

ADDRESS MOTHERS' MEETING

Rev. Haefele Gives Good Advice, as Does Also Rev. Lapham.

Reverend Mr. Haefele gave a most helpful talk to mothers and teachers at the June Mothers' meeting.

The following is a brief synopsis of the talk: A Roman mother was asked "Where are my jewels?" She said, "These are my jewels."

We should give our children the best education possible. At least a high school education.

How are we going to prevent such a downfall? The school alone cannot do it—there must be moral training.

Moral training should begin at home where the life of the individual begins. It is said that a great portion of one's character is formed by the time he is three years of age.

First, parents should demand strict obedience as soon as the child understands anything.

Second, teach the child to be truthful in all things, and to avoid all appearance of deception.

Third, too much stress cannot be laid on the value of purity. Aim to occupy the mind of the boy or girl with pure thoughts.

Fourth, teach the child in the kindly treatment of associates and animals. Everything that lives was created by God.

Reverend Mr. Lapham, in giving some well chosen thoughts said, "It is most beneficial if the mother can give a few moments each day to each child.

Salem Church Notes

Children's Day was observed both morning and evening last Sunday.

A new feature of the Sunday School concert was the orchestra, who gave us some excellent music and was greatly enjoyed by all.

"Say, grandpa," said a little girl as she saw the boys of the orchestra manipulating their violin bows.

At the election of officers on Tuesday evening for the ensuing year, the Salem Christian Endeavor Society elected Samuel Glieske, president.

Next Monday evening the old and newly elected officers of the K.L.C.E. will meet at the Salem parsonage.

Quarterly meeting services will be held in the Salem church by the new presiding elder M. C. Morlock.

Rev. A. Haefele administered baptism to six children last Sunday. It was an impressive service.

The exercises and singing of the Salem Sunday School concert were excellent.

To judge from appearance the long desired new sidewalk in front of the Salem church and parsonage will soon be an accomplished fact.

The yard in the rear of the Salem church has been improved to such an extent that the boys have "dubbed" it Salem Park.

Gen. T. W. Sweeney Post of G. A. R. paid a tribute of respect to the members of their late comrade, Leroy Powers.

VISIT SOME FINE SCENERY

An Interesting Letter Describing Western Scenery from Little M. Harrower.

Dear Barrington Friends—Once more I should like to talk with you for a little while.

I have not forgotten you, in fact, I believe I am what you call "homesick" for a sight of home and home faces.

I want to tell you about a short trip we took last week to Morrison, a town up the hills about seventeen miles southwest of Denver.

We were glad we had a chartered car as the rest of the car was packed with people out for a day of pleasure.

It was an afternoon several of us came back towards Morrison, and after paying 25 cents entered the Garden of the Titans.

"We may give Mayor Olms another week to make his appointment," stated a member of the board.
