

PASSES TO HIS REWARD

Jerome Kingsley, Faithful to Every Trust, Dies On Monday.

Jerome Kingsley, one of the pioneers of this city, peacefully passed away at his home Monday morning.

The gentleman had lived over the allotted time of three score and ten, but his life was so good and pure that his death caused sorrow in the hearts of our citizens. His life had been a strenuous one from an official standpoint, but none can say but that every trust imposed in him was faithfully and conscientiously attended to with credit to himself and the constituents. He was a man who believed in and practiced the golden rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

The offices he held and the length of service is as follows:

- Department Revenue Assessor from 1861 to 1865.
- Township Clerk 21 consecutive years. Refused to serve longer.
- Supervisor and collector for several years.
- Assessor for 22 consecutive years.
- Secretary of Barrington Mutual Insurance company from the time of its origin until last year.
- Delegate to the county and state conventions of the Republican party.
- Justice of the Peace for 30 years.
- Township Treasurer for 22 consecutive years.

Jerome W. Kingsley, son of Ezekiah and Joanna Kingsley, was born in Berkshire, Mass., Nov. 12th, 1821.

He came to Illinois in 1849 and located at Aurora, where he remained for two years. In 1852 he moved to the old homestead farm in Barrington Center, where he resided until 1882, when he took up his residence in the village of Barrington.

Mr. Kingsley was married in 1845 to Miss Polly T. Pelee, who died in 1847. In 1848 he was again married, this time to Miss Harriet Marlett, who died in 1853. A son was born to them, Alfred, who became one of Elgin's leading business men, and died in 1860, leaving a wife and one child.

In 1857 Mr. Kingsley married for the third time, taking for his bride Miss Clarinda Applebee, daughter of Gilbert and Betsey A. Applebee. By this happy union two children were born—Willis and Carrie. Willis died at the age of seventeen, and Miss Carrie remains to comfort and help share the sorrow that is befalling the devoted wife and loving mother.

Mrs. Julia F. Gardner, the oldest sister of Mr. Kingsley, who has made her home with him, survives him.

The deceased was interested and always ready to do what he could for the advancement of education, or any cause that would be for the good of the people.

Although he was prominent in public life, he was seen at his best in his home life. As a husband, father and brother, none could be more loving and true.

Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley and wife affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal church at Barrington Center August 15th, 1858. In 1865 the deceased was appointed class leader in the church, and served in that capacity on different occasions in the '60s, '70s and '80s. Ever since coming to Barrington Mr. Kingsley has held office in the church. His first office was that of steward. In 1885 he was appointed a trustee, and during most of the time since then was chairman of the church board, holding that office at the time of his death. Of his church work his pastor says:

"He was looked up to as a father in the church, and his counsel was always sought in matters of importance in the church work. He was business like and faithful in small matters as well as in greater things. His brotherly counsel and his cheerful helpfulness will be sorely missed by the pastor and the people of the Barrington Methodist Episcopal church. Brother Kingsley's Christian faith up to the very hour of his death was remarkable. His confidence in God as his father, and in Jesus Christ as his saviour, and in the Holy spirit as his guide was the secret of his victorious life and his triumphant death."

The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, and interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

IT WAS GOOD.

Odd Fellows' Entertainment De-served a Better House.

The Odd Fellows' entertainment on St. Patrick's night, last Saturday, was one that was attended by a much larger attendance. The program consisted of three entertainers, and the Barrington Military Band.

Col. William Lightfoot Visccher of the Chicago Press Club first occupied the stage. In an easy manner he told of Civil War experiences as a Kentucky colonel, and recited a few selections in various dialects.

Mr. De Noyer of Boston, posing as "Railroad Jack," a tramp comedian with ludicrous garments and a good "face-make-up," entertained with few jokes and a lively bucciance.

Mr. Mackevily, a magician of Beloit, Wis., kept things interesting for more than a half hour. His sleight-of-hand tricks were so skillfully done that the audience was filled with wonder, while his pleasing and graceful manner charmed all. He was not of the dull dry sort but was full of fun, keeping his admirers in a continuous laughter. Even some of our pompous business men joined the presidentator to make the evening enjoyable.

The four beautiful selections by the Barrington Military Band were among the best parts of the program. The pieces were well chosen and were played at such time that set everyone a moving. The skill exhibited in their part, in the entertainment most speaks well for our boys.

The evening as a whole was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

IT IS CHEAP INSURANCE.

Take Advantage of the Co-operative Burial Association's Offer.

