The big toe on his right foot will be taken off.

Wednesday evening, December 11, has been fixed as the date for the bazaar to be given by the ladies of the Dorcas society of the Baptist church in the parlors of that church. There will be for sale fancy work of all kinds, dolls, candies, etc. At that bazaar you may select many articles suitable for Christmas gifts. Mr. Lockhart has rendered invaluable service for the local church and his parishioners will regret his going very much, but will be somewhat reconciled to know that his father, who now has charge of a parish in the west, will probably take his place.

PAULIST CHORISTERS AT CARY NEWS OF THE FAIR AND BARY BOARD HELD A SPECIAL SESSION

Notes of Chairman and Interest in Local Affairs, and with Paulist Choristers.

The famous Paulist choristers of Chicago will sing at Cary on Wednesday, November 27, at the bazaar to be given by the St. Peter's and St. Paul's new Catholic parish. The organization of 125 voices, 70 boys and 50 men, will sing in the Paulist church on Thanksgiving day, and they have consented to stop at Cary for two hours on the preceding evening while at Cary on Thanksgiving. Father William J. Pines, a Paulist Father, who is the director of this widely known choir, will be present at Cary.

A very exceptional favor has been conferred upon Father Joseph Logan and Joseph Getis of Barrington, the parish priests, and upon the people of this village, when a choir of such high standing, and so strong in their religious convictions, has consented to sing for their entertainments. The Paulist choristers who journeyed to Europe last May, received the first prize in the international competition of choral societies; also singing before the royal courts and the pope at Rome. The building which is to be held in the church north of Cary is nearly completed, nor is yet consecrated as a church. Many Barrington people are planning to attend.

The bazaar which opens this day will continue for four evenings; Bishop Maloney of Rockford will be present on Friday evening. All the attractions of a large bazaar will be offered, with dancing each evening in the church hall, a large room in the basement to be used for church purposes after the completion of the building. The money raised will be used for the completion of the church.

THE BULL MOOSE SOUP

A local citizen who is an ardent "Democrat" and was "kidded" considerably by the recent landslide takes the following means of retaliating: Old Satan, he must be with Teddy, A 'x' his Bull Moose plot, Or he'd be down here in Lake Zurich, A 'x' he'd be the lid on his pot, The thing's been 'tilled' and 'tilled', Till now it's slipped over the top, And the Bull Moose soup is a 'delite' Because us 'Demmes' won't stop. The political fires and mixers That stir the political soup, Get out their prescription for Teddy, And ordered the dose taken hot. Since then they've been stirrin' and stirrin' 'But the grass ain't up in the top; They couldn't get same an emulsion Because us 'Demmes' won't stop. They went into the People's convention And sure 'the works' we will con. But Tatt came in with a high ball And knocked out Teddy's main prop; Since then they've been howlin' and howlin' But Teddy took a great drop, And the Teddy-ite soup is a 'delite' Because us 'Demmes' won't stop. Keep howlin' and howlin' Herr Fiekin, Till Bull Moose commands you to stop, Or blow you a ball to howl in, And stir your political pot; But you won't be 'ground on us' 'Demmes'.

The U. S. we surely will say, We are Democrats and Senators, but we won't say a "Demmie" will say.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOL INTERESTS A VISITOR

Callers at Local School Write Interest in the Work and Give His Impressions.

Barrington has a good public school everybody knows, but not many know more about it. Do you? Have you ever taken time to visit it? Here is an interesting account from a man who recently called there:

"Persons who have not taken time to visit our public school cannot have a clear idea of the good work that is being done for the children and youth of our community here. Happening in one afternoon recently we entered a number of rooms and found good light, good and clear order—three things very necessary for successful healthful work. Both teachers and pupils seemed interested in the work in hand, and the recitations indicated preparation on both sides. There were studies in general, and American history, in a very recent form of physiology, so simplified as to be thoughtful and enjoyable. A class in geography, one in orthography, in spelling, in drawing and painting. It is a good thing that stress is laid on the three 'R's' reading, 'riting' and 'rithmetic', but that was not a class in reading, but that was because it was not on at that particular time. The rule is to read to murder the 'King's English', yet this is frequently done."

