Wild Red Rice.
In general red rice grows wild. The seeds in which it grows are lustrous regularly by the seasonal or by its attraction. In measure as the tide flows the rice plant rises above the sea. The grain is very red and waxy, soft and hard. It swells in the water and so it swells less some of its rice. It is very nourishing and so it is a valuable addition to the diet.

A MILLION PER YEAR Inheritance Tax Produces Steady Stream of Revenue.

Due to Perfecting of Assessment Machinery by the General and His Ability—Law Aid to Treasury.

In a steady stream more than a million dollars a year flow into the state treasury from the enforcement of the inheritance tax law.
Owing to its liberal exemptions, the law imposes no unjust burden and affects only those individuals who can well afford to bear it, hence there is no sentiment in the legislature or in the public in favor of its repeal.
Most of the work of perfecting the collection machinery of this law has fallen upon the attorney general's department during the incumbency of Mr. William H. Stead, who is now standing for re-nomination upon his record in this office.
The law is not automatic nor is it self-enforcing. Its administration, especially in counties outside of Cook, has been far from perfect and there yet remain many defects which must be removed.

Has Asked for Relief.
Mr. Stead has recently called the attention of the legislature to the inadequacy and inefficiency of the legal machinery for the enforcement of this law in these counties, but so far the supplementary legislation desired has not been granted, and the attorney general has been forced upon his own resources and ingenuity to get what has been gotten.
Immediately after his induction into office he began a systematic search of the probate records in all the counties outside Cook. Many estates subject to it were in this manner discovered and proceedings instituted to enforce collection. Hundreds of thousands of dollars as a result of these proceedings have been turned into the state treasury.
Their cost has been paid out of the regular appropriations of the department.
During the two years ending June 30, 1914, these proceedings produced $1,492,718 as assessed from Cook county estates and $231,161 from counties outside Cook.

His Tax Collections.
During his service in this office, the total assessments on account of his activity have been $5,377,390.
Out of his office appropriations he has spent less than 2% per cent of the taxes assessed through proceedings instituted by him.
In Cook county the machinery to collect this tax is fully equipped and adequate.
In 1901 the general assembly provided for an inheritance tax for Cook county to be named by the attorney general, but made no provision for the expenses of his office. He did not have the money to buy even pens and ink and it was impossible for him to proceed at law against those estates which failed to make voluntary returns. The consequence was that an assessment of $200,000 or $350,000 a year was large.
When Mr. Stead became attorney general he at once made provision out of his office funds for a stenographer and such office expenses, and in cooperative, aggregating $150 per month. The office had only a plain kitchen table, two cheap vases and a kitchen chair loaned from the state house at Springfield.

Crude OUTF Profitable.
This crude outfit was profitable and the first year increased the collections by $100,000.
Four years later the assembly made an appropriation to start this office more facilities and the increase per year in assessments was $150,000. Later another increase in facilities was followed by still further gains in collections.
In 1909 strong power was given to the attorney general by a law which prohibited the transfer of personal property of a decedent by a trust company, safe deposit company, bank, insurance company or corporation without his consent.

Chicago Office Pays Well.
Since July 1, 1909, to the present time, this Chicago office has examined, tried and disposed of 14,000 estates, whereas in 1905, 1906 and 1907 the annual number of cases did not exceed 300.
In these years an assessment of $400,000 was made. During the year ending December 31, 1911, this Cook county inheritance tax office produced for the state treasury approximately $1,500,000.

Nature's Never-Failing Law.
You will realize the vision (not the title) which the world is to be as beautiful, or a mixture of both, for which you always gravitate toward that which you, secretly, must love into your hands will be placed; the exact reverse of the coin thought, you will receive that which you yearn; no more so less. Whatever your present environment may be, you will fall, remain or rise with your thoughts, your vision, rise, rise, rise. You will become as small as your controlling desire; as great as your dominant aspiration.—James Allen.

WAITING TO SHIP WOOL TO THE U. S.

Australian Sheep Raisers Anxious for Democratic Victory.

From the Glasgow, Mont., Independent:
The Hon. James Bryce, British ambassador to the United States, has been in Australia this summer, and in a recent speech at Melbourne he cheered the hearts of the Australian wool growers by telling that there was prospect of an early reduction in the American wool tariff. This has not only dictated, would mean a large increase in the wool exports from Australia to the United States.

The ambassador is right. That is just what will happen if the wool tariff is lowered, and the Montana sheep men know, because they remember what happened in 1894 when wool was not worth anything and when sheep were worth even less. When the Democratic members of the ways and means committee of the house, in the recent session of congress, presented their wool bill for consideration, they claimed that it would increase the imports of wool into America by 190,000,000 pounds.

But there can be no increase in the consumption of wool and the American grower is wondering what would become of 190,000,000 pounds of his wool under the Democratic tariff laws, nearly 30,000,000 of that 30,000,000 is grown right here in Montana. It is no wonder that England is urging the election of a Democratic congress and that the wool growers with favor upon the candidacy of Woodrow Wilson.

MANY WORDS OF CHEER Contributors to the Campaign Fund Who Believe in President Taft.

One of the most encouraging factors in the campaign is the enthusiasm expressed by the many contributors to the Republican campaign fund.
"It is my deliberate judgment," writes a Chicago merchant, "that Mr. Taft has been one of the best prepared for the United States has in the last forty years and I believe that he deserves re-election."
He does not need any change in the president's views on Wisconsin conscription, and in my opinion we are not going to have any change. President Taft is an honest, able and conscientious man, and he deserves and will receive re-election. In this locality the sentiment is coming his way.
Hundreds of letters contain similar expressions of opinion. They show in every section a strong feeling that President Taft's splendid administration has made a deep impression and that people do not want a change.
