MANY YEARS OF HAPPINESS

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. McIntosh Celebrate the Sixtieth Anniversary of Their Marriage.

A most unusual reception was given last Friday evening in the Baptist church parlor by the ladies of the church in honor of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. McIntosh of Cook street in celebration of their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

Wedding anniversaries come and go, even unto the fiftieth year sometimes, but seldom if ever do we hear of sixty years of unbroken wedded companionship, and it was a touching and interesting sight to see two such comely, well-preserved and venerable old people heartily welcoming all old and young, who paid their respects and extended words of congratulation.

After bright and amusing readings by Misses Florence Cullen and Jennie Lines, a solo by Miss Jennie Fletcher, who sang "Love's Old Sweet Song," with Misses A. Powers and A. Plage accompanists, organ and violin, the reading of an original poem written for the occasion by H. H. Hubbard, of Limits street, a poet of no mean ability, an address by Mr. Phelps, the church pastor, Mrs. Howarth requested toasts from the McIntosh family, of which there were a dozen members present.

WHO CAN ANSWER?

A First Voter Had Some Experiences at the School Election.

Barrington, Ill., April 24, 1906. To the Editor of The Review: Dear Sir: Last Saturday I was approached by several men and women in regard to the school election that evening. My knowledge of such a matter was very limited and my sudden popularity confusing. I began questioning these petitioners as to what would be expected of me and found that people who handed me one ticket declared that men on the other ticket were unworthy. This was startling, for on both I recognized the names of good citizens with good names and of good standing. I was given a vast amount of information as to woman's right to vote on school questions and her right to hold office as member of a school board, etc. Now, may I ask a few questions? For if I am to "vote" hereafter, I wish to be prepared. How many years since the law was passed granting me this privilege? How old must I be? They say girls under 18 voted Saturday night. May I vote for the men I like, or must I "choose sides" and vote for a man who belongs to my church, my lodge or my nationality? I received the impression that I must "back" a man whose faith and associates are mine whether he pleased me or not.

I heard women vainly asking when leaving the polling place "What is it all about?" "I've heard it said that all is fair in love and war, and I lack in politics,—war?" "A First Voter?"

San Francisco is Receiving Help, and She Needs It.

San Francisco has suffered a terrible blow, but sympathy of a practical kind is being showered on her. The following letter explains itself: American Express Company—President's Office 65 Broadway—New York, April 18th, 1906.—To Agents:—Contributions of money, clothing or other supplies intended for the relief of sufferers from the calamity which has overtaken San Francisco and the neighboring towns in California, may be carried free of charge, when addressed to regularly constituted Relief Organizations there.

James C. Fargo, President. In addition to this any supplies that may be offered for the relief of sufferers at San Francisco can be billed through to San Francisco free of freight charges via C. & N. W. Ry., Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, provided it is consigned to the American Red Cross Association.

OBSERVE WOODEN WEDDING

Dr. and Mrs. A. Weichelt Are Assisted in Commemorating a Joyous Occasion.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Weichelt on Tuesday evening celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary at their home on Cook street. Some fifty guests assembled early in the evening to enjoy the pleasures planned. Among the guests were members of the Thursday club, of which Mrs. Weichelt is a member. A fifth year anniversary is called the "Wooden Wedding," so that gifts presented the bride and groom were of a wooden nature and ranged from the useful to the ornamental in kind. A large mission wood rocker having a leather cushioned seat was presented by the club ladies to the hostess, Mrs. Wm. Howarth, the club president, represented the club in the presentation and her words were answered by Mrs. Weichelt in a sincere, impromptu talk of appreciation.

The clever invitation issued in burnt wood work had requested each guest to bring a written account of the happiest and the saddest occurrences of their wedded days. These essays were collected and read aloud. It is a foregone conclusion that much amusement was derived from these confessions. Mrs. N. M. Banta, Mrs. Wm. Howarth and Mr. Sanford Peck captured rewards for their special accounts, receiving respectively a Roman stool in bamboo work, a burnt wood book-rack and a card-case of burnt wood.

