WAS GIVEN $4,000

FRANKLIN TESTIFIES THAT DARROW PERSONALLY GAVE HIM THAT AMOUNT.

TO BE USED AS BRIBE FUND

Detective Fishback Story and is Cross-Examined by Earl Rogers—Sixth Admits Receiving Checks From Defendant in Legitimate Way.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 3.—The direct examination of Bert Franklin in the Darrow trial was completed Friday by Assistant District Attorney W. J. Ford, after a process of interrogations which developed surprise after surprise and brought the names of half a dozen well-known citizens into more or less intimate relationship with the main events of the alleged bribery plot.

Here are some of the allegations set forth in Franklin's testimony: That Darrow personally gave him the $4,000 used in the Lockwood bribery after going into an adjoining room with Job Harriman, an associate counsel for the McNamara, and coming back with the bill of $4,000.

That Lecompte Davis tried to arrange that he should plead guilty and take a fine of $5,000, to be paid by the McNamara defense, Franklin to receive $2,000 and in return, to protect Darrow.

That Darrow at one conference insisted that if Franklin ever used Darrow's name he would be held liable to tell all he knew about Harriman's connection with the case—and that in the presence of Lecompte Davis.

He further testified that Franklin Fowler, an investigator, who gathers evidence for the Pacific Electric company, went to a prospective juror and asked him if he did not want to be a McNamara juror, at the same time laying four matches on a table and, as he pointed to each, said it represented a thousand dollars.

That he also offered bribes to three other men who indignantly refused the offer. They were Guy Yakin, a well-known cigar dealer; Frank Smith of Covina; and J. Underwood, a Los Angeles contractor.
