President Roosevelt in Chattanooga, Tenn., was notified that the post office at Chattanooga, Tenn., and Spring, Ala., had been destroyed by fire, and that the St. Joseph street.

Joseph Gilliker, age twenty, inmate and one of the first residents of Calumet, Mich., was found dead in his home near the St. Joseph street, killed by hanging, no known motive.

After robbing a bank single-handed at Free, Okla., a bandit was caught by one man. He held up the cashier and took $3,000. The owner of the horse, H. C. Burke, armed with a shotgun, captured the robber and brought him to jail.

Judge Clark at Mason City, Ia., took the case of P. W. Haynes, accused of embezzling $150,000 while cashier of the Bank of Rock from the jury and directed a verdict for the defendant. The expert held that as Haynes was a partner in the bank he could not legally be guilty of the crime. The case was on trial in Floyd county.

A typhoid fever outbreak at Cedar Rapids, Ia., in which the United States public health service has been fighting through fear that steamers would spread it up and down the Mississippi valley, is well under control, according to report from the surgeon in charge of the eradication.

A verdict for $30,000 and costs was awarded for the plaintiff, D. E. Lowe & Co. of Danbury, against members of the United States district court at Hartford, Conn. Under the Sherman anti-trust law this award will be trebled, making the total amount $90,000. The case was one of a boycott ordered against the factory of the plaintiff, who is a suit hat manufacturer, because he declined to unionize his factory.

Four bandits bungled the robbery of a north-bound Kansas City Southern passenger train between Hatfield and Mans, Ark. One was wounded and captured and the other escaped. He escaped after a battle with Express Messenger Merrill Burnett of Kansas City, in which Burnett exhausted his ammunition and was beaten severely.

As the result of the shortage of boys in Minneapolis because of which such large firms have taken to hiring aged men to perform the duties once done by lads, J. W. Cope, aged seventy-four, is the "oldest messenger boy in Minneapolis," if not in the entire country.

Balkan War
A Podgorica dispatch to the Daily Mail says the town of Scherik was demolished by Montenegrin guns and 250 Turks taken prisoner. The final charge of the Montenegrins was that they had retreated. They were actually fired at with their own weapons. The noted Macedonian leader, Todor Lazarov, committed suicide in the town. He could not go to the Montenegrin front because of the Turks at Shkrota mountains, routing them with a loss of 300 men. The Montenegrins lost 100 killed or wounded.

The northern Montenegrin army under General Putnik captured Bykopolje, one of the chief cities of the Sanjak of Novi Bazar and has set up a provisional government. The fighting lasted several hours.

Twice defeated within twenty-four hours, the Turkish army is in full retreat toward Scutari. Following the crushing defeat by the Montenegrins in the first battle, Crown Prince Danilo on Tuesday overpowered at Turin, where the Montenegrins captured the Turkish fort, commanding the road to Scutari. Scutari is the base of Turkish Albanian.

Eighty thousand Russian troops are mobilized along the frontier where the Balkan war rages. Thus the peace of all Europe is considered swinging on a pivot.

Spring
The New York Giants overcame the Boston Braves by a score of 6 to 3 in the sixth game of the world series before a crowd of about 35,000 people at New York.

By a score of 8 to 1 the Boston Red Sox won their third victory from the New York Giants in the world championship series before one of the greatest crowds that ever witnessed a baseball game in Boston.

Luther McCarty of Springfield, Mass., won his right to San Francisco in the second round at Al Kaufman. He was beaten Kaufman all around the ring and the police stopped the fight.

Turks Whip Montenegrins
Ottoman Troops Deal Crushing Blow to Enemy at Gushije—Sign Preliminary Peace Pact.

Constantinople, Oct. 17.—Official dispatches from the commander of the Turkish forces operating on the Montenegrin border state that the Turks dealt a crushing defeat to the Montenegrins at Gushije Tuesday. The enemy was completely routed and fled in disorder to the Montenegrin base at Podgorica.

London, Oct. 17.—A preliminary peace treaty was signed Tuesday by the Italian and Turkish delegates at Cuchy-Berisstrand, Switzerland.

The preliminary pact provides for a continuance of the cessation of hostilities that obtained during the progress of the pourparlers. Details as to the new armistice will be taken toward the re-establishment of permanent peace are lacking.

Taken as $40,000 Forger.
Boston, Oct. 17.—Robert Gibson Larimer of Bellefonte, Pa., was arrested here Tuesday, charged with carrying a fugitive from justice in Winton, Wis. Larimer, the Winton police charged him with larceny of $10,000.

NEW YORKERS TAKE SEVENTH GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES, 11 TO 4.

