CHAUTAQUA BESTEYER MAY TEACH DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

This Year's Chautauquus Was the Best Ever Held Here—The Attendance Was Large—Entertainers Fine.

No one can say that the Lincoln Chautauquus which began in this village last Thursday and ended Tuesday night was not worth attending; far from it.

It was a series of splendid meetings, with only a few entertainers who have appeared here before, and it is a real wonder that a village of this size is permitted to have so expensive talent show here. Many of those on the program are people who command fine paying engagements in the lecture, lyceum and theatrical world while others are people who engage in other work in the winter and travel on a Chautauquus circuit in the summer, both for the money earned and for a change of scene and work.

There is a great deal of work in managing an affair like this and the committee feel pleased that the season passed off so well. Local people may criticize and say that they do this, and why do they do that, but the committee has gone ahead, unconcerned about remarks and tried to give the town a few days of pleasure, and if some refuse to take advantage of the opportunity to enjoy good and new talent without going out of town, why then they alone suffered.

The profits are not large, because of the expenses, and it is not a paying money making scheme as insinuated. Other towns have these summer meetings and people turn out in large numbers to appreciate them, even if not in sympathy with the policies of the committee in charge. In Elgin this week the average daily attendance for the very same Chautauquus has numbered 2000.

The tent was a very nice one with an outer canvas curtaining the entrance, as a protection against other years when the passing wind has blown the canvas away. The programs were as advertised and, if out of so much excellent entertainment, a few excelled, then let it be said that the four speakers—Charles Palne, Prof. Morgan, Dr. Hill and Charles Folger—were the best that the audience has heard of since Dr. Hill. The musician, vocalists, readers and artists all held the attention of the audience during their appearances; some appealing to one kind of people and others having admirers in another class. All denunciations and criticisms of the whole thing were represented in the audience, many of them being from the neighboring farms.

Some critics complained that the management had said there would be no haphazard on the subject of prohibition and that they did have such talk; but they little was said, the subject being taken up in a very proper and certain way; and a great many young men were present and it would not be expected, that men in sympathy with the suppression of the liquor traffic, could allow such a chance to go by to say a word that might help one of these boys to lead sober lives, as far as liquor drinking is concerned, for there are many intemperate habits, besides that of the liquor habit, a fact sometimes forgotten by too ardent prohibition workers, who feature drunkenness as the only sin.

Ticket subscriptions for next year were satisfactorily arranged so that another series of meetings is assured for next summer.

A New Local Artist.

George Beuler of Lake Street, who recently moved with his family to Barrington in an act of excellent advice, without instruction at institutions, is capable of having his work noticed by the leading magazines. Since his residence here, he has been exhibited in the Century and St. Nicholas; his pictures have also appeared in Judge and Puck; numerous publications, and he was for years in charge of the art department of the advertising matter of the "International Harvester" company.

Mr. Beuler is a brother of Ellis Packer Beuler of New York who is a writer of this period of some note and the author of the amusing book, "Pigs in Pigs," which has been so extensively read in this village by our townsfolk. William B. Wilson.

Best Seats in Lake County.

The next of which will be a meeting at the Armory, Barrington, this evening. It is expected that each township in Lake County will be represented in the meeting. Delagates to the state convention will be chosen and the question of a new county seat will be discussed.

Board of Education May Add Course in Domestic Science to the Local High School.

Prof. E. S. Smith states that the board of education is contemplating placing a course of domestic science in the high school next year and hiring a special teacher for the work. This could not help but be liked by the people, for instruction in cooking, sewing, hygiene, care of children, practical nursing, saving, knowledge of plumbing and many other subjects related to the care of the home are more necessary to the girl than over study of Latin and the many "ologies." Knowledge of which is of course nice to have, but which in the lives of so many of the girls when they become wives and mothers is a matter of practical use. Better to have the ability to cook well and know how and what to buy for the table, than to be able to parse a Latin noun or tell of the reigns of some old kings; better to understand the care of a baby than to be able to name the fifteen decisive battles of the world. But special instruction is needed in home making and therefore no up-to-date high school is without some study in what is called "Domestic Science."

BASE BALL NOTES.

News About the Games Played by Barrington's Two Teams at Home and on Other Ground.

The locals suffered their third defeat of the season last Saturday when they played the fast Mercury club of Chicago. The final score was five to one, Gallagher hitting the O. V.'s only run in the third inning. The locals should have scored again in the fourth inning, when after two men were out, the next three men scored clean hits and were left stranded when "Dutch" Landwerth hit a grounder to the shortstop for the third out. This was the last chance the locals had to win. Pomeroy pitched a good game for the locals and with perfect support would have held the Mercurys to two runs. It is hoped that another game can be secured with this club as the boys believe they can win if given another chance.

The Omnes Vita club has a good game scheduled for next Saturday. Don't miss it.

Next Sunday the Wauconda and Lake Zurich ball teams will meet at Wauconda. The last time these two teams met Lake Zurich won out by one score. Several Barrington boys will be seen in the Wauconda line-up. A good game is promised.

What Do You Think?

To the Editor:—A comment has been heard so to just why an entertainment can be given in this village on Sunday under the name of "Chautauquus meetings" and be upheld by strict church members and pastors, who think ordinarily that all Sunday amusement is so wicked. This is not said as criticism of the meetings, "the Chautauquus" itself, but of the people who went to this Sunday show, band concert, almost vaudeville, when a ball game is so scorned by them, on Sunday as a wicked, wicked gathering, when a concert down town on the street would be thought a disgrace and a lecture in the town hall on agriculture would be "breaking the Sabbath."

The Chautauquus is a good thing and is full of fine instruction on various subjects and is entertaining, but it is a real show as truly as those other traveling shows that come here, and some of the performers are really the same ones who play at theatres in the winter season; and yet many people will look to see these people out here in the country and would feel it wrong to see the same performers in a regular theatre. The general criticism is, "Why the distinction? Surely, it is very inconsistent."

It is all good to show that the desire for "amusement" is existent in all of us, those narrow and those liberal in their views. More pleasure, interest and interest in the hard work in this village, would help to make people's food in their daily habits, as well as so much "chaff" that don't smile, nor spend good money for pleasure."

A LOCAL WOMAN.

Yets $7,000 Bonds for New School Building. The residents of the village of Lake Zurich recently voted to erect a new $7,000 public school building before the opening of the school year in September. The old frame building was partially destroyed by lightning a year ago.