"All the school grades seem to be in good shape, which I am sure must be a source of congratulation to the school management. Prof. E. S. Smith, the school superintendent is showing his concern for the real interest of his pupils by introducing features into the school work not usually found. He has introduced a class in carpentry for the boys and in wood work for the girls, surprising to us men, and it was quite under their hands. Some of the boys are showing skill also in mechanical drawing. Some twenty or thirty have become interested in this department."

"We have a dozen or so young misses suitably graded in one and upon, engaged in the culinary department and what they had prepared looked quite appetizing. Several of them were proving that the product of their work was good. Miss Holloway seemed to be in charge of the work, and it was very useful. Other young ladies were learning to sew. Such knowledge will be very useful when school days are over."

"Classes have also been organized for the study of band music. This is a great hit with the boys, and such study should be encouraged. All these pursuits, outside the school hours, add to the course, take time and thought in planning and executing, and though expensive. But money spent in such enterprises as these is certainly well invested. The High school lecture course is meeting with favor and there is no doubt that the boys attend will be abundantly repaid in the time and money they have put into their season tickets."

The Barrington Men's Club.
The Barrington Men's Club is entering upon its fifth year of its existence. Plans have been made for continuing its operations during the coming winter and spring.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the club, on Tuesday evening, the 19th inst., it was arranged that the following should be the program for the coming season. The first meeting will occur about the middle of December, the exact date will be announced in due time. This will be an open meeting, and the order will be a debate. The arrangements for this debate are in the hands of Mr. W. S. Mattison.

The second meeting will occur near the middle of January. Mr. Thomas Cret will plan for this meeting, assisted by Prof. E. S. Smith.

February 12th the annual banquet will occur, on Lincoln's birthday. The arrangements will be in the hands of L. H. Bennett and Rev. O. F. Mattison. H. H. Hubbard, the president of the club, will plan for the March meeting. Due notice of all these meetings will be given so that every club member will know what is coming, and when.

On account of a failure to elect a new set of officers at the close of last year, it was thought that the old officers should continue to act until such time as their successors can be appointed. Mr. Cret is treasurer, and is ready to receive at any time the annual fee of fifty cents for membership in the club.

Ottoman Government Again Appeals to Powers to Stop Struggle—Scutari Reported Captured.

Belgrade, Nov. 20.—Any idea that the Turkish government may have had of benefiting by continued resistance must be shattered by news of the fall of Monastir. In the capture of that important town the Servians took three pashas, including the commander-in-chief, Zekki Pasha, 50,000 men and 47 guns, thus achieving the greatest individual success of the war.

The fall of Monastir, a town of 100,000 inhabitants, was reported by the Ottoman government as a great success. The defenders of the city, realizing that their line of communication with Ochrid, on which they had intended to retreat as a last resort, had been cut, fought desperately until the commander of the fortress saw the futility of further resistance and hoisted the white flag.

The losses on both sides have been heavy. During the first day's fighting the Servians lost 260 killed and wounded.

Official dispatches do not give the total losses on either side. A private, but unconfirmed telegram, received here reports that Scutari has surrendered.

The representatives of Italy and Germany called upon Premier Pachitch of Serbia and informed him that their governments supported Austria's view against Serbia's claim for an extension of her territory after the war.

London, Nov. 20.—The Ottoman government has made a fresh appeal, this time through the Russian ambassador at Constantinople, for the cessation of hostilities, according to a news agency dispatch received here from the Turkish capital.

It is said that the peace terms of the Turkish allies will include a demand for the cessation of all Turkish territory down to the Edonez river and the payment of an indemnity of $125,000,000.

