World's Debt to Writers.
It was a French news writer that wrote: "Butter yourselves to be hanged if need be, but publish your opinions!" but in this country writers in early times faced imprisonment and the gallows again and again in order to make their views public; and whatever these may have been, it must be conceded that they deserve credit for courage, at least, in having laid the foundation of that freedom which the press of this country enjoys.—London Globe.

Art's Place in Life.
Art calls forth contemplative emotions, otherwise dormant, and creates in the routine and scramble of individual wants and habits a sanctuary... may, rather a holy hill, neither ploughed nor hunted over, a free high place in which we can see clearly, breathe widely, and, for a while, live harmlessly, serenely, fully.—Yernon Lee.

Training Needed.
Mrs. Benham—I think it would be well for our boy to go to Sunday school. Benham—What for? Mrs. Benham—There is need of having his ideas straightened out; I told him something about St. Peter at the gate and he wanted to know if St. Peter was a ticket chopper.
