NEWS OF THE FARM AND DAIRY

Notes of Comment and Interest to Local Agriculturalists and Milk Producers.

From surrounding villages and farming communities comes reports of many interesting and instructive farmers' institute meetings. Barrington has, in former years, had one or more such meetings; why has it not been so favored this year? Deserved Better Audience.

The eighteen boys who are members of the high school band were quite disappointed at the attendance at their concert in the high school assembly room last Thursday evening. Any sum which might have been realized would have been spent for articles to be used in connection with the manual training course, but there was no surplus for the few dollars taken in at the door had to be used in meeting a few expenses incurred. These young fellows should be better patronized as they play well and are earnestly trying to perfect their work so that they may further amuse the public.

A program of twelve numbers was given. The first, public appearance of the junior boys band around considerable interest in the audience. The fifteen, or so, small boys from ten to twelve years old produced a great amount of harmonious sound and the time was splendid for such young lads to take in a few months training. Walter Sears directed the concert.

"TRIP AROUND THE WORLD"

Novel and interesting Baptist Entertainment Friday Evening Was Well Patronized.

About 125 Barrington citizens went "abroad" last Friday night for 25 cents on a trip arranged by the Young People's Social Union of the Baptist church. They visited four countries and traveled in four parties, sailing on the "Callow motor truck line," with Arnold Lines and Ray Logans as co-travelers, and so genuinely a good time was had that the tourists are still talking of "when I was in Europe."

The church basement was converted into a depot with American features such as a pie and coffee counter with Walter Banks, Edward Smith and Ralph Winegar as chefs, a candy booth managed by the Misses Catlow and Mabel Peck, a fortune teller, Mrs. Emily Hawley, and last but not least, a general factotum in the person of "Jim Powers," who called trains, checked baggage, etc. Some of the church ladies, among them Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Winegar and Mrs. Tuttle, arrived in costumes depicting old travelers with fearsome articles of baggage in check.

The first landing was "Kendall county," Ireland, where the home of the hostess had been transformed into the Emerald Isle in every green way imaginable; where Irish stew was served by three Irish beauties in green and white costumes. Mrs. Peck and Miss Elmore Arpa, after entrance was granted at the door by a formidable "cop" with a tin star as big as a shield, who was only the mild and genial Tom Cress, then recognized. A little old apple woman, who looked like Mrs. Jennie Olekian, pleaded for patronage.

"Die Vaterland" was reproduced at Mrs. Albert Robertson's and was made especially interesting by the exhibition of German curios from the large and wonderful collection of George Froelich, Sr. Mrs. F. T. Savers and the hostess, as "Franklin" offered a Dutch lunch of frankfurts, rye bread and coffee.

A Persian "bally-hoo" man met the excursionists at the Holy Lands, as the new vehicle sheds in the Baptist church yard, and graciously hailed. He wore a red turban and a flowing robe and but for his loud voiced advertising of his show might have resembled the dignified Baptist minister.

Rev. G. E. Lookhart. The stable of the birth place of the Christ child was presented here with the aid of someone's cow, a famous local jenny and its offspring which kept escaping from the show, interrupting the historical lecture being given by the Persians.

The home of Miss Viola Lines was a veritable Japanese bower of pink tissue cherries, blossoms and chrysanthemums with seemingly real Gaiusa girls, who live among us as Mrs. Arnold Lines, Misses Viola Lines, Myrtle Plagge and Margaret Boehmer, in very pretty "Japan-ese" clothes. They served the travelers with tea, who in the absence of all seats were obliged to crowd on the floor. It was done in the Orient, much to the extreme discomfort of the "heavy weight."

It takes time and energy to make a success of such an affair and those working in its promotion are very glad of the result.