The first Bulgarian attack on the Turkish line of fortifications defending Constantinople at Tchatalba has failed. The whole Bulgarian army was engaged.

IRONY AND HUMOR IN SPEECH

Chief Executive's Address Before Lotus Club in New York Considered by Many the Most Remarkable Ever Made.

New York, Nov. 19.—In a speech which many of his hearers considered the most remarkable he has ever made, President Taft sang his "swan song" as chief executive of the nation, when, as the guest of the Lotus Club Saturday night, the president responded to the toast, "The President."

The president closed his speech with a toast to his successor. President Taft said in part: "I saw the name of your club on the possibility for a swan song to those about to disappear."

"You have given me the toast of 'The President.' It is said that the office of president is the most powerful in the world, but I am bound to say that what chiefly staves the president in the face in carrying out any plan of his, is the limitation upon the power and not its extent."

"What are we to do with our ex-presidents? I am not sure Dr. Osler's method of dealing with elderly men would not properly apply to the treatment of ex-presidents. The proper and scientific administration of a dose of chloroform or of the fruit of the lotus tree might make fitting end to the life of one who had held the highest office."

"I observe that my friend Mr. Bryan proposes another method of disposing of our ex-presidents. 'As a Warwick and as a maker of ex-presidents, I think we should give great and respectful consideration to his suggestion. Instead of ending the presidential life by chloroform or lotus tree eating, he proposes that it should expire under the anesthetic effect of the debates of the senate."

He proposes that ex-presidents should be confined to the burning of sitting in the senate and listening to the discussions in that body.

"Why Mr. Bryan should think it necessary to add to the discussion in the senate all the living children of ex-presidents I am at a loss to say. If I must go and disappear into oblivion, I prefer to go by the chloroform or lotus method. It is pleasant and it's less urged to die."

URGED MURDER OF GIRL

Witness Says McNamara Asked Girl's Death Who "Knew Too Much."

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 19.—James B. McNamara's purpose to explode a bomb under Miss Mary G. Day, a woman stenographer employed by the Iron Workers' union, because she knew too much, was related at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial on Saturday by Frank Eckhoff.

"James B. said he thought it would be a good idea if he followed Miss Day on a train and put a small bomb under her, time so that it would explode after I got off the train," testified Eckhoff.

WILSON TO ASSEMBLE CONGRESS

BY APRIL 15.

President-Elect Declares Democratic Sentiment to Be Unanimous in Favor of an Extra Session.

New York, Nov. 18.—Announcing his purpose of calling an extra session of congress not later than April 15, instead of waiting six months after he assumes the presidency on March 4, for the regular session to convene, President-Elect Wilson took the first important step Friday towards carrying out his pledge to the people.

As he issued his statement the president-elect remarked: "The list of members of congress and prominent Democrats throughout the country who had expressed themselves on the subject showed that the sentiment in favor of the calling of an extra session was widespread—I might say almost unanimous. The extra session will have the advantage of giving us an early start towards effecting the reforms to which the Democratic party is pledged."

Simultaneously with the issuance of his statement, the president-elect gave permission to the calling of an extra session was widespread—I might say almost unanimous. PRETTY THANKSGIVING DAY DINNER TABLE

By ADELE MENDEL.

HOW much easier it is for the hostess of today to prepare for a Thanksgiving dinner than it was for the hostess of a hundred years ago! Then it meant not hours, but weeks of planning, for the hostess had none of the conveniences or labor saving devices that we are so familiar with as necessities today. No indeed, her dinner had to be cooked on an open fire, not on a modern range or gas stove. Electricity would have seemed nothing less than a miracle. The simple utensils used in the home of the present day would have caused the greatest amount of astonishment. A lamp, squeezer would have been regarded as a curious object, but then so would have been a food chopper, an egg beater, or a can opener.

The coffee was always roasted and ground at home. There was no prepared mustard, cocoa, vanilla, gelatine or prepared yeast. String beans, lima beans, asparagus or peas were not served in November. Tomatoes were called love apples and were not recognized as a vegetable. Everything was homemade, and what was not delivered at the house in sealed packages.

