Washington—The president and Secretary of State Bryan have learned if then never knew before, that the Japanese people do not like the Americans. Members of congress do not regard it as, at all likely that Califorhis's attitude towards the ownership of land in that state by the Japanese will bring on a war between Japan and the United States, but from what members of both houses say it is known they do believe that it California goes to the extent which she promises to go in forbidding ownership of her land by the Japanese ship of her land by the Japanese ship of her land by the Japanese with the Japanese with the Japanese that possibly may be disactions.

Seemingly there is little chance for a long time that matters will come to an issue between this country and the oriental power. In all seriousness, with jingoism entirely spart and with every allowance made for the promptings of the military spirit of American soldiers and sallors, it is feit by officers here that unless something can be done to stop the constantly excurring causes for friction, one day matters will come to an issue which ought to be avoided.

If the Japanese people do not understand the Binitations of federal power in this country, it is not because their government has not explained it to them. When California began to start trovels for the United States five years ago, by trying to make race distinctions in its public schools, the Japanese government told its proposed to the Japanese powernment told its proposed to the Japanese powernment told the proposed of the Japanese powernment told the trouble was allayed it was said that the ranks of the Japanese understood all that their government had told them, and were augry only at California. Now the administration is being told that the Japanese people do not understand the states' right theory of government, and that they hold Washington responsible for everything that California or any other states does ambissandor Chindson that the people of Japan contails of the government circles are in an ugly mood toward the United States, but he did not have to give the information, for the administration knows it through other Japan whipped Russia soundly, and Treasury McAdoo, and Senator Owes, chairman of the senate's new committee on banking and surreasy, have held several conference on the maiter of currency reform. Several of the more conservative Democrats in the upper house have told the president that the promise given him by some of their colleagues that the tariff hill will go through the season of the trought the season before September, and this means he thinks that there will be a protracted debate in the upper house on many of the provisions of the bill in addition to those affecting wool and segar, upon which discussion is foreordained to be long drawn out.

It seems likely that the conservative Democrats may be unwittingly overstating the case when they talk should be the trought of the season slighted concerning currency reform the trought to be made chairman. He fully expects to be and he has a currency reform the ready to present.

Bome of the Democrats say that Mr. Glass has not had experience enough to fit him for the chairmanship of this important committee. He may be a suffered to the thin for the chairmanship of this important committee, and the control of the suffered to the say, which the inquisitors secured. Mr. Stephens of Texas wants to be chairman of banking and currency, and there is something more than a whisper that the leaders are rather inclined to the proposal to do him special honor.

For days the representatives of the financial interests of the country, to say nothing of the representative of its legislative interest, have Jeen trying to find out at the White house what Mr. Wilson mean in this "aire" is the congress when he are the date for which interest of the country reform. "Later" might mean towner or reform. "Later" might mean towner or part week, next month or next year. Mr. Wilson thus far has declined to set the date for which "later" stands.

It may be that currency reform will be discussed by the house, following a message from the president, while it has enought in the senate is disgoogling with the tartiff, but it this is to happen it will be a condition directly counter to that which Mr. Wilson intimated ought not to a rise.

If the tariff bill goes through both It has tariff, but that it had be a condition directly counter to that which Mr. Wilson intimated ought not to a series and the stands and the stands and the same in this which Mr. Wilson intimated ought not to a series and the same that the surface of the tartiff that the tartiff the tartiff that the tartiff that the tartiff that the tartiff the them is the same them in the same that the mr. If the tariff bill goes through both houses fairly quickly, and currency reform can be disposed of by August 1, the chances are that the Democratic will get two the big problems solved to the titisfaction by the beginning of the second summer month. May Let Tariff Side.

If the word is true which the president has received from the progressive Democrats that his party in the upper house stands ready to put through his tariff bill as he wants it put through his tariff bill as he wants it put through his tariff bill as he wants it put through the manager of delay in, the passage of the measures with the progressive Democrats that find the measure of the publicans seemingly finding the second of the true of the publicans seemingly finding the proceeding the proceeding the publicans are tariff at great length. They talked themselves out on it through two or three sessions, but this is not the real reason for their sparent intention to let the legislation alide through without much opposition this year. They know that talk will be futtle, and moreover by a combination with the progressive Republicans and possibly a few conservatives Democrats, they can do nothing except possibly to modify some of the reductions which have been made in the Underwood bill.

Some of the progressive Republicans in the seands, it is said, are ready

Some of the progressive Republicans in the senate, it is said, are ready to try to effect some compromises with the Democrati.
