To the Voters of the 7th Senatorial District.—

It seems to me that an injustice is being done. Mr. Lewis Rinaker in his candidacy for County Judge on the Republican ticket.
For sometime his political opponents have circulated the report that he obtained his nomination unfairly and that he is not approved by the bar. The first claim is wholly false and the second is without merit. The truth is, that Mr. Rinaker submitted his candidacy to the people at the primary election and promised to abide by the result under the law. In that election he carried 21 out of 35 wards of the city of Chicago and 210 primary districts out of 388 in the county, and enough delegates in the county convention instructed for him to nominate him on the ballot, which was done. One of his opponents for the nomination, Mr. Alling, received on the popular vote about 540 more votes than Mr. Rinaker, but did not have enough delegates instructed by the popular vote to nominate him.

Mr. Rinaker's delegates came largely from districts in which there were no contests and hence, but a light vote was polled by his friends.
Mr. Alling's strength was largely in the Lorimer and Mann congressional districts in which there were spirited contests, which brought out a large vote, resulting in Mr. Alling getting on the total vote of the county only 240 votes more than Mr. Rinaker on a vote aggregating over 60,000.
As delegates are elected by districts under the primary law the majority of the popular vote in the whole county is not the test.
Mr. Rinaker was nominated fairly under the provisions of the law, he broke no promise to get the nomination and both Mr. Rush and Mr. Alling have so stated in writing and from the public platform.

The people should know this, and knowing the facts should not be prejudiced against him in casting their ballots.
His legal learning and experience at the bar amply qualify him for the position he seeks, and his fairness of mind insures, honest elections to all political parties, which is vitally important to all true citizens of every party. I believe him the best qualified of all candidates for the office and the safest man for the place, and hope my friends will vote for him. If elected I am sure he will justify their confidence.
