. Another rumor was to the effect that a large corporation for the manufacture of wagons had secured a lease of the buildings and would remodel the plant to suit its wants.

Again it was said that the Gould Foundry company of Chicago had secured control of the property and "if Roosevelt" was re-elected would start the furnaces at once. Other rumors are afloat, none of which can be verified as containing an atom of truth.

For a year the Highlands Association, composed of the property, have advertised the plant for rent and sale, but up to the present time nothing satisfactory has developed.

The Association now is under a different management, Lewis Miller, who has been general manager since the syndicate was formed, having retired from that position.

It is hoped that some arrangement may be made whereby the extensive and well-equipped foundry plant on the Association's property will be re-opened. The business interests of Barrington would greatly and properly value the Highlands increase rapidly.

HARVEST HOME RECEPTION

Tendered by the Ladies of the Thursday Club to Their Husbands.

"The Harvest Home" given by the ladies of the Thursday Club, in honor of their husbands was the first reception of the season. The spacious home of Mrs. Sanford Peck given for the occasion was appropriately decorated with corn, pumpkins, millet and apples.

One of the most original and the most laudable producing numbers on the program was the "Sun Flower Song," an original poem written by Mrs. Minnie Hawley set to music and sung by Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Minnie Hawley, Mrs. Colten and Mrs. Shipman, costumed to represent a "Sun Flower." A reply sung by Philipp Hawley was a surprise to the ladies entertaining the answer having been written by Mr. Peck.

The gun mobile contest was won by Attorney Boy Peck with Dr. Weichert a close second. The nail driving contest was won by Mrs. Minnie Hawley and the needle threading contest by Dr. Weichert each receiving an appropriate prize.

The menu was printed on husks taken from ears of corn and was unique each guest being presented with one as a souvenir. The supper was in full accord with the "Harvest Home" and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The gentlemen voted approval and lingered with their wives until a late hour enjoying the occasion.

Not a Sick Day's Since.
"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad of your Electric Bitters and decided to try that. After taking a few doses I felt better and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Pace of Freeport, N. G. writes to Geo. C. Roberts & Co., Druggists.

Thanksgiving Day Morning On the Farm

EF there's wun thing more'n 'er, As 'er folks of'n say, As makes a chap feel kinder good, It is Thanksgiving' day! For even if he's had hard luck An' things ha'n't bin 'is 'er, There's lots o' folks has had it, 'n' From mornin' until night, An' 'er w'en we kinder reckon up Our pleasures with our pain An' take the bull year 'er an' 'er! We surely can't complain; We've had good health, enuff'er eat, An' closs could be wun'er. An' m'ke there's a better lot 'n' 'er Thanksgiving' drens near, An' then, thank God, the rent is paid, The bosses they've got, The cattle ha'n't got no disease, There's no old scores to pay!

THE TURK A LOOK AROUND.
This mornin' my old gal an' me 'es' tuk a look aroud'.
The same as we've dun ev'ry year
'Fore snow lays on the groun'
See I, "There's Mister Gobbler there
A-struttin' roun' so gay,
But make he'll fight fer strut
'Bout 'er Thanksgiving' day."
'Eggs! it made me feel as proud
As any millionaire,
As Bess an' me walked roun' the farm
An' tuk the mornin' air!
I know her old heart 'es' felt glad
Fer thinkin' 'bout our Jim
A-comin' with his new made wife
Ter sing Thanksgiving' hymn.
An' so, altho' we ha'n't got rich,
We'll thank the Lord an' say,
Fer what we've had, Almighty God,
We give thee thanks this day."

The Democratic Outlook.

In any case, alliance between Socialists, Populists and Bryanites is on the carpet. It is this prospect which makes the sweeping Republican victory ominous, says the New York Post. Unless the conservative Democratic leaders far and near are prepared to keep up the fight there is serious danger that their party will once more become a grave menace, not merely to the business interests of the country, but to its social order and to the rights of property.

Already the cry is raised that the railroads must be nationalized. Mr. Bryan himself has declared for the ownership of the railroads by the individual states. If either plan should succeed there would not be lacking advocates of the nationalization of the telegraphs, telephones and the coal mines.

Republicans Hold Love Feast.

In order that the great victory won in the recent national, state and county election might be properly celebrated, Chairman Whitney and Secretary Morrow of the Lake County Republican committee invited the members of that committee and the township committees to assemble at Waukegan Thursday for a "love feast."