Secretary F. M. Blocks of the National Co-operative Burial Association has received the stationery for the local association as well as the charter. It is one of the best, cheapest and safest insurance anyone can get; Not a cent of money goes out of the community. The officers are:

Vice-president—A. W. Meyer, merchant.
Secretary and treasurer—E. M. Blocks.Board of Control—A. L. Robertson, bank cashier; J. C. Plagge, merchant; H. T. Abbott, druggist; H. K. Brockway, postmaster; L. H. Bennett, attorney-at-law.

F. M. Blocks, association undertaker.

The initiation fee is only 10 cents, and the assessments on the death of a member is only 10 cents. As the datum last year numbered only 17, it will be seen that it won't cost much in the course of a year. This insignificant sum, however, guarantees you a hundred dollars on your burial expenses, to be applied either on casket and carriages, undertaker's fees and burial lot.

The officers lack of it need no mention as to their reliability and integrity.

A solicitor will next week or later call on you and explain it more fully, or information can be had of any office of the society or at THE REVIEW OFFICE.

WAS A HOT FIGHT

Caucuses Prove Warm on a Cold Day in Barrington and Cuba.

More interest was manifested in the caucus held last Saturday in the Town of Cuba than has been seen in recent years. Every office except that of constable was hotly contested, and as it is, these nomination papers were filed immediately after the caucus was over. They are: L. Waterman who will compete with E. W. Riley, the regular nominee for assessor; Charles Gron vs. William Paddock for highway commissioner, and Henry Gieske will be opposed for tax collector by Conrad Kraus.

George Heger was unanimously chosen as chairman of the meeting, and George Gomstock, J. M. Topping and L. R. Lines served as judges, while Messrs. Alverson and F. H. Plagge did the clerical vote. They had a strenuous day of it, as the meeting was brisk from beginning to end, but they proved equal to the occasion, and performed their duties in a fair and impartial manner.

The first office to be decided was that of supervisor, and Miles T. Lamey, the present incumbent, had a battle royal with Fred Kirschner, for the office of nomination. Mr. Kirschner had had and fairly conducted the office of assessor for years. He is a man who has, and deserves, the many friends who know and respect him. His politics have always been clean, and in business his word is as good as a gold bond. Having been friends for years the two candidates early in the day decided to leave it to their friends, and whichever received the honor, he would not be opposed on the election by the other. When the votes were counted it was found that 172 were cast, of which Lamey received 93 and Kirschner 79.

For town clerk Edward Martin had a "go" with F. H. Plagge, the present efficient official. Out of 174 votes cast, Mr. Plagge received 122, and he was declared nominated.

For assessor F. L. Waterman received 86 votes and E. W. Riley 94, and the latter was declared to be the choice.

The office of collector was a hot fight, the candidates being in the field. The result of the first ballot was: Kraus, 50; Gieske, 45; Kirmse, 30; Semp, 27, and Schaebe, 15. When this result was announced Schaebe, Kirmse and Semp withdrew from the race, leaving Gieske and Kraus to fight it out, the result being Gieske, 76 votes; Kraus, 73.

The clerk contest proved to be the office of highway commissioner for the north end, for which William Paddock and Charles Gron both desired the nomination. The first ballot proved a draw, and on the second it resulted in Gron receiving 72 ballots and Paddock 84.

The highway commissioner for the central district was contested for by J. F. Hollister and J. W. Adams, the former receiving 32 votes and the latter 83 votes.

J. M. Topping, having no opposition for the office of constable had a walk away.

The caucus in the township of Barrington, held Friday, in the village hall, was an interesting one for that township. Live interest was indulged in for the offices of collector, highway commissioner and constable. While in the town of Cuba the fight for the office of supervisor was a warm one, over in Barrington Mr. Boehmer had no opposition, neither had Leroy Powers for clerk, or John C. Plagge for assessor. In the other hand the office of constable, which was not contested for in Cuba, proved an exciting set-to in Barrington. Three candidates were in the field—George Wagner, O. Willmarth and E. K. Magee, the latter winning the nomination, but Mr. Wagner held nomination papers with the clerk, and will run on a petition ticket.

The nomination for the office of collector was sought by John C. Brazel, Charles Urub and Ed. Thies. Mr. Brazel receiving the most votes at the caucus, but will have to battle with Chas. Urub for the office at the election, as that gentleman immediately filed nomination papers, and will run on a petition ticket.

For commissioner of highways Wm. Krumphuss and M. W. Prouty had a "go" for the nomination, but M. Prouty also will run on a petition ticket.

For trustee of schools J. L. Meiners had no opposition.
