IT WAS A BIG HOT GAME

Barrington and Barrington Ball Teams Play Ten Innings and Tie.

One of the longest-winded and most exciting baseball games ever played in this vicinity was witnessed last Saturday when the Woodstock Y. M. C. A. team came up to try their luck with the local Y. M. C. A. team. The game was a tie up to the close of the tenth inning, when it had to be called off because of the lateness of the hour. In the second inning three scores were made, and that by Barrington, and it was gone egg from then on until the third inning, when Woodstock retaliated by marking up a total of five runs. From then until the ninth, it was "three and out," when Barrington tied Woodstock by bringing home two of her players, and there the score stood—5 to 5. The features were six hits, a pass and two errors, and each team managed to hit the ball twelve times. Pitcher Landwehr struck out four and Pitcher Berger of Woodstock six. The umpire was Mr. Giessebrecht of Woodstock.

Tomorrow afternoon (Saturday, September 1) the National Life Insurance Company's team of Chicago will come out and attempt to show the local boys how easy it is to bat the ball. Everybody should turn out.

GOOD CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

M. B. McIntosh, Prominent in Business, Political and Social Life, Passes Peacefully into His Last Sleep.

Millius B. McIntosh, born in the town of Berne, Albany County, New York, January 6, 1817, and died Aug. 30, 1906, at Barrington, Ill., having resided here for a period of forty-two years and having resided elsewhere in the State of Illinois for the four preceding years.

Mr. McIntosh was one of the best known business men in the North-west part of the country. For twenty-five years he was engaged in the lumber business at Barrington. During the Civil War he was United States enrolling officer, and through a life long Democrat was highly regarded as an official of both parties.

In 1875 he cast the only straight Democratic ticket in the town, and in commenting thereon The Chicago Journal offered a reward of $500.00 for the capture of the only Democrat in the town of Barrington. Mr. McIntosh invested largely in real estate in the vicinity of Barrington, and also in Western lands in an early day. He never gave a mortgage on any property he ever owned, and therefore was never cramped in times of panic. He leaves one brother surviving him, Oliver C. McIntosh, of Goldfield, Iowa. His father, Alexander McIntosh, a soldier in the War of 1812, was married to Betsy Wood of St. Albans, Vt., thereby forming a chain of relationship with the Wood, Conger, Conklin, and Winegar families of Northern Vermont, New York and Northern Indiana. His uncle, William McIntosh, was one of the possessors of Major Andre in the Revolutionary War. The farm formerly owned by his father on the Heiderberg in Albany county, New York, is still in the possession of the family since 1803.

Mr. McIntosh married Elmina C. Phillips in 1843, of their family of eight children three only survive, of whom Mrs. Emma Lindsey and Melvin C. McIntosh reside at Barrington. The other son, Francis W., resides in Chicago.

His widow, while in extremely poor health, survives him at an age of eighty-two. Mr. McIntosh retained full possession of his faculties and excellent shrewd business sense until within a few hours of his death. His heart has been weak for some years and he sustained death for some time before it took him away. For many years a member of the Baptist church, he was one of its strongest financial supporters and all public enterprises received his aid.

Palatine had a score of 13 to 9, but owing to the trouble the score resulted in a score of 9 to 0.

Mrs. Godknecht and Miss Emma and Willie visited the White City Monday.

Tom Daniels and family entertained his sister this week.

F. R. Sullivan of Waukau, Wis., spent a few days with G. H. Arps and family.

Miss Othelia Kruger spent Monday with her school chum, Miss Elnoora Arps.

H. D. Peck and wife returned Tuesday evening from their summer vacation.

Mrs. Charlie Heimendinger of Menominee, Wis., spent a day with relatives recently.

The Bowman Dairy Company started the ice plant at their factory so as to be ready to receive milk September 1st.

The Concordia surprised Mr. Louis Krueger Friday night at their home west of town. An elegant time is reported by everyone who attended.

Vern Postal returned from his vacation Sunday and returned to his work at the depot Monday.

The building formerly occupied by J. Jappa as a jewelry store was moved to lot on the north side of town Tuesday where it will be modeled in a cottage.

Mrs. Elmer Robertson of Carlisle, Arkansas, was called suddenly back on account of the sudden death of her mother, Mrs. Nichols.

OUT-OF-TOWN PEOPLE HERE

The Camp Meeting of Salem Church is Bringing Good Results.

CAMP MEETING NOTES.

The camp ground is just about eighty rods east of the southeast corner of Barrington village.

Our Chicago people are more delighted and pleased than ever with the beautiful lay of the campground, and a larger number than ever are in attendance.