Congressman Ross, representatives of the republican press Lake county and a few invited guests were also present. The meeting was held in the court house at noon. The new districts were given representation on the central committee and vacancies filled. Resolutions were adopted favoring the new primary law as outlined by Governor-elect Deneen, and requesting the state senator-elect from this district to give his support for the adoption of such a measure.

After the business was transacted those present retired to the basement of the Methodist church where an elaborate dinner was served. Covers were laid for sixty persons.

After the banquet Chairman Whitney presided. Congressman Ross to tell what he knew of landslides. The congressman responded in an able manner and gave some valuable information on important questions of the hour. He also said that increased power meant increased responsibility. However, he believed the republicans party was able to show that the increased responsibility was not misplaced, and that it would be able to handle the important questions which are before the American people today in such a manner as to meet with their approval.

Rev. J. A. Whipple, Geo. R. Lyon, Senator A. N. Tiffany, B. A. Dunn, Judge Jones and M. T. Lamey responded to toasts.

PRICE OF TURKEYS

Is Placed Out of Reach of the "Common People."

The individual who can afford to have a luscious turkey served for the Thanksgiving dinner will be fortunate. If he has raised a bird himself he can laugh at his neighbor. If he wishes to purchase one he will have to give bank references to show that he has sufficient funds on deposit to pay for the coveted bird before the marketman will enter his order.

Prices for the royal bird—young or old—have soared out of reach of the masses. Dealers say that never in the history of the American festival known as Thanksgiving was the price of the turkey so expensive as in this year of pronounced prosperity. The retail rate will be, it is said 22@24 cts per pound.

After a quadrennial election for the presidency and governorship the thoughts of the masses turn to that day of feasting—Thanksgiving. They will not find that the great popular victory of Theodore Roosevelt and Charles E. Deneen in Illinois has had anything to cheapen the price of the Thanksgiving turkey. On the contrary, it would appear as if the great "landslide" had an influence in booming turkey meat as well as the stock market.

There is some satisfaction however, cranberries are cheaper. Potatoes and other vegetables are plentiful and also cheap compared with some years past. The beef trust has let up a little on prices, while chicken, duck and other fowl may be had at prices within the reach of the working classes.

SHOOTING AFFRAY AT BARTLETT

Wm. Poltworth Shoots and Fatally Wounds Conrad Broxmman.

William Poltworth, 22 years old and an ex-convict, shot and fatally wounded Conrad Broxmman, 24 Bartlett, yesterday noon.

Poltman was recently released from the Joliet penitentiary where he had served a term for attempted murder. For the crime committed yesterday there was no motive, except an impulsive angry grievance. Poltworth admitted to the sheriff as follows: "I don't know why I did it. I had no object in shooting Broxmman. It was some power I could not resist which made me want to kill him. I fought the power for weeks and finally gave away to it."

Broxmman, the victim, cannot recover. He was engaged in the butcher business, married and the father of eight children.

What It Cost.

A merchant in a neighboring town states that his advertising last year cost him 54 cents for every $100 worth of goods sold. He used half a page for his business announcement each week and says that as long as people read newspapers he will advertise in that way. He says that a good lead. Just as soon as merchants begin to look upon advertising as a branch of business which requires as much care as any part of it, then will advertising pay. Honesty, force, originality and persistency in advertising makes a paying investment.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off the most oppressive of all ailments—Jaundice, Fever, Constipation—all to this perfect Pill. 25c at Geo. C. Roberts & Co., Drug store.

Willing to Sacrifice.

A lady residing in what some of our citizens term "the aristocratic quarter" of this village, advertised for a domestic some time ago. One of that class employed at Kenilworth-on-the-North Shore thought she would like to make a change to Barrington, and wrote to inquire about the situation.

She wanted to know as to conveniences, number of rooms, method of heating and lighting house; number of children in family; hours of meals, etc.

The lady wanted a servant and she wanted one bad. Her husband told her that she "evidently wore the Union garment," meaning that she belonged to a union.

"I don't care what kind of clothes she wears," replied the wife, "I am willing to sacrifice to get her," and she wrote as follows:

"In reply to your letter of inquiry, The house has eight rooms, but we can shut up one or two if you wish can build on one or two. We have furnace heat and electric light but could easily change to some other system. Three in the family—husband, young daughter and self. Perhaps I might prevail upon my husband to take one of his meals at the chop house lately opened here. We can arrange time of meals to suit you. Never mind if you do wear Union garments. I am willing to sacrifice."

The girl has not put in an appearance as yet.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Havland of Armonk, N. Y., "but we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our uncle, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today sits in perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds, Whooping Cough, and all ailments suggested by Geo. C.