A yacht race followed and Mrs. J. L. Sears proved to be the best navigator. She received an attractive wooden match safe mounted on a plaque. Miniature yachts about three inches long with bona fide equipment and flying colors were sailed in a large zinc tank and guided by long switches through a dangerous archipelago at nose islands, and many were the wrecks and wrecker ships.

A book of quotations on marriage was handed from hand to hand and each guest read aloud some eulogy or sarcasm on double blessedness. Some of the pointed and proverbially true ones caused a great deal of laughter.

T. H. Crest gave several of his humorous dialect readings and a luncheon of daintiness was served. Such a pleasant evening was passed by those attending that this popular couple had better plan to celebrate their "tin anniversary" five years from now.

A good many complimentary votes were cast for president, H. S. Meier 1, C. Kingsley 2, F. J. Alverson 1, G. W. Foreman 1, F. O. Willmarth 2, J. E. Hesse 2, Ed. Thies one vote for trustee, and Chas. Thies and George Lyle each one. As every election held in Barrington the past year, this school election proved an exciting event.

FELL OFF WAGON, IS DEAD

Carl Sheuer, Aged 60 Years, Fleets Death in Strange Plunge Near Dundee Last Saturday.

Carl Sheuer, living near Dundee, was found dead in the roadside Saturday, death being undoubtedly caused by a stroke of apoplexy.

The deceased had gone to Dundee Saturday evening in company with Frank Schoppe, an employe of Charles Helm, and the latter's son. When on the return trip they neared home Schoppe missed Sheuer, who had been riding on the milk cans in the rear of the wagon. They finished their trip home and in company with Mr. Helm returned to look for Mr. Sheuer. They found him dead in the road 60 rods from where he was missed.

They immediately notified Wm. Rodmyer, a son-in-law of Sheuer, and together they removed the body to the home of Rodmyer.

Dr. Kerch was called and gave his opinion that death was caused by apoplexy, and that Sheuer was unconscious if not dead, when he fell from the wagon. Owing to the circumstances, Dr. Kerch consulted the coroner's office, who decided an inquest was unnecessary.

Mr. Sheuer had been a resident of America for thirteen years. He was 66 years of age. In addition to his daughter, Mrs. Rodmyer, the deceased leaves two sons, both residing in Cook county.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Good Talk Given Sunday—Lectures to Be Discontinued for the Summer.

H. I. Allen, a physical director, from the west side department of the Y. M. C. A. of Chicago, was the speaker at last Sunday afternoon meeting, taking for his subject the various field sports followed by the association.

He made a plea for true sportsmanship in our American games, which, he said, consisted in the love of a sport for the sport's sake, for the fun and benefit to be derived rather than the desire to win; he cited instances where athletes had sacrificed their chance to win in order to "play fair," or to help some one else to secure an equal chance.

Mr. Allen's object was to hatch into the minds of the young men what he believed to be the true spirit of sport, that is to play the best game the player knows and win if possible, but not to take an unfair advantage, or to allow the real object of the game to become obscured by the desire to win.

Mr. Allen complimented the association on its progress, and volunteered such of his services as they might require.

The Junior department at its last meeting introduced as tournament features the running high and broad jumps. These contests will be carried on in the field as soon as the weather will permit.

The base ball committee reports the good fortune of securing the property located on North Hawley street, opposite the Sandman farm, for their grounds, from Mr. Dockery and Mr. Kampert, and as this property is more conveniently located, the agreement with H. H. Landwer has been cancelled, with his permission; the boys are busy getting the grounds in shape and "value" are promised with the advent of warm weather.

Letters have been received from Ben Schroeder and George Meier. Both reported associations in their respective cities, with which they have affiliated. George reported that the dues of the Boise association is 10 dollars, but the "pink card" from Barrington balanced the account. Barrington should congratulate herself that her boys are at home and welcome wherever there is an association.

In view of the fact that the nice weather makes the out-of-doors more attractive, the Sunday afternoon meetings will be discontinued after May 6th. Next Sunday afternoon a meeting for men and boys, conducted by local talent, and on April 29th, to which all are invited, will finish the present series. Watch for the announcement for the 23rd. Something special is promised.
