MAY ARBITRATE COAL QUESTION

Suggestion That Commission Decide Matter Is Greeted by Cheers.

BOTH SIDES REMAIN STUBBORN

Operators and Mineworkers Stick to Contentions Made at Beginning of Conference, Neither Being Willing to Yield.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 23.—The final scenes in the long conference between the bituminous operators and the miners began yesterday afternoon, when, in the open convention, the question of a great coal strike was brought up for its last hearing.

To all appearances the efforts of President Roosevelt to avert the big industrial conflict have failed. Both sides openly held their positions to be unalterable. The die has not yet been cast for the strike, but, unless all signs fail, the conference will adjourn finally to-day.

One ray of hope appears. This is the idea of the course taken in the great anthracite strike of 1902 and leave the whole dispute to a commission, to be appointed by President Roosevelt, for settlement.

The idea is gaining supporters hourly. Twice this convention it was advocated by the operators and greeted with applause. The miners either are opposing it frankly or refuse to discuss arbitration.

It is not at all certain that the strike, if called, will involve all of the big bituminous fields. The miners showed clearly by their attitude in the meeting that they are divided on the policy of permitting the mines of western Pennsylvania, controlled by Francis L. Robbins, to operate. Robbins offered to grant the increase asked and demanded the right to run his mines. He was hailed by the miners as their benefactor and friend, Lewis Opposes Mitchell.

If President Mitchell advocates this course, which is not certain, he will find opposed to him Vice President T. L. Lewis and that of the United Mineworkers which is following his leadership. The old fight between Mitchell and Lewis was reopened yesterday, and Lewis served notice he will brook such an arrangement.

That peace can be brought about in the mining fields of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, or in the less important bituminous districts, is admittedly hopeless. Through three long hours in Tomlinson hall yesterday afternoon, nearly 4,000 miners, operators and commercial representatives from all over the country sat anxiously waiting for an operator or miner to display some sign of weakening. There was not the slightest indication of a change in the stands either side has held day after day in the joint scale committee meetings.

The operators, one after another, in direct, forceful speeches, stated their reasons for refusing to grant the increase asked by the miners. Following their employers, the miner officials each, in turn, from President Mitchell down, voiced his sentiment. All reiterated their demand for the restoration of the 1902 scale. They said they would not accept a penny less.

Arguments by Both Sides.

In substance the operators gave the following as their reasons:

That the general prosperity which has swept the country has not affected the coal industry.

That coal is selling for less to-day than one year ago.

That the unfair competitive regulations have operated to the advantage of Pennsylvania and to the disadvantage of the other bituminous states.

That the shot fires' law of Illinois has added greatly to the expense of mining.

That the miners' wages already are high and there is no evidence of suffering among their families.

On the other hand, these arguments of the miners were presented to justify the demands:

That the iron and steel industries are prosperous, and these constitute the barometer of the coal trade.

That the reduction of two years ago was experiment and only was accepted in the interests of peace.

That the miners' wages to-day average less than $500 a year.

Points Duty to Philipines.

Washington, D. C., dispatch: The United States cannot afford to give up the Philipines until the natives have been Christianized, said General O. O. Howard, president of the American Tract Society, at the Washington meeting at the Luther Place Memorial Church. He declared that Providence intended the work should fall on the United States, and that the most effective means of accomplishing it was to distribute Christian literature.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN ENGLAND

Charles Dilke Champion of Bill Providing for That End.

Sir Charles Dilke, who is regarded as Great Britain's foremost authority in international affairs, has presented a bill in parliament, entrenching women and providing that no person shall be disqualified by sex or marriage from sitting in either house of parliament, and that women shall be given voice in his long and remarkable career to many radical sentiments which he is said to have imbibed largely in his travels in the United States. It is reported that many wonderful influences are at work in favor of the bill which Sir Charles has prepared. Although it is hardly likely that the conservative sense of British statesmen can be brought at this time to accept so radical a proposition, the shock which this conservatism had to endure from the original proposition of universal manhood suffrage prepared it for almost any trial.—Boston Globe.

Seeing America.

The Passenger Department of the Chicago & North-Western Railway announces that as a means of increasing the efficiency of the "Seeing America First" movement, round trip tickets will be sold over that line to all Pacific Coast points, on their regular limited trains, at the rate of $75.00 from Chicago, daily June 1st to Sept. 15th.

Every facility is being provided for in the way of stopovers and other conveniences, and the tourist movement to the Pacific coast, for the coming season promises to show an increase of many thousand people over that of any season ever known.

British Officers Study Japanese.

Lieut. C. R. Woodroffe, Royal Horse artillery, of England, has been selected for a course of study of the Japanese language and will go to Japan for two years. Arrangements have been completed whereby four officers of the British army and three of the Indian army shall proceed annually to Japan, in order to study the language and to be attached to the Japanese army.

MIDDLE LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for it. Two Relate their Experiences.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason.

Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become acute—and with a host of nervous irritations make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backache, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, irregularity of the bowels, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I had been suffering with displacement of the organs for years and was passing through the change of life. My abdomen was badly swollen; my stomach was sore; I had dizzy spells, sick headaches, and nervousness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail."

Mrs. A. E. G. Hyland

"I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all these distressing symptoms left me and I have passed safely through the change of life, a well woman. I am recommending your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. Annie E. G. Hyland, Chester, Mass.

Another Woman's Case.

"During changes of life words cannot express what I suffered. My physician said I had a congestive condition of the female organs. One day I read some of the testimonials of women who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it and to write you for advice. Your medicine made me a well woman, and all my bad symptoms soon disappeared."

"I advise every woman at this period of life to take your medicine and write you for advice."—Mrs. Lizzie Hinkle, Salem, Ind.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle it will do for other women at this time of life.

It has conquered pain, restored health, and prolonged life in cases that utterly baffled physicians.