Sunday communion services were very largely attended, and they were a blessing to many.

Rev. W. Landwehr, a former Barrington lad, has been holding large audiences spell-bound. His sermons were very instructive and impressive.

Rev. W. Berberich of Elgin is undoubtedly as earnest and sincere a preacher as ever was heard on the camp ground. His heartfelt sermons will never be forgotten. He is a graduate of the Union Bible Institute of Naperville, Ill., and a brother of alumni with A. Haeffel, pastor of Salem church. A more conscientious man your reporter has never met. He is a Canadian by birth and has had a wonderful life history.

All the old members of Salem church were pleased to hear their former presiding elder, C. A. Fueselle, who is now pastor of a German congregation in Naperville, Ill.

Rev. H. H. Thoren has arrived from Lee Mars, Iowa.

We were much pleased to have the M. E. church people with their pastor attend the services on Sunday evening. A large number of the members have been present at almost all the evening services since.

A large number of the Zion Evangelical church people and their pastor have been attending the campmeeting. Always welcome.

Rev. Strickfaden and children of Edison Park, formerly of this place arrived here to-day.

Mrs. C. J. Frey and daughters, Lillian and Florence of Chicago, are visiting relatives here.

The interest of the meetings has been on a continual increase and the attendance better than usual.

The necessity of a good auditorium to hold 1000 to 1500 people seems to many a necessity, and while no meeting of the campmeeting association has been called, a large enough number of them have expressed their willingness to issue enough more stock in $10.00 shares to secure sufficient funds to trust up the building needed. We put the matter will be pushed to success.

Barrington camp ground can be made one of the most attractive campgrounds within 100 miles of Chicago. All that is needed is a little more money and push.

Bishop W. M. Stanford arrived on Friday noon. He will preach a number of times, possibly Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings.

Rev. C. C. Foling, Ph.D., the newly-elected president of the Western Union College, Lee Mars, Iowa, will arrive on Saturday and will preach on Sunday morning.

All services in the afternoons and evenings and all day Sunday will be in the English language.

The farewell meeting held for Miss Lilla Snyder on Monday afternoon was a very interesting service, and about $75.00 was raised for the China mission, which she is bound.

Rev. Geo. Barth of North Northfield preached an excellent sermon on Thursday morning.

The children's services in the afternoon for children only have been largely attended and much good done.

More Chicago people and from other points will be here on Sunday, if the weather continues fair, than ever before.

A good camp meeting. Come. Campmeeting closes Monday noon.

Will pay parents to come with children to select school books. A. W. Meyer.

Lake County Fair.

Next week the Lake County Fair will be held at Libertyville, and more than usual interest ought to be taken in the fair this year by the people of all sections throughout the county.

The fair is the creation of Lake County people. It belongs to them, and they elect its officers to serve for them. They own the lands and buildings and its surplus cash in the treasury, and they owe it to themselves to visit the fair and see what their officers are doing. The fair

Death of Anthony Pronatis.

Died, at home on the farm at Peterson's Corners, Monday morning, Aug. 27, '06, Anthony Pronatis.

Decanus was born in Russia but had lived in America for the past ten years. He was a farmer and he has worked farms about here, being a good worker. He was light hearted, jovial and fond of company. He was generous in deal, and honorable in keeping his promise to pay. He leaves a wife and a family of young children, who have the sympathy of all who know of their misfortune. Since the family has lived at the present home one child died of burns self inflicted while playing with fire, and Mrs. Pronatis nearly lost her life trying to save the child. After week's of suffering the mother was taken to the hospital at Waukegan, where treatment restored her sufficiently to allow her to return home. Her lot is indeed a hard one to bear. The funeral was held Wednesday.

Weekly Weather Bulletin for the Week Ending August 27.

The mean temperature, during the week ending August 27, was considerably above the seasonal average. The excess was greatest in the northern and least in the southern district. In the central district the departure exceeded the normal by 10 degrees on three successive days. The maxima were mostly over 90 degrees, and the minima averaged about 70 degrees.

The highest temperature recorded was 100 degrees recorded at Cambridge on the 22nd, and the lowest, 48 degrees, at Peoria on the 27th. The week opened warm, and sultry weather continued until the 26th, when there was a decided temperature fall, the lowest readings being registered on the morning of the 27th. Rainfall was ample in most localities. At a number of stations measurements in excess of an inch were recorded. The greatest amount, 2.60 inches, occurred at LaSalle. In some sections where the weekly rainfall was deficient, sufficient moisture was conserved from the rains of the previous week, to supply all requirements.
