Attacked by Cow.
Mrs. Jas. Catlow, while on her way to church in Cary, Sunday morning, was attacked on the street near Wellbeck's store by a maddened cow driven by Ben Fleming, which threw her to the ground and trampled upon her, tearing her clothes and inflicting painful cuts and bruises. Mr. McGraw, who happened to be near at the time, went to her assistance and drove the enraged animal away by striking it with a heavy walking cane which he was carrying.—Nunda Herald.

Instructions for Hunting.
Game wardens have recently received letters from Attorney General Stead, the contents of which will be interesting to some of the local sportsmen. Stead said that if they saw a man and a dog in a stubble field to arrest him on charge of hunting chickens, and that they would be able to prosecute him under the statute forbidding hunting or shooting them. The attorney general further said that any person caught in the act of carrying a gun, at a reasonable distance from home, who failed to have the required hunting license, could also be convicted on circumstantial evidence. This is of much interest in this vicinity, for not long ago a young man was arrested by the warden while several miles from home at an early hour in the morning, and hauled into the justice court, but could not be prosecuted because of the fact that the warden had no proof the lad had shot the gun. The letter from Mr. Stead also says that if a person is found with a gun in a vicinity where game abounds he can be prosecuted, if he has no license.

GIESKE-HEINRICH NUPTIALS

Prominent Young Barringtonian Benedict Becomes Victim of Cupid's Arrow.

A beautiful event of the season was celebrated on Tuesday, October 9, 1906, when Miss Ida M. Heinrich of Oak Park, Ill., and Mr. Herman F. Gieske of this city were united in marriage by Rev. J. C. Kiest, of Oak Park, Ill., at their future home, 539 Grove avenue, of this city. At the appointed time of the day, when the clock struck one, the bridal party started the procession while the "Lohengrin" march" was being played by Mr. J. M. Obergefell, of Oak Park, Ill. The bridesmaids attended by the ushers lead the procession and forming an arch in the hall way. The groom and his best man passed through into the parlor where the minister was waiting. The maid of honor came alone and took her place next to where the bride was to stand. Lastly came the bride, leaning on the arm of George Heinrich, her oldest brother. The flower girl, Mildred Heinrich, niece of the bride, preceded her.

The bride wore white organza trimmed with lace and carried bride's roses. Miss Ahrla L. Heinrich, only sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Sue was dressed in light green mull and carried white carnations. Mr. Arthur Geyer, cousin of the groom, acted as best man, and the Misses Emil L. F. Heinrich, brother, and Will Stueve, cousin of the bride, as ushers. When the ceremony was over, and the congratulations were received, the procession started for the dining room and Mendelssohn's march was played. Those present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Heinrich, Seattle, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Miller, Jackson, Minn.; and others of Chicago, Wheaton, Wheeling, Bensenville and Naperville. In all about 160 people were present.

SPoke FOR TEMPERANCE

Evangelist Miller Makes a Great Hit With His Address.

Tuesday evening, Oct. 9, Evangelist A. W. Miller, working in the interest of the Prohibition Party, addressed an audience of about one hundred. Mr. Miller presented facts and figures showing that nearly all pauperism, insanity, want, misery and crime today is caused directly or indirectly by the use of intoxicating liquors. He held that the duty of any political party was to try to right wrongs and as neither the Democratic Party or a party was doing anything to abate the greatest evil the world has ever known, therefore he would work and vote for the Prohibition Party and advise others to do the same. Mr. Miller did not berate other parties but told what the Prohibition Party stood for and arguments to prove that this party is working for what is best for the world and humanity.