There were few hot-house flowers such as we are accustomed to see today. The flowers were all of the old-fashioned variety. Orchids were very small; roses were not like the roses of today, but carnations were used in abundance.

Invitations had to be issued a long time ahead to insure a reply, if the guest resided at any distance.

Verily, we have much to be grateful for, when we consider how many wonderful inventions there have been to lighten the housekeeper's labor. Now, when Thanksgiving is celebrated in every state in the Union, there is no one who hasn't something to be thankful for.

Thanksgiving ever is a day of pleasant reminiscences; a day when the family and friends are gathered around the well laden table in a spirit of rejoicing. Hospitality is the characteristic note of the day and it really ought to be a pleasure and a gladness to plan a Thanksgiving dinner.

The housewife of 1912 will be wise if she follows the example of her great grandmother and plans her dinner and table decorations in advance so that she will have little to do on Thanksgiving day.

The decorations for a Thanksgiving table would be very effective if they had for its decorations the turkey. For, what is a Thanksgiving dinner without a turkey? The table cloth around the edge of the table is trimmed with large red turkeys cut out of crepe paper in realistic coloring. Paper turkeys hold the place cards. The same bird ornaments the napkins. Small baskets trimmed with chrysanthemums hold the salted almonds. For the center decoration of the table use a large dark red basket filled with ears of corn. The imitation corn and leaves can be made of yellow paper with green paper for leaves. Wheat, oats, fruit or flowers or anything in keeping with the harvest idea may be used.

A college girl who has taken up the business of making table souvenirs and decorations has gone to America's early history for the appropriate little things used at Thanksgiving. Taking the year 1630 as the proper period for her charming trifles—the year in which the first Thanksgiving was celebrated in Boston—the clever girl has turned out little puppets dressed as the Pilgrim fathers, Indians and many a fair New England maid known as songs and stories. She has made crude cardboard houses, covered with log-cabin paper, and for the animals used by the first settlers she goes to the barn for such suitable and cheap trifles as found.

For the fine Thanksgiving tables she arranges her New England scenes of those long ago times as an attractive as they are beautiful. The center of the table is always made for the picture she wishes to represent, and there, with her model dolls, her turkey puppets, her primitive houses, wigwags, wild turkeys, deer, ducks, canoes and whatnot, she will turn out pictures of America's early history.

Some of the best women's models would be copies of a home with very little apparatus. The history books give many scenes to copy from and by choosing the least elaborate the work would be lessened and the effect be just as good.

For instance, there was always a blockhouse in ye olden days, with cannon before it, and turkeys were roasted in the open air, and there were piles of corn when the harvest was in, and on a farm home it would be easy to have dried ears of corn about, shucks and all showing, and in a city bars of popcorn could be used.

Take the blockhouse scene and prepare the picture for the possible invasion of hostile Indians. Cover a square cardboard box with brown paper for the log house; trace over it with black crayon a rude imitation of logs, cut all windows, put on a rough chimney and leave the door half open, with a little doll, dressed as a Puritan child, peering out. About the blockhouse group some toy pine trees, one or two Puritan men, two maids and maybe a friendly Indian with feathered headdress. The made-up child are dressed in grave gray gowns with white kerchiefs and caps, and the white men wear buff-colored knee-breeches, red waistcoats and green or gray tall coats. The good Indian wears war paint and, maybe, dolls a cloak of fur behind him. Dolls for the purpose can be had at 10 cents apiece—four inches high—and they could be dressed in tissue paper. They are held to the table with long black headed pins, or rather to a board upon which the scene is set and afterward covered over in suitable manner. One of the metal turkeys, sold now in all the candy and toyshops for Thanksgiving, could appear in the scene and also a deer and a fat goose. The birds and animals can be had from five cents up.