SCORED SIX IN FIRST ROUND

Wood Is Given Terrible Bombardment—Treasure on Easy Street—Doyle Gets Homer in the Sixth, Scoring Two Runs.

Fenway Park, Boston, Oct. 17.—The Giants by outslugging, outrunning and outcoaching their enemy here Tuesday, brought the world's series to a neck-and-neck race when they scored the seventh battle, thus making the count three and. The score was 11 to 4, the largest total of the series.

Joe Wood, who lamed the New Yorkers twice in his previous two games, opened for the Red Sox, and the game was practically over when he left the box at the end of the first round. Wood's curves were easy; his steam was lacking. He couldn't get the ball by. His baffling delivery, which had bewildered the Giants, was a joke. Only a despicable individual toyed with his best slants, and the damage at the conclusion of the game was six runs.

Doyle plied for the Giants. He hurried the game, but had the rest of the first inning not transferred his performance would have been still greater. Time and again he pulled ground out of the bases, held the Red Sox with the bases full and one or two out.

Wood was relieved of his task in the second and replaced by Hall. Another ball to the Giants as the result of two passes, a small and contributory negligence by Hall. Doyle was passed after Devora had scored the second. Shodgrass singled him to second. Here he was jumped and the ball fell turned an error. Doyle hit the ball to Yerkess in an effort to quiet the annoying clamor. The throw was wild, and before the pill could be retrieved Doyle had counted.

The assembled multitude rose on their hind legs in the second inning and watched Gardner turn first, second, third and hammer his way down the final stretch.

In the first part of the sixth round Doyle brought a four-inch smile to the face of "Slick" McGray, and increased the gloom pervading the stands. Devora was up ahead of him. He permitted four wide ones to speed past and was given a base. Up came Doyle and smacked the ball with both runners streaking it around the top path. Devora beat Doyle out by a neck, and both scored. This made the damage done by the Giants 9, and meaning that sufficient, the side went out.

Treasure rubbed it in with a smash in the seventh, which brought the Giants total into two figures. Merkle was first batter and he batted single. He swooped in on Jeff's clout, another single.

The Red Legs featured the seventh with vast efforts. Speaker connected for a single. He was succeeded by Lewis, who connected twice as hard and Speaker reposed on third. Larry Doyle straddled on Slah's contribution and Speaker counted.

Wilson was sent in to get a taste of world's series atmosphere and Meyers taken out.

The Red Sox seized a tally in the eighth through the efforts of Cady, Hall and the assistance of Doyle. Gray summoned Mathewson to warm up, but Treason, as he had done repeatedly, fumbled in time. Merkle and Doyle met head on trying to capture Cady's puny fly. Hall made his second hit and on a long-fly Cady bounded home.

MAN IS PROBABLY INSANE

Ex-President Is Taken to Chicago—Wound Not Considered Serious Unless Blood Poison Should Develop.

Milwaukee, Wis.—John Schrank, who Monday night shot Col Theodore Roosevelt in front of the Gilpatrick hotel here, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted murder, when given a preliminary arraignment before Judge M. B. Neelen in the district court Tuesday.

Judge Neelen held Schrank to the criminal court for trial, under bonds of $7,500. Tentatively the date for trial was set for the November term of the criminal court. Schrank then was taken in custody of Sheriff Aronson and was imprisoned in the county jail.

Schrank's plea of guilty was entered as soon as District Attorney Zebel had read the formal charge of attempted murder.

Formally Pleads Guilty.
"What is your answer to this charge?" Judge Neelen asked of Schrank.

"Guilty," replied Schrank.

Colonel Roosevelt was shot as he was leaving the Gilpatrick hotel for the auditorium to make a speech. The colonel went on to the hall and spoke for an hour, after he had seen the assassin arrested and taken to the police station. Elbert E. Martin, the colonel's secretary, indicated Colonel Roosevelt's death. "This is my revenge my death." As soon as the shot was fired the crowd struggled to get at the prisoner.

Roosevelt said that the man was in danger, and it was his act which saved him. He told the crowd to stand back and let the police get on with it.

As the colonel's party was rushing toward the Auditorium somebody called the colonel's attention to a hole in his overcoat. Colonel Roosevelt unbent himself, he said, but he insisted that he must not disappoint the crowd at the Auditorium.

"Why, I'm bleeding," he said, but he insisted that he must not disappoint the crowd at the Auditorium.

Chicago.—With a finger as big as the end of a man's finger buried two inches deep in his chest, Theodore Roosevelt is wounded, only by the danger of blood poisoning.

A veritable armor built of overcoat, coat, waistcoat, 100 sheets of paper and a gun metal spectacle case turned aside the bullet fired by John Schrank, which splattered Colonel Roosevelt's fourth rib on the right side. There, unless symptoms of poisoning set in, he will carry it for the remainder of his life.

