The man who goes in swimming every day all winter is now 'due.

In addition to the yellow peril and yellow journalism the pure food law now threatens us with yellow sugar.

This is the time of the year when the young man without an overcoat begins to wish he hadn't bought so much ice cream last summer.

Sir Thomas Lipton says he may bid another yacht and race for the international cup. The Irish will hate to hear that the Shamrock is going to get the worst of it again.

Seattle, Wash., is to have an exposition. The metropolis of Puget sound cannot afford to let Portland get away with all the honors of the north Pacific coast.

New York now has an apartment house for the exclusive use of families in which there are many children. It ought to be in all fairness to be called The Roosevelt.

The modern English novel reader insists on hearing about the rich or the great," says the Spectator. But a little realism among the rich, or a covert and unobtrusive attack on daily habit, religion or food will sell a good many copies.

A man who was given the privilege of conducting his own defense in a Boston court had to pay three separate fines for drunkenness, speeding and failure to take out a license. He had not rested his case he would probably have been sent up for life.

London's West End tailors say men are going to wear vivid colors this winter, especially greens and chocolates. Shrimp pinks and tomato blends are also in favor, but reds and auburns are putting all their color sense into underwear and making it with the usual pepper-and-salt.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer is not quite sure of it, but is inclined to the belief that the eastern college sophomores who condemned a freshman to a diet of soft soap were more lenient and considerate than the sophs in a western college who threw the freshman down stairs and broke his skull.

Sir Thomas Lipton is thinking of challenging again for the America's cup. Of course our ratchetsmen will be put on their mettle and a little tug without a fight to the finish. But there is no one to whom Americans would so cheerfully surrender the cup as the prize of victory as to the gallant Sir Thomas.

New York city's pay roll amounts to $7,068,253.13, paid to 94,918 employees. That is a big sum for a city of the United States, with everybody on it getting far more than the martial servants of Uncle Sam, since there are plenty of places paying from $10,000 to $15,000 a year, and the salaries of a major general or lieutenant general.

About the liveliest industry in Russia just now is the trying of revolutionists. The courts in St. Petersburg and elsewhere are running overtime on these cases, and in the capital city alone 400 witnesses are to be examined. With so much time given to disposing of such offenders it is going to be difficult to plan a more liberal form of government.

The latest elixir of life, the vial of endless existence, which the post office department has been examining and has found to contain a little alcohol and oil of peppermint and a great deal of water is at any rate an improvement over old Ponce de Leon's. He put nothing but water in his famous discovery, and he was never found out.

Russia's finances are said to be constantly going to the worse condition than they ever have before. The London Times declares that the gold reserve of Russia is $200,000,000 short, the last loan has been swallowed up and the condition of the treasury is much worse than it was two years ago. Such reports are not calculated to aid in securing much further relief in the way of large loans from European countries of the United States.

Dr. Forbes Winslow, an alienist of London, England, has been quoted as saying that before long there will be more insanity in the world than sane people. He has been misquoted, of course. What he said was that if insanity continues to increase at the rate shown by statistics the insane will some time outnumber the sane. As a matter of course, if the percentage of the insane goes on increasing it is only a question of time when not only a majority of the people, but all of them will become insane. It all depends on the "if." We need not despair.

The English can't be accused of dumping when they can sell one of the only two copies of the 62-leaved 1,631 edition of "The Passionate Pilgrim" for $16,000. Eighty dollars a page is more than this trifle would probably have brought in a home market.

A histori is dead at the age of 84. This great actress had the genius to reach the level of the legitimate and the classic. Problem plays were not in her line. "Medea," "Lady Macbeth" and "The Taming of the Shrew" were good enough for her.

DEATH LIST GROWS TO 58 IN ATLANTIC CITY WRECK

Removal of Third Car from Thoroughfare Bridge Abutment Releases Bodies of Three Women Pinned Beneath the Coach.

Atlantic City, N. J.—The contention of Coroner Gaskill that a number of persons who lost their lives in the electric train wreck on the Thoroughfare bridge may be buried in the mud where the cars plunged was borne out late Tuesday, when the bodies of Mrs. Paul Felsberg, Mrs. Selma Johnson and that of Mrs. Sarah Miller were recovered from under the third car. This car hung from the abutment in the center of the bridge, with its nose in the mud, and when the workmen were trying to lift it from the water the bodies worked loose. That Mrs. Miller was pinned fast in the wreckage, but that of Mrs. Felsberg floated up to the view of the workmen. Mrs. Johnson's body was found some time later, caught under the wreckage. All were cut and battered.

streets, and was written by a brother. This apparently identifies one of the unclaimed victims. The body is in charge of Undertaker Thompson on Cheltenham street.

