Sporting

Jim Flynn's betting tactics brought the captain of the New Mexico state police into the ring in the ninth round of the championship fight at Las Vegas and before Smith and Johnson of the decision. Both men transgressed the rules, Johnson by holding, and Flynn by betting, but Flynn was the greater offender. The decision was given to Johnson because he had the better of the fighting up to that time.

Al Wolgast retained his championship title by beating Joe Rivers. Major challenge, in a desperate battle which lasted 13 rounds at Vernon, Cal. Wolgast was the star of old and was too rugged for Rivers.

Washington

The report of the Judiciary committee presented to the house at Washington by its chairman, Judge Henry D. Clayton, containing recommendations for the impeachment of Judge Robert H. Anderson of the United States commerce court, characterized the accused jurist as "one whose sense of moral responsibility has become deadened."

Introduction of a "gag" rule to insure the passage, unamended, of the Clayton contempt bill, precipitated a fight in the house at Washington. The rule, which prohibited amendments being offered to the bill and limited general debate to three hours, was adopted.

THIRD PARTY CALL

SENATOR DIXON ISSUES SUMMONS FOR CONVENTION AT CHICAGO AUGUST 8.

40 STATES ARE REPRESENTED

Statement of National Progressive Provisional Committee is Described as a "Declaration of Independence"—Number of Delegates Reduced.

New York, July 9.—The National Progressive Provisional Committee, reaffirming "Thou Shalt Not Steal" as one of the cardinal principles of this campaign, issued Sunday the formal call for the convention at which it is planned to name Theodore Roosevelt once again for president.

Chicago is the place and August 8 the date.

"To the people of the United States—without regard to past political differences—who through repeated betrayals, realize that today the power of the crooked political bosses and of the privileged classes behind them is too strong in the two old party organizations that no helpful movement in the real interests of our country can come out of either:

"Who believe that the time has come for a national progressive movement—a nation-wide movement—on non-sectional lines, so that the people may be served in sincerity and truth by an organization unfettered by obligation to conflicting interests;

"Who believe in the right and capacity of the people to rule themselves, and effectively to control all the agencies of their government, and who hold that only through social and industrial justice, thus secured, can honest property find permanent protection;

"Who believe that government by the few ends to become, and has in fact become, government by the few; and who believe that only through the movement proposed can we obtain the nation and the service states the legislation demanded by the modern industrial evolution; legislation which shall favor honest business and yet control the great agencies of modern business so as to insure their being used in the interest of the whole people; legislation which shall promote prosperity and at the same time secure the better and more equitable diffusion of prosperity; legislation which shall protect the economic well-being of the honest farmer, wage worker, professional man and business man alike.

"Who believe that only this type of wise industrial evolution will avert industrial revolution;

"Who believe that wholesome party government can come only if there is a wholesome party management in a spirit of service to the whole country and who hold that the commandment delivered at Sinai, "Thou Shalt Not Steal" applies to politics as well as to business.

"To all in accord with these views a call is hereby issued by the Provisional Committee under the sanction of the mass meeting held in Chicago on June 23 last, to send from each state a number of delegates whose votes in the convention shall count for as many votes as the state shall have senators and representatives in congress in order to meet in convention the second day of the 8th day of August, 1911, for the purpose of nominating candidates to be supported for the positions of president and Vice-President of the United States.

John C. Spooner is Pined 816. New York, July 10.—The U. S. Senator from Wisconsin, John C. Spooner, who was elected to the Senate in 1908, was today in New York City for the purpose of nominating candidates to be supported for the positions of president and Vice-President of the United States.

FORTY-ONE KILLED IN NEW YORK, 22 IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Lackawanna Express Speeds into String of Coaches—Freight and Passenger Crash.

Cornig, N. Y., July 8.—West-bound Lackawanna train No. 11, flying through a dense fog at 65 miles an hour, at 5:25 o'clock Thursday morning crashed into the rear of passenger train No. 9 at Gibson, three miles east of here, killing 41 persons and injuring between fifty and sixty.

The passenger train, which runs from New York to Buffalo, had been standing on the track for minutes when the express train, which carried no passengers, struck it in the rear at full speed. The two day coaches attached to the rear of No. 9 were hurled down an embankment and the express plunged half way through the rear Pullman of the standing train before it came to a stop.

Latrobe, Pa., July 8.—Friday a heavy freight train crashed into an engine and passenger coach and a coach one mile from Ligonier on the Ligonier Valley railroad. Over twenty-two persons were killed and more than thirty injured, several fatally.

The trains came together on a sharp curve, the freight, drawn by two locomotives, completely demolishing the passenger engine and coach and hurling the passengers in all directions. Many bodies were found a hundred feet from the track. Every person in the coach was either killed or injured.

FAMOUS CASE ENDS

CAMORRISTS GUILTY OF MURDER; DI MARINAS SLASHES HIS THROAT.

Caged as Though Wild Beasts the Condemned Men Act the Part When Sentences Hanging From Eight to Forty Years Are Read.

Viterbo, Italy, July 10.—Charged with having murdered Gennaro Cucolo and his wife in June, 1908, the Camorristi, who have been on trial for nearly two years, were Monday adjudged guilty in varying degrees.

The verdict declares Corrado Bontino guilty of both murders; Nicola Morra, Antonio Cerrato and Mariano De Gennaro guilty of the murder of Cucolo, and Giuseppe Satrii guilty of the murder of Cucolo's wife. Enrico Alfano, the alleged leader of the Camorristi; Giovanni Rapi, Di Marinas and the others are convicted of being instigators of the crime and members of a criminal organization.

The president of the court immediately sentenced the condemned men. Corfino, Morrato, Satrii, Morra, Di Gennaro, Alfano, Rapi and Di Marinas were sentenced to thirty years' imprisonment and ten years' police surveillance each; Di Martio to the years and six months' imprisonment and ten years' surveillance; Ascritto to ten years' imprisonment and three years' surveillance; Vitarbo the priest, seven years' imprisonment and two years' surveillance; the others to the years' imprisonment and three years' surveillance.

When the accused men were placed in the iron cage to hear the verdict, Di Marinas suddenly drew forth a piece of glass and cut his throat. He fell to the floor in a pool of blood and general pandemonium reigned. The other prisoners screamed like wild animals, shouting imprecations and imprecations.

Rapi shouted: "My innocent blood is crying for revenge."

Alfano raged and recalled his brother's death, who, he wiled, was a "victim of justice and a man who had suffered the punishment of innocence."

Vitarbo knelt weeping and praying. All the prisoners acted like maniacs, and the carabinieri had difficulty in forcing their way into the cage to maintain order and carry out the wounded Di Marinas.

The pronouncement of sentence was received with uproarious protests from the condemned men.
