

THE MODERN "PITTSBURGH PERFECT" WIRE FENCE, WELDED BY ELECTRICITY.

What a Marvel it would have been to Abraham Lincoln, splitter of rails.

Mr. Farmer: Your progressiveness is keeping you in close touch with improvements in farm machinery, in dairy methods, and with all the scientific facts that bring about the greatest possible agricultural production.

You are also informing yourself about fence. We know you are.

First—there was the stone fence of medieval history.
Second—pioneer America converted its timber into rails.
Third—somebody found a way to weave wire and slats.
Fourth—along came barb wire, with its marvelous sale.
Fifth—machines were invented to twist or clamp one wire around another to screen wire fence.

But, most important of all, electricity now welds the wires at the joint, making no longer necessary those wraps and clamps. Stay and strand, wizzard-like, become one.

The greatest step forward in fence building is thus accomplished at a single, master stroke.

Of course, you are not using anything else. Surely you are familiarizing yourself with this remarkable improvement, to be found only in "Pittsburgh Perfect."

The B. Y. P. U. had charge of the evening service at the Baptist Church Sunday, April 22. The Y. M. C. A. and Methodist congregation united with them. Carlos Dantel of the Pilgrim Temple Baptist church gave a most interesting talk. Wm. Matnik led the singing in a most pleasing manner. Miss Sadie Bloeks and a number of others rendered beautiful solos. The Young People hope they will at some time be with them again.

The Majestic theater, which was thrown open to the public on January 1st, 1906, and has been acclaimed the finest theater in the United States, is about to fully merit this distinction. The management has just issued a souvenir book of exceptionally artistic merit, characteristic of the theater and the astonishing elegance of its appointments. This book of fifty pages, with an art cover and other embellishments by Ralph Fletcher Seymour, the well-known designer, contains, in addition to a succinct description of the building and its features, many beautiful half-tone engravings, giving a fine idea of its architectural and decorative beauty. Secure one of these books.

One Hundred Years Since Pike's Peak Was Discovered.

Elaborate plans are being made at Colorado Springs to celebrate the centennial of the discovery of Pike's Peak, which was afterwards the landmark of the early pioneer whose wagon train wended its slow way across the plains.

The Chicago & North-Western railway announces extensive preparations for this event on the part of Colorado Springs and Denver, as well as on behalf of the various railway lines.

It is understood that the last week in September is to be devoted to a round of festivities to be participated in by ten thousand United States regulars, and a concourse of Indians representing the various tribes with which the intrepid explorer came in contact on his toilsome march of discovery.

The National Guards, cadets, veterans, cowboys, pioneers, patriotic societies, fraternal societies and citizens generally will also take part in the program, which will include drills by the troops, war dances by the Indians, cowboys' sports, parades and tournaments.