While the patient is comfortable at Mercy hospital, whether he is brought Tuesday from Milwaukee, he is by no means out of danger. The very objects which deflected the bullet may have tipped its slightly misrouted point with infection that will make itself known soon.

Every precaution has been taken to prevent the possibility of infection, even to the injection of an anti-lockjaw serum.

He Could Understand.
Post.—All my life seemed to go into that poem. I was perfectly exhausted when I had finished writing it. "Springing Editor—"I can sympathize with you. I was in exactly the same condition when I had finished reading it."

Objected to Questioning.
A young man named Dalton is bringing an action against his sweetheart at Marshall, Pa., because she accused him with being late to take care of the theater.

ILLINOIS BREVITIES

Bloomington.—Lucy Grunden Saylar, the central figure in the notorious case of three years ago, has received allotted time for her imprisonment in the penitentiary at Joliet and walked from its doors a free woman. Mrs. Saylar received a reprieve of three years at hard labor at the close of one of the most sensational trials that of the middle west has ever known in April, 1910, and began serving her sentence at the same time that Dr. W. H. Miller, the other leading factor, began to make reparation for his part in the crime by serving twelve years.

Good behavior reduced her sentence to six months. The crime was committed on July 11, 1909, the woman's husband being murdered. The crime was fastened upon the wife and paragon, Doctor Miller.

Chicago.—Frank Martin, fifty-seven years old, 2306 North Western avenue, was killed and Mrs. Rose Johnson, fifty-five years old, was seriously injured when the two fell from a porch on the third floor of the woman's residence at 2306 North Western avenue. Martin and Mrs. Johnson were leaning over the railing when it gave way. Both plunged to the street, a distance of forty feet. They were taken unconscious to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where Martin died. His body was removed to 2537 Fullerton avenue. Martin, who was a carpenter contractor, had been asked by Mrs. Johnson to make an estimate on repairing the porch.

Proport.—"Spell it again, please," said Deputy County Clerk Stiefen when Mike Papatheodoropoulos, an applicant for citizenship papers, like concedended to repeat the letters slowly and the deputy, after laborious efforts, managed to get the entire name recorded. "You're not going to stick to that name when you're an American citizen, are you?" queried Stiefen. "No, I think not," replied Mike. "Papa" or "Papatheodor" will be sufficient when I'm naturalized."

Highland.—The Illinois branch of the Ocean-to-Ocean Good Roads association was addressed by Jesse Taylor of Ohio, and State Engineer Johnson of Springfield. Resolutions were passed indorsing the rebuilding of the old national road by the state government, and demanding that aid in the construction of the intercity roads. The next meeting will be held in Troy December 8.

Moline.—Former Judge John M. Gould, one of the earliest residents of Moline, and former business associate of the late John Deere, multi-millionaire plow manufacturer, died of apoplexy. He was ninety years old. Mr. Gould came to Moline in 1846 and retired from business 13 years ago. He organized the first bank in Moline and for 37 years was president.

Pontiac.—Everett L. Monroe was killed when he attempted to take out an electric fuse plug in his home. He was standing on the concrete floor in the basement of his home and as he touched the fuse plug a short circuit was formed, killing him. He feared the wires would set fire to his residence.

Peoria.—Chewing tobacco killed Joseph Dunbar of Virginia City. The child found a quantity of stones when lying on the floor of his home and became seized with convulsions soon after eating it.

St. Louis.—Mrs. Beretta Palmer, aged one hundred years, died at her home in Grand Depot. She came to Illinois from Vermont in 1838, and was said to be the oldest woman in the northern part of the state.

Dixon.—Rev. Father D. J. Connelley, who has for some years been assistant pastor at St. Paul's Roman Catholic church in this city, has been appointed by Bishop Malduon pastor at Durand.

Pontiac.—There is an epidemic of typhoid fever among the inmates of the Illinois state reformatory. Twenty-five patients are in the hospital here. George Rager, twenty-one, of Portland, Ore., died.

Kewanee.—Father Lewis C. Landruth of Streator was appointed assistant pastor of the Visitation Roman Catholic church in this city by Bishop Danne of Peoria.

Pontiac.—Thomas O'Fallon of Peoria, a traveling man representing Bonnie Bros. of Louisville, Ky., died at the St. James hospital here of uremic poisoning. He was 51 but thirty-six hours.

Chicago.—When an interurban car struck an automobile, Miss Edna Winslow was pitched between the feet caught and the head bowed downward, until rescued.

Champaign.—Edward Weeks, colored, was decapitated by an Illinois Central engine.

Morris.—Judge Plunk of Aurora has ruled that residents of Grundy county must vote upon a proposition to remove the county seat from Morris to 24th.
