ANNOUNCEMENT.

With this issue of this paper I again assume the duties of editor and publisher. It is my desire as owner to direct the policies of the paper, which is well known to you, and find that I can better do this by being in full charge.

L. B. Paddock, who has edited the paper during the past year, is a capable and worthy young man who has my best wishes. M. T. LANEY.

TUBERCULOSIS A SOCIAL AND PUBLIC HEALTH MALADY.

Tuberculosis is a problem of importance to the rural community as well as to the people of the city, and bovine tuberculosis is a real menace to public health and we should work untiringly to secure the enactment of laws protecting the people from this danger.

Tuberculosis is a social and public health malady of the utmost importance and in which the entire citizenship is concerned, a problem the solution of which must appeal to the co-operation of the sociologist, the economist, the physician, the manufacturer, the farmer, the teacher and the preacher, as well as to the state, county and municipal health authorities, to the end that we may secure definite and attainable reform measures, a lessening of the ravages of the disease and its ultimate eradication.

THE SEASON'S GREETINGS.

Christmas day comes next week and the REVIEW wishes a happy day may be granted to all its subscribers and to all our citizens. May each home be visited by a Good Angel who will obliterate from the hearts and minds of those living therein all bitterness towards the world for sorrows suffered or disappointments known. And in the midst of the preparation of gifts for those we love and the planning of pleasures for the day, may we all give thought to the true meaning of Christmas as the birthday of Christ who brings that love, kindness, charity, generosity and temperance in all things may fill our lives instead of petty acts and thoughts, gossip, miseries and greed.

SOCIETY AGAINST USELESS GIVING.

The people of this village are members of the "Society for the Prevention of Useless Giving." We are in general practical. We give for Christmas presents useful things, such as are always more "blessed to receive" than frivolous trinkets. Our local merchants have filled their stores for the Christmas season with hundreds of articles, attractive and sensible.

There are five more shopping days before Christmas. Visit the home stores. Be a "S. P. U. G." and buy liberally, but wisely.
