Hunters will be interested in a decision recently given by Attorney General Street relative to the closed season on prairie chickens. It was generally understood that the closed season ended July 1, 1906, but the attorney general says that it expires next year, July 1, 1907.
Col. and Mrs. Hubbard returned Tuesday evening from Oak Park, where they attended the wedding of his grandson on Monday evening. It was one of the leading society events of the season in that fashionable suburb.
George Foreman's pony does not like Lake Zurich's mud air, consequently when he got tired of waiting Tuesday evening for George's Chicago friend to whom George had loaned him, he snapped the hitching strap and came home, buggy and all. He was found by Mr. Meyer in the morning, and put up until George called for him. No damage was done to the horse or vehicle, but a good whip was lost on the way.
Some men are born pessimists. One of them remarked the other day while deprecating bad habits, "I wish I could have all the money that is spent in a year for cigars." His friend who is truly philosophical, replied: "Oh, I don't know, Bill. I believe I'd rather have all the money that is not spent for cigars."
John Frye, 45 years old, a farmer near Libertyville, Ill., committed suicide in his barn Saturday by cutting his throat with a razor after he had contemplated hanging himself. His body was found by his wife. Near the body was the fatal razor. In one of his pockets was a rope with a noose in one side. Suicide is ascribed to ill health.
The "Dutch Lunch" served by the B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist church from 5:30 to 8:00 Friday evening of last week was very well patronized and some $18 cleared.
A number from here will leave today (Friday) for Aurora to attend the state convention of the Y. M. C. A.; and a party will leave tomorrow morning for the same city, and both parties will be augmented by a third party which will leave here Sunday morning.