All the things mentioned in these dramatic times could be symbolized with pretty trifles bought at the ten cent store or elsewhere, for favors. The following things are seen and are all suitable: Paper mache puppets of turkeys, candy boxes made like ears of corn, kegs, cannon, Indian baskets and tomahawks. The kegs were always a part of the New England Thanksgiving, and they held root beer—made by the Indian women—and molasses, which was used for the pies famous to this day.

Another amusing idea for a Thanksgiving table scene could be a dramatization of the great progress of the years. This scene might hold a board upon which are symbolized the French handboxes and dolls dressed to depict the various races that have invaded the country. There could be a negro, a Chinaman, a Russian Cossack and an Indian laborer, a German, Frenchman and so on. There should be little American flags for souvenirs or trinkets, flag candy boxes and novelty or real white an old ribbon tying souvenirs, place cards and menus.

The place cards or menus used must correspond to the two periods. Little printed cards with very pretty symbols, old and new, can be had very cheaply. For the invitation there are also some Puritan-father postcards that could be used, while the modern invitation could be written on a postal giving any famous American object or scene. Aeroplanes cards would be suitable.

For a child's Thanksgiving party there are bushes of pretty trifles that cost next to nothing. The metal turkeys, deer, pastebord cannon, flags, and airplanes and animals are reproduced in tinplate shape. The wee things which are sometimes put in a Jack Horner pie cost from one cent up to five.

All the candy holders made for the season show some red, white and blue, while the paper napkins and table covers have just the right things in their rough letters borders.

Thanksgiving Place Cards.

A pretty place card shows a big brown hand-painted turkey, wearing a necktie of bright red cranberries. Other cards show fat little children driving turkeys made of real feathers glued to the card. Hand-painted bunches of celery, ears of corn, fruit and vegetables, each cut from cardboard in the right shape, are made to match vegetable centerpieces. Then there are tiny paper doll cards, hand-painted with yellow and white yellow dolls. Real doll children, carrying yellow chrysanthemums, are made to cluster to wreathings by means of a hidden wire arranged with the help of

GUILTY OF MURDER

FOUR N. Y. GUNMEN ARE CONVICTED OF ASSASSINATING GAMBLER ROSENTHAL

ENDS GUN RULE IN GOTHAM

Fate of Prisoners Was Sealed After Jury Had Deliberated Only an Hour—Becker Verdict Took Nearly Seven Hours.

New York, Nov. 21.—Charged with the killing of Gambler Herman Rosenthal, the gunmen "Gyp the Blood," "Fifty Louis," "Whitely" Lewis and "Duke Eckels" Croft were all found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in the supreme court here Tuesday.

The jury deliberated only an hour and ten minutes. The quick verdict came as a surprise to everybody. The jury in the case of Charles A. Becker, former police lieutenant, deliberated nearly seven hours before reaching a verdict. He lay on a gurney, motioned to the electric chair for having instigated the murder.

Justice Croft remanded the prisoners until he fixes the day for pronouncing sentence. The entire proceedings in court after the jury came in occupied only seven minutes. The gunmen were brought in by four police wardens and a uniformed police. They heard the verdict with faces unmoved, starting straight ahead.

Enraged by their conviction, the four gangsters returned to the Tombs profanely denouncing Justice Croft and all others who were concerned in their trial. Their counsel at once served notice of an appeal.

Meanwhile a great crowd outside the criminal court building was awaiting its approval of the verdict by cheering and shouting.

District Attorney Whitman, in a brief statement, congratulated the people of New York on the result of the trial, which he declared was a triumph for civilization and the beginning of the end of gun rule in New York.

Their agreement with the state fulfilled the promise of "Friday" Webber and Harry Vallon were released from custody. The indictment against William Shapiro, chauffeur of the murder victim, was returned by the grand jury. Shapiro is declared to have decided the issue, was also dismissed, and Sam Schoppa was likewise permitted to go free.