IS IT TRUE?
Lake Zurich, which is supplied completely with artesian water, has had an epidemic of typhoid fever. It is reported. Matters arise to such a pitch that local authorities reported the epidemic to the state board of health with the statement that local sources of water supply were being polluted by contaminated water. A member of the state board resigned and the whole matter has been referred to the local authorities to investigate, take action and report. The necessity for rigid sanitary supervision of municipalities, and of constant attention to matters of sewage disposal and water supply, are clearly indicated in the growing prevalence of typhoid fever throughout the state. During the past four weeks the registrar of vital statistics of the State Board of Health has received reports of death from typhoid fever from thirty-two counties in the state, and each day the reports increase in number.

Even these death reports can not indicate the prevalence of the disease at the present time, for while the reports from physicians direct are quite up to date, the returns from municipalities having burial permit ordinances are not yet in for the month of September, or for any part of it. It is during this month that the disease has spread with such rapid strides.

The secretary of the State Board of Health has communicated with all physicians reporting deaths from typhoid fever, inquiring as to the number of cases which have occurred and inquiring as to the water supplies of affected families. In all cases where doubt as to character of water exists, analyses will be made, and the municipal health officers and the State Board of Health will be necessary to prevent a serious epidemic of typhoid fever throughout the present autumn and winter.

The counties which have already reported deaths from typhoid are Adams, Calhoun, Carroll, Cass, Champagne, Clay, Clinton, Cook, Crawford, DeKalb, Edgar, Greene, Henry, Jackson, Johnson, Knox, Lee, McLean, Madison, Monroe, Peoria, Platt, Pope, Randolph, St. Clair, Saline, Shelby, Stephenson, Union, Will and Woodford.—Waukegan Sun.

WELL, IT WAS THE GIRLS

They Certainly Had a Good Time at the Home of Dr. and Mrs. Otis Thursday Evening.

George Washington, Jr. entertained at a "hard time" party on Thursday evening, October 12th. The host announced the first thing on the program would be an auction. Everything sold well, some articles bringing as much as twenty beans. About 1000 bottles of water paraded to the dining room to partake of a three-course supper. The menu was as follows:
Celery soup, Crackers, Pumpkin pie, Tea.
The soup was served in gravy boats, rose bowls, tin pails, and other very attractive pieces of china. The decorations were: Artificial roses in a most highly decorated tin pail and pumpkins.

The table cloth was partly of paper and partly of a beautiful red cloth. Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. Medicine and Little Givechen Medicine, Jim Dandy, Dina, Little Chasney, Green Victoria, Jr., Gerry Sully and Sunny Jim.
Dr. Medicine received the first prize as the most comical dressed person present.

The First Snow.
On Tuesday this vicinity was visited by the first snow of the season. It was only a few flakes, but it was genuine. The weather so far has been fair but very cool for this time of the year.

C. & N. W. OFFICIALS HERE

Came Out Wednesday and Benefit to Barrington Will Probably Result.

General Manager Ashton, W. B. Kulkern, general passenger and ticket agent and Superintendent Pennington of the Chicago & North Western railway, were in this village Wednesday with Wm. Grace, M. C. McIntosh and Miles T. Lamey viewing the depot and surroundings. They were guests of Mr. Grace in the afternoon on his farm north of here. The gentlemen were well pleased with the surrounding country and are greatly interested in its development. It is probable that our train service will be made better in the near future. We have had one considerable improvement of late along this line and our citizens appreciate the attention given.

IT WAS A GREAT GAME

Superiority of White Race Shown in Sunday Palatine Baseball Game.

The ball game between the Kentucky Giants and Palatine was not the game that Palatine expected. It was an easy game for Palatine who won by a score of 19 to 12. The first inning each side scored five apiece. From then on Palatine was in the lead. The batting done by Palatine was good but the full work was not as good as the boys are able to do. The giants played a looser game than Palatine in the seventh inning first baseman Linneway sprained both of his ankles but still played the game to the finish. Charlie Scherring hurt a finger and was obliged to go to the outfield, and Hubert Filbert took his place.

The Bloomer Girls of Chicago are expected to play this coming Sunday. The preliminary and line-up of Sunday's game is as follows:
