

WEALTH OF COUNTY DEPENDS ON FARMERS

Productive Capacity of Soil, Controlled by Cultivation, Rotation and Fertilization, Important Feature. Cultivated Crops Drain Foods

The foundation of the material wealth of this county is thoroughly dependent on the productive capacity of the soil, and under favorable climatic conditions there are three principal methods of controlling this productivity. These are: first, cultivation including drainage; second, rotation of crops; and third, fertilization.

The beneficial results of fertilizers are due to the supply of plant food to the soil in a more soluble or available form than is found in soils of low productive capacity. The natural supply of mineral plant foods comes frequently from the solution of the mineral deposits in the soil.

Through constant cultivation of the soil, decay of vegetable matter is materially hastened. Fermentation takes place rapidly, resulting in the rapid formation of food materials for the succeeding crops.

FIGHT FOR GOOD ROADS IN COOK

Township Officials Told How Highways Affect the Cost of Living—Are Powerful Factors.

Tremendous possibilities for marketing their crops are possible at reduced expense through the medium of good roads, thereby materially reducing the high cost of living, were pictured before the township officials of Cook county at a "good roads rally" held at the Hotel Sherman last week.

The object of the conference was to organize the township officials into a movement for permanent good roads in Cook county. Chairman Board aroused the meeting at the start by glowing predictions of what is in store for Cook county farmers when they are able to haul their products to the Chicago markets themselves instead of trusting to railroads, express companies and the parcel post.

"I have no hesitation in saying that good roads can be a powerful factor in keeping down the cost of living." At the present there are roads in Cook county that are at times impassable. Give us good, hard, permanent roads and I venture to say that the farmers of this county can get their crops into Chicago half the present cost.

George D. Marshall, superintendent of the good roads department of the federal government, was one of the most enthusiastic men at the conference. He devotes his time to traveling about the country organizing the farmers for good roads.

PASSES FOR EMPLOYEES.

Railroads cannot deprive employees of their families of passes after January 1, 1914, regardless of the new public utilities act, is the opinion of every railroad man regarding the proposed law.

WANTS VINDICATION.

In the last issue of your paper my attention was called to an article by one Raymond Hager regarding my wife and daughter put under bonds for the peace. This was a queer story.

Progress camp number 226, Modern Woodmen of America, the Woodstock lodge of this order, had its meeting last night.

Hunters Must Have Permits. It is unnecessary for farmers to post notice on their premises, warning hunters to keep off. The game law provides that hunting on farms, along streams on farms, or on water in or along them, is trespassing, and anybody found guilty of the same shall be fined not less than $20 nor more than $100.

NEWS OF THE FARM AND DAIRY

Notes of Comment and Interest to Local Agriculturalists and Milk Producers.

J. F. Readhimer, soil expert of Kane county, began a short course in agriculture at the Elgin academy Monday night.

The National Milk Floor company at Gilbertha has been reorganized with Paul J. Patton of Palatine as secretary and C. H. Parker as treasurer.

The Sherman house, Chicago, corner Clark and Dearborn streets, which has been the host to four of the Milk Producers' meetings, will probably be selected as the meeting place of the 1914 convention. This promises to be one of the most interesting meetings in the history of the association, and it is hoped that every member of the association who can will be present.

A record of the prices at which animals were sold at five leading Holstein Friesian sales, kept by a member of the dairy department, University of Illinois, shows that 157 non-record cows placed at auction brought an average of $288 per head. At the same sale 171 cows with practically the same breeding, but possessing official records brought $465 per head, making a difference of $177 per head in favor of the cow with official records. One hundred and eighty-four heifers, whose dams had no official records, sold at an average price of $200 per head. One hundred and thirty-three heifers, whose dams possessed official records, sold at an average price of $341 per head, thus making $141 per head in favor of the heifers from dams with official records. This shows conclusively the advantage of keeping official records of cows.

Underground New York.

New York's underground population is sufficient to make a city of considerable proportions, for according to the best obtainable statistics, about 80,000 persons in New York City spend their entire working hours beneath the surface of the earth. These figures include employes of systems of subways now in operation, and the large crew driving that wonderful aqueduct throughout the island of Manhattan and over into Long Island to carry the waters that are being brought down by siphon from the Catskill mountains. Thousands are also employed at other work.

Astor's Presence of Mind.

When something goes wrong on the stage the clever and experienced actor can always save the situation by making an ad lib. An old hand at the time like that, "Die, villain!" the hero said, and shot off his revolver at the villain's head. But the gun didn't go off. Six times the hero pulled the trigger, and not a single explosion took place. The audience was getting hysterical, when the villain struck an attitude and said: "Your pistol has missed fire. Mr. Reginald, but what difference does it make? The thought that I was to be shot has frightened me to death!" and he rolled over and died.

Luck.

Luck is what enables a man to jump from the frying pan into the fire and get the fire out.

Classics in Old Play.

Now that we come to think of it, Bartley Campbell's great melodrama, "The White Slave," which a grand jury never went to see, wasn't a regular white slave play at all. But it did contain two classics: "Strike, Death is welcome!" and "Taps are royal salute when worn for virtue's sake!"—New York Press.

Donald Blair, Lake County's Soil Expert.

The Lake county board of supervisors, in session at Waukegan, Tuesday appropriated $2,000, conditionally, to assist in supporting the Lake County Soil Improvement association. The condition of the appropriation is that $5,000 be raised from outside source, and as it is believed, this will be a comparatively easy matter, there is little doubt that the soil association will become a permanent institution.

Donald Blair, who has been employed as the county's soil expert for several months, will likely become the permanent head of this new bureau of farm education. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, where he took an eight-year course in agriculture and allied branches and where later for two years he officiated as student assistant. He also has been in charge of experiment station work for the University of Washington. For the last five years Mr. Blair has been at the head of the agronomy department of the English plant breeding bureau of Garton Brothers. His work, in which he has had a deep impression, is at the service of every tiller of the soil.

The members of the church may well be proud of the appreciation of their zeal in keeping their father's religion and language, as the gift is only conferred after strict investigation on rare occasions.

HOWARD.

"The Traffic," the dramatic exposure of white slavery, a drama in four acts by Richard Marshall and Oliver Halley, has shocked and puzzled all Chicago with its frank audacity and its splendidly truthful message. Packed houses and enthusiastic people assure the amazing success of this unique play. With one accord the critics of Chicago acclaimed it and, in spite of its daring revelations, the police of the big city have sanctioned its continuance. It is causing more comment, more interest than any play of the season. Those who have witnessed "The Traffic" as it is being presented at Howard's theatre, Chicago, agree upon the excellence of the acting and the perfection of the staging. Nana Bryson, the beautiful young leading woman, has won for herself a home in the hearts of Chicago playgoers, and John Livingston, who impersonates Ljvingstone, the most desirable character on the stage, has won golden plaudits from all auditors. The great cast includes, Claire Sinclair, Laura Adams, Clifford Thompson, Lois Bolton, Desale Sankey and other sterling players. It is now sure of a long run at Howard's theatre.

When these are right and the price is fair—then you get good value for your money. And that is the basis upon which we select our entire garment stock. The material must be dependable—the style the best designers can devise—the workmanship and finish must be careful and thorough. That is why so many of the women in this community come to us for real value in coats.

The Flying Man
Harry Irving Greene

The Lash of Circumstance
"Barbara of the Snow"

Copyright, 1922, by Harry Irving Greene

SYNOPSIS.

Professor Desmond of the Peak observed the country as he approached...

"You pup," grunted North from his chair. All undisturbed, March continued meditatively...

fire on him--you should have heard those peep echoes come back at you. He was so far ahead that it was merely wasting ammunition to shoot...

"Come on, come all. This rock shall fly." From his firm base as soon as I got up...

It was no bird. Then from Lode City, not far from Quartzville, there also came a rumor. An old man awakened at the squall of his pig...

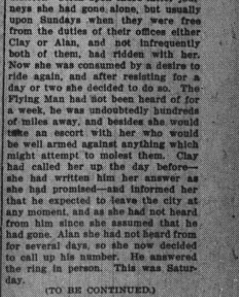

could lay his hands on and hurried to him. "Please take them," she panted. "Please take them--one can never tell when such things will be needed. It is almost nothing--just a couple of sandwiches and a small flask of brandy. Now go, and the blessings of humanity go with you..."

In the common belief that the past had at last departed them for good, the people of the city of his first appearance more gradually resumed their normal lives. One could not go about forever with his eyes up in the air without finding the bodies that lay beneath his feet...

CHAPTER X.

The Surprise.

News came back of the safe arrival of the aeroplane at Dentonville, but it caused an exasperating dearth of information...

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Russian Suppers. The number of Russian suppers in Legion, but some of them are not without symbolic value. A man's wedding ring is of gold, but is made of iron...

Going Down. "This high cost-of-living problem is getting to be something terrible," observed the editor of a newspaper...

Flies to de Barn, and Locks Myself Inside."

he could work by night altogether if he so chose and since the feeblest planes could not catch him by daylight even when they had him in full view...

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION IN WESTERN CANADA

THE LATEST METHODS ADOPTED BY THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGES.

Scientific farming can be pursued with more profit and advantage in Western Canada, probably than in any other portion of the continent.

The Dominion government showed its paternalistic regard when it established experimental farms in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

The Province of Manitoba is supplementing this work by its excellent agricultural college, manned by professors of the highest standing.

The Province of Saskatchewan, in connection with its university an agricultural college and is doing today in the matter of education what will be felt for all time to come.

The same may be said of Alberta. The university at Edmonton has a complete agricultural college.

"We of the United States think that we know how to get the best out of agriculture and stock, but the Canadians do to do even more than we do in this respect."

"Canadians are putting great faith in education for the development of their resources—the old education, both vocational and technical.

"O, you can't please a woman," he said, indignantly; "it's no use trying."

"What's happened now?" "I met that pretty Miss Sweet in a dark hallway and kissed her. I didn't think about it, you know."

"Why then she really was very angry." "Short Division." "Fudge! I married, if I get a best man, I'll get a best man."

GOOD WINTER COSTUME

NOTHING MORE APPROPRIATE THAN THE CORDUROY.

Combination of the Plain Material and Velvet is Perhaps the Favorite.

Illustration Shows an Effective Model.

There is always something extremely substantial in corduroys. They have a certain rough style of their own, and for winter costumes possess two appropriate qualities—warmth and durability.

Quite the latest idea is introduced in suits that show a combination of the plain and corduroy velvet. Usually the corduroy is used for the skirt.

CASE OF MAN'S INGRATITUDE

Woman Certainly Had Poor Reward for Her Act of Generous Self-Sacrifice.

George R. McCallan, former mayor of New York, was talking about Thanksgiving.

"The day," he said, "is a good one for a holiday—a good one, for a visit to the seneschal."

"They were quarrelling. Their voices grew louder and fiercer. Finally the man gave the woman a push that actually knocked her down."

"And this is what I get, it for me! The fly screens to give you a day off!"

A darky employer who was talking to work on morning with a face that looked as though it had been run through a mangle.

"Well, ash, boss," explained Henry, "I got into a little argument last night with another negro, and one thing led to another."

"The Knocker." After God had finished the rattlesnake, the food and the vampire, he had some awful substance left, which he made a knocker.

"O, you can't please a woman," he said, indignantly; "it's no use trying."

"Why don't you let it rain, too?" asked a voice from the rocks.

"Nothing is more satisfying to the heart than to see the knowledge that she is looking for."

BIZARRE STYLE OF FOOTWEAR

Parisienne Has Enthusiastically Adopted Style That Might Well Be Denominated Privolous.

All feminine Paris is enthralled at present over bizarre, eccentric slippers that would not be worn in America.

One model which has been popular at the French races this autumn is that of white or light-colored, fastening over the instep with a strap.

PAYING LESS FOR DRESSES

One Thing That the Woman of Today Has Some Reason to Be Thankful For.

Grace Margaret Gould, fashion editor of the Woman's Home Companion, writes "One point that the material requires for one dress eight years ago will make two costumes and a blouse."

"The sleeping line of closing in front laps well over the left side below the bust and in the lower part of the coat continues in rounded cutaway effect with an eight-inch shaped, facing of self-material.

"In these days, when the cost of living is so constant on the increase and so fashionable are regarded as extravagant in the extreme, it is interesting to stop and look back a bit.

"When we have paid more than we have ever paid before for most of the necessities of life let us be thankful that we are not paid any less for our dresses."

KEEP THE HANDS YOUTHFUL

Swollen Veins or Enlarged Knuckles May Be Avoided if One Will Only Take a Little Pain.

There is nothing that will mar the youthfulness of your hands so quickly as swollen veins or enlarged knuckles.

LEFT THE COLONEL THINKING

Probably After This He Made Some Inquiries Before He Gave Up His Money.

A certain old colonel was noted for his great generosity. He had lost an arm during one of the engagements in which he had seen service, and this made him very sympathetic to

"While walking on his estate one day he met an old negro man, evidently in abject poverty."

"Ah," replied the old man, "and the year? Colonel, I have spent a great part of my life in government's service, and seen a lot of hard work."

"My poor man!" exclaimed the kind hearted colonel, as he pushed a half dollar into the old man's hand.

Croup and Cough Remedy.
Croup is a terrible disease, it attacks children so suddenly they are very apt to choke unless given the proper remedy at once. There is nothing better in the world than Dr. King's New Discovery. Lewis Chamberlain, of Winchester, Ohio, writes about his children: "Sometimes in severe attacks we were afraid they would die, but since we proved that a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on Dr. King's cough and cold." So can you.