Jack Sullivan, half of the seven men indicted for the Rosenthal murder, will be placed on trial immediately following the trial of Charles H. Hyde, which began Wednesday.

ARMISTICE PLEA IS GRANTED

Bulgaria in Note to Porte Says Allies Will Open Negotiations to End Hostilities.

London, Nov. 21.—The nations of the Balkan confederacy, satiated with victory, signified their willingness Tuesday to treat for terms of peace at the request of the vanquished Turkish empire.

The reply sent to the dispatch of the grand viceroy to King Ferdinand of Bulgaria says:

"The Bulgarian government, after agreeing with the allied cabinets of Serbia, Montenegro and Greece, informs the porte that plenipotentiaries have been appointed with instructions to arrange with the commanders-in-chief of the Turkish armies the conditions of an armistice and subsequently to proceed to the conclusion of peace."

Simultaneously with the dispatch to the grand viceroy of their agreement to appoint peace plenipotentiaries the allied Balkan nations notified the European powers of the step they had taken and thanked them for their offer of mediation. They added that mediation was no longer necessary, as the porte had addressed itself directly to the Balkan states, who would now treat with Turkey without outside intervention.

Farms for Children.

Perhaps the smallest farms in the world, each four by eight feet, have been devised by Mrs. Henry Parsons for the International Children's School Farm League, and demonstrated in New York. Each child becomes owner of his diminutive farm, in which he works, grows and harvests seven different kinds of vegetables, and these are borne by him in triumph to his family. About each farm is an 18-inch path, which he keeps in order; under his instructor it becomes a tiny, object lesson in good roads.

Not Needed.

While a traveling man was waiting for an opportunity to show his samples to a merchant in a little backwoods town in Missouri, a customer came in and bought a couple of night-shirts. Afterwards a long, lank lumberman, with his trousers stuffed in his boots, said to the merchant:

"Night shirts. Can I sell you one or two?"

"Nawp, I reckon not," said the Missourian. "I don't want 'em around such 'nights."—Lippincott's.

SCOFFERS
 Often Make the Staunchest Convert.

The man who scoffs at an idea or doctrine which he does not fully understand has at least the courage to show where he stands.

The gospel of Health has many converts who formerly laughed at the idea that coffee and tea, for example, ever hurt anyone. Upon looking into the matter somewhat often at the suggestion of a friend, such persons have found that Postum and his friend's advice have been their salvation.

"My sister was employed in an eastern city where she had to do calculating," writes an Okla. girl. "She suffered with headaches until she was almost unfit for duty."

"Her landlady persuaded her to quit coffee and use Postum and in a few days she was entirely free from headaches." (This is not a euphemism as the same drug found in coffee.) "She told her employer about it, and on trying it, he had the same experience."

"My father and I have both suffered much from nervous headaches since I can remember, but we scoffed at the idea advanced by my sister, that coffee was the cause."

"However, we finally quit coffee and began using Postum. Father has had but one headache now in four years, and so do I. My mother and I have both suffered much from nervous headaches, which I am now convinced come from coffee."

"A cup of good, hot Postum is satisfactory to me when I do not care to eat a meal. Circumstances caused me to locate in a new country and I feared I would not be able to buy my favorite drink. Postum, and I was relieved to find that a full supply is kept here with a heavy demand for it." Name given by Postum Co., 1111 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

IMPROVEMENT OF DAIRY CATTLE BY CAREFUL SELECTION AND BREEDING

Leland Hyde, a Pure Bred Holstein.

By PROFESSOR C. C. HYDEN, University of Illinois.

There are in Illinois over 1,000,000 cows used for dairy purposes, of which not over two per cent. are pure-bred. It is only a fraction of one per cent. have accurate records of production been kept either officially or privately. Many dairymen are now adding to their herds a pure-bred animal as the beginning of pure-bred herds, and still larger numbers are using pure bred sires on grade herds. These are certainly steps in the right direction. Every possible means should be used to raise the average production of dairy cows.

