

FRED HAWLEY PASSES AWAY

For Many Years a Prominent Citizen in the Improvement of Our Village.

When Frederick E. Hawley departed this life Tuesday morning, September 18th, there passed beyond a man whose genial disposition and courteous manners will be long remembered and missed in Barrington.

Barrington has grown slowly according to its age, but to a few men, some dead, some living, is due much praise for ever encouraging and assisting in the development of the village.

During his regime as president of the village board a great deal of good street work was done in the way of widening, extending and opening among them being Washington, Liberty, Lake, Station and others.

Fred E. Hawley was born at Barrington Center, June 30, 1851, the son of Wm. Hawley, a pioneer resident of the vicinity, who came west from Amherst, Mass.

In 1894 he was elected mayor of Barrington and served two terms. For about eight years he held a position in Chicago in the Cook County clerk's office, and later was in the county as a clerk's treasury's office.

Mr. Hawley was married in 1874 to Miss Nellie Harrower, daughter of Mrs. S. M. Harrower of enough street. Mrs. Hawley died in a few years, leaving three children, Glenn Hawley, of the Corn Exchange National bank, Chicago; Miss Bernice Hawley, teacher in our school here, and Miss Alice Hawley, who died in 1903.

The funeral was held this afternoon, September 21, at his home on Grove avenue, with Rev. T. E. Ream, of Hampshire, conducting the service. The local camp of the Modern Woodmen, of which lodge Mr. Hawley was a member, attended in a body and took charge of the burial service at Evergreen cemetery.

Kirby-Dix

A wedding occurred this Tuesday morning, Sept. 19, 1906 at the Catholic parish house on Grove avenue at eight thirty o'clock which is of especial interest to Barrington on account of the prominence of the bride and groom in the younger social set.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby were the guests of honor at an elaborate wedding breakfast given by Mrs. E. Thies at her home on S. Hawley street immediately following the ceremony.

Fred E. Hawley was born at Barrington Center, June 30, 1851, the son of Wm. Hawley, a pioneer resident of the vicinity, who came west from Amherst, Mass.

A license was issued in Chicago, Sept. 19, to Charles Barbaras of Chicago and Miss Carrie Lohman of Long Grove, aged 26 and 23.

This is the 21st day of September and the scheduled equinoxial starts right on time.

DECEASE OF REV. H. MEIER

For Many Years An Esteemed Minister and Friend to Those In Need of Spiritual Help.

Rev. Henry Meier, whose funeral occurred on Thursday of this week, was born April 30, 1828, in Reichenberg, Hesson, Germany, and died at Barrington, Ill., September 16, 1906, being sixty-eight years, four months and sixteen days old.

In the month of October, 1870, under the services of the Rev. Henry Hintze, both he and Miss Maria Rost, who became his wife a few weeks later, were converted and joined with the Evangelical association, and on November 17 of the same year they were by the same Rev. H. Hintze united in wedlock.

Every movement that is educational and character developing along any line is to be encouraged and well-mentioned, for in our present day life there are innumerable evils assailing old and young, so that whatever leads to good thoughts and deeds is commendable and right.

The assembly, which began here Tuesday afternoon and will continue until Sunday evening with two meetings a day, can be reckoned a successful one in attendance and profit, methodically and financially.

The program was presented with few changes, and even rain did not dampen the interest being shown.

Col. Holt addressed the people Tuesday, p. m., in the absence of Hon. A. G. Wolfenbarger, and in the evening about two hundred people listened to Judge Wolfenbarger on the subject: "The Devil of Civilization."

The Board of Education kindly consented to have Professor Pilton march the pupils of the public school to the tent, and they learned lessons in temperance and art that will be remembered through life.

At the time for the evening lecture on "Putting Out to Sea," rain began to fall, and Mr. Regan was ready to pack his trunk when about 150 people gathered in the tent, and he proceeded with his landscape and ocean scenes, which were highly appreciated, although rain was falling in torrents outside.

Services at the Baptist Church, Friday, 7:30 p. m.; "Prayer and Praise Services" Sunday, 10:30 a. m.; subject, "To whom Shall I Go." Sunday school at 11:45 a. m. Evening preaching at 7:30, union meeting, V. V. Phelps will occupy the pulpit Sunday and T. T. Phelps will preach his farewell sermon, September 30.

Big 10c show all next week. Change of light nightly. Tent near the tennis grounds.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

High School was excused Wednesday afternoon to attend the Chautauqua. The 11th and 12th year English classes are studying Irving's Life of Goldsmith.

Misses Bertha Zullinger and Elma Wife of Cary entered High School Monday.

High School boys find the Saturday Evening Post very interesting during school hours.

A test was held in the 11th year German class, all succeeded in attaining high marks.

There is but one pupil in the Caesar class.

LAWSON F. ELVIDGE DEAD

His Sudden Illness and End is a Shock to the Citizens of Barrington.

A sudden and unexpected death is always a deeper shock to a community than one sadly anticipated, and this week we evince the sudden illness and death of a familiar figure in our business life, Lawson F. Elvidge.

Mr. Elvidge was found in a semi-conscious condition in the new home of Herman Gleske on Grove avenue, where he had been doing some carpentry work.

Lawson F. Elvidge was born on a farm west of Palatine fifty-eight years ago, and passed all his days in that vicinity and Barrington.

Every movement that is educational and character developing along any line is to be encouraged and well-mentioned, for in our present day life there are innumerable evils assailing old and young, so that whatever leads to good thoughts and deeds is commendable and right.

The assembly, which began here Tuesday afternoon and will continue until Sunday evening with two meetings a day, can be reckoned a successful one in attendance and profit, methodically and financially.