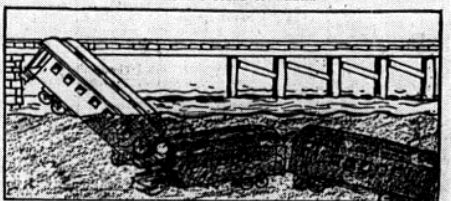

The one absolutely unidentified and unclaimed body, at Crowley's morgue, is that of a man about 42 years old, weighing about 200 pounds.

Aside from the search for the bodies, interest now centers on the inquiry which will be held by Coroner Gaskill on Thursday morning. While he will not express an opinion before the inquiry as to the cause of the accident, it appears from his statement that he is convinced the bridge on which the accident occurred is not as it should be, and may have to be rebuilt.

Resolution of Sympathy. That the officials of the city generally want a most rigid inquiry, so that responsibility for the accident may be placed, is shown by the action of councils in adopting resolutions expressing sympathy for the bereaved and embodying the following: "Resolved, That every officer of the city government who, by reason of his presence in the way of rescue, or for any other reason, can give assistance to the county officials charged with the work of determining the cause of this disaster, is hereby directed to give such assistance, in order that those responsible for the appalling loss of life may be punished and the lives of railroad passengers safeguarded."

To Hear Bridgetender. The central figures in the inquiry on Thursday will probably be Daniel Stewart, the old bridge tender, and John Spiker, the towerman, who operates the signals. Stewart declares positively that he locked the draw properly after the schooner yacht Sib had passed through, and the railroad officials say that in any event the signal for safety would not have been set when the train came along had the rails not been right. John Spiker, the towerman, when asked about this, said that he could not see the tracks clearly enough from his position to know whether the tracks were in line, but he said he got the signal from the tender that they were all right and gave the train a clear track.

End of Cossack Trial. Yekaterinodar.—The trial of the Cossacks who proclaimed a Cossack republic has come to an end. Some of the men have been sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor while others were given milder punishment.

Puljanas Kill Scouts. Manila.—Puljanas attacked boats carrying supplies on the Boracay river, killed three scouts and wounded one. Five Puljanas were killed. The supplies were saved.

Fire in School for Girls. Defiance, O.—Early Sunday morning fire partially destroyed Trowbridge hall, the young ladies' dormitory of Defiance college, and 56 girls had narrow escape. The loss is about $10,000; covered by insurance.

The Caravan Cure. One of the many "cures" favored by fashionable people weary of London, is the "caravan cure." This simple and enjoyable method of renewing one's strength consists in traveling about Britain in a cart, such as the Gypsies have, and camping out at night wherever a haven can be found. Lord and Lady Arthur Grosvenor have spent the winter of 1905-1906 in this fashion through Exmoor, a wild and mountainous country, made famous by the great romance, Lorna Doone. One night they camped on the farm of John Ridd, a novel. The difficulties in hill climbing have been enormous, but the pleasure of the trip has made it worth while.

Double Tracking the Santa Fe. The work of double tracking the Santa Fe main line through Kansas is progressing as rapidly as the supply of steel will permit. Up to the first of September one hundred and eighty-six miles of double track had been completed, reaching from Kansas to Neosho. The line is all laid with the standard eighty-four pound rail, and ballasted with crushed rock. Between Chicago and Kansas City the double track practically extends from Chicago to Neosho. The main line, with isolated sections the rest of the way at convenient intervals where traffic is liable to be congested. The main line, as indeed are most of the branch lines ballasted from Neosho to end, or where not ballasted, as in California and Arizona and in southern Texas, it is sprinkled with oil, which answers the same purpose. Grades have been reduced, as on the new Belen cut-off, which has taken 1,115 feet of the height of the continental divide. New steel bridges, with solid masonry piers, have been built, and care has been taken to make the construction of the roadway first-class in every particular.

Artistic Marriage Certificates. The smart wedding invitation or announcement is engraved as simply as possible nowadays, but if the bride wants elaborate treatment of her marriage certificate she can have it. These may be done by hand and beautifully illuminated on parchment or Japanese vellum, and some brides are having theirs framed and hung in the boudoir.