Not all persons can have pure-bred animals, but all can use good bulls to grade up their herds, and one of the best ways to convince a man of the value of well bred stock is to demonstrate to him the effect of a pure-bred sire on a grade herd. It should be considered little less than a crime to use a scrub bull, or one whose dam has not produced 5,000 pounds of butter fat in 365 days. Had careful selection and breeding been practiced for the past 60 years by the dairymen of Illinois, that part of the state would have been known the world over on account of the excellence of its dairy cattle. During the first 15 generations could have been produced, and 15 generations under careful selection would have worked wonders.

Very little concerted action has been taken by even the breeders of pure-bred cattle to advance the interests of their respective breeds. In some states there are associations which were doing a better work. Similar organizations should occupy a more prominent place in Illinois dairymen. The hard books show that only a small part of the existing pure-bred cattle in the state are members of even their national breed associations.

The Dairy Cattle Improvement Association of Illinois was organized in 1908, and consisted of men representing the different dairy breeds. The object was to promote the spread of pure bred cattle in the state and especially the use of pure bred bulls on grade herds. Little has Concerning Meat.—Up—up—up goes the price of meat, and the end is not yet in sight. The demand for beef cattle is greater than the supply. Then what is the poor "ultimate consumer" to do? Quit eating meat. That is the only way to get relief. It is a study of meats* and learn what nutritious and appetizing value some of the cheaper cuts of meat have. The standard balanced ration for most intelligently must know the nature of the different cuts, especially with reference to the value of edible meat cut from different parts of the carcass. It is highly essential to the entire beef industry, on the one hand, and the economic welfare of the beef-eating public on the other, that a more intelligent understanding of the different cuts of meat be acquired by consumers generally.

The University of Illinois agricultural experiment station has just published a hand-book bulletin, No. 158, entitled "Relative Economy, Composition, and Nutritive Value of the Various Cuts of Beef." It was written by L. D. Hall and A. D. Emmett of the animal husbandry department and contains data that is of the utmost value to the beef producer and to "the man that pays the bills." The bulletin is illustrated by many tables, photographs of cuts of beef, and drawings and graphs to show results of the numerous experiments and analyses that were made by the authors.

Rations for Dairy Cows.—Are you one of the many dairymen who still persist in feeding your dairy cow a ration composed largely of corn and such roughage as corn stover, timothy hay, etc., which make an unbalanced mixture of one part of stover and two parts of substrate of blameworthy, according to the age and size of a calf and severity of symptoms. Isolate affected calves.

Benefits of Separator.—The introduction of the hand separator has made it possible for the farmer to dispose of his cream at the highest price and to save the milk, cream and whey.

JUST WHAT THEY EXPECTED

Committee Made No Mistake When They Looked for Almost Inevitable Comment.

A committee of investigating scientists approached a lady.

"Madam," said Professor Prewins, the spokesman, offering her a magnificent chrysanthemum of rare and lovely hue. "Madam, permit me to present this flower to you as a token of our high regard."

She clasped the splendid blossom in her lily white hand.

Breathlessly the committee waited her reply.

"How beautiful it is!" she answered. "What an exquisite shade of purple! I should love to have a dress of that color."

Dr. Prewins nodded knowingly to the committee, as if to say, "I told you so."

The committee winked to the professor and whispered, "You win."

JUDGE CURED, HEART TROUBLE.

I took about 6 boxes of Dods Kidney Pills for Heart Trouble. I was ill and had suffered for 5 years, I had dizzy spells, my eyes puffed, my breath was short and I had chills and back-ache. I took the pills about a year ago and have had no return of the palpitations. Am now 63 years old, able to do lots of manual labor, as anyone to adopt the Canadian nationality, for we do not value citizenship which is obtained under compulsion.

Our American citizens are welcome from over the border. Thrice we welcome our Canadian and British brothers, who return to the Union Jack, after living in the Stars and Stripes.

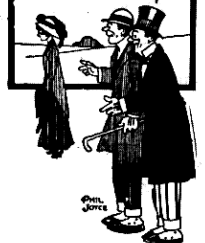

"History is the Stars and Stripes. For many years hundreds of young Britishers have sought fortune in the western States. Time has brought about a change, and the tide has set in the other direction, bringing across the frontier numbers of our neighbors to whom we are glad to return hospitality.

"One of the chief dispensers of such hospitality in proportion to its population has, as we have said, changed its character into an important station to a thriving what producing area."

"What it has lost from the picturesque point of view, it has gained in the material side, and I wish, in conclusion, to express the hope that the property which has evinced itself here for the past ten years, may continue unabated in the future."

There is no reason why at a hundred places on this educational, instructive and interesting trip of His Royal Highness's might not have expressed himself in the same terms, and on each occasion, addressed large gatherings of Americans who are now settled on the prairie of Western Canada.—Advertisement.

RASH SPREAD TO ARMS

759 Roach Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.—"At first I noticed small eruptions on my face. The trouble began as a rash. It looked like red pimples. In a few days they spread to my arms and back. They itched and burned so badly that I scratched them and of course the result was blood and matter. The eruptions festered, broke, opened and dried up, leaving the skin dry and scaly. I spent many sleepless nights, my back ached and face burning and itching; sleep was purely and simply out of the question. The trouble also caused disfigurement. My clothing irritated the breaking out."

"By this time I had used several well-known remedies without success. The trouble continued. Then I began to use the sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Within seven or eight days I noticed gratifying results. I purchased a full-sized cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and in about eighteen or twenty days my cure was complete." (Signed) Miss Katherine McCallister, Apr. 12, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free with 23-p. 83th Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."

PINKHAM FADELESS DYES

ROYALTY WELCOMES THE AMERICAN SETTLER

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS, THE DUKE OF CONNAGHT, WELCOMES AMERICANS TO CANADA.

It was a happy speech, that on that beautiful October day, the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, made at Macleod, Alberta. It was an opportune speech, hearty and resonant with good fellowship. And, as it was especially intended for American ears, the audience, comprised largely of so many American settlers in Canada, the time and place could not have been better chosen.

It was in reply to an address of welcome tendered to him at the pretty city of Macleod, with the foothills of the Rockies as a setting, and the great wheat fields between, and in fact all around the place as the foreground, His Highness, true to the best interests of the country, and to those of the Americans who choose to make Canada their home, said in part:

"I am well aware that among those whom I am now addressing, there are a very great proportion who were not born under the British flag. Most of these will have grown up with that residence under that flag implies no disabilities. All we ask is that the laws of Canada should be obeyed.

"We do not profess to be free to come and go, to marry, to live and to die as seems best to him, and as it pleases Providence.

"We do not profess to bear on anyone to adopt the Canadian nationality, for we do not value citizenship which is obtained under compulsion.

"Our American citizens are welcome from over the border. Thrice we welcome our Canadian and British brothers, who return to the Union Jack, after living in the Stars and Stripes.

"History is the Stars and Stripes. For many years hundreds of young Britishers have sought fortune in the western States. Time has brought about a change, and the tide has set in the other direction, bringing across the frontier numbers of our neighbors to whom we are glad to return hospitality.

The Experience of Two Girls Here Related For The Benefit of Others.

Rochester, N. Y.—"I was a daughter 18 years old who has always been very healthy until recently when she complained of dizziness and cramps every month, so bad that I would have to keep home from school and put her to bed to get relief.

"After giving her only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound she is now enjoying the best of health. I cannot praise your Compound too highly. I want every good mother to read what my mother has done for my child."—Mrs. RICHARD N. DUNHAM, 311 Exchange St., Rochester, N. Y.

Stoutsville, Ohio.—"I suffered from headaches, backache and was very irritable. A friend advised me to take Lydia E.
