Announcement Programs of Farm and Home Week at Urbana, January 15-19
 "Breeding and management," and "Dairy products," will also be given. This latter course will cover the manufacture of butter and ripened cheese, ice cream, chocolate milk drinks, butter milk, and home cream. A lecture and contest will be held again this year.
 Farm and Home Week is exactly what the title suggests, a short course for the entire family. Many farm women take some of the regular agricultural courses offered in poultry, dairy, and horticulture. The best of the farm women, however, is the annual homemaker's conference Wednesday and Thursday. Preceding and following the conference special courses will be available in food, nutrition, home management, and child rearing.
 The horticultural department will offer three courses during the week: "Flowers for the farm home," "Home Vegetable Gardening," and "Apple Production."
 The evening programs will be devoted to entertainment and recreation, a program of athletic events is planned for Monday evening. Tuesday evening, the "Ladies' Club" presents a play, "The House of the Seven Gables," by Mrs. C. A. Elmer.
 "In honor of the farm home," "Home and Garden," will be the theme of the program. "An hour in a schoolroom" Wednesday evening will be devoted to entertainment and recreation.
 "Infants and children up to five years of age are eligible."
 "A sufficiently large number of mothers come for advice, the work of the clinic will proceed and the visiting nurse will spend one day a month advising mothers at their homes in addition to her work at the clinic. The response of the community will determine the service given during the week at the Cook county bureau of public welfare."

Barrington Hills
 One of the latest New Year's parties was that of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mowbray. It was not only given for all their Barrington friends but for their friends in Evanston as well. Good dance music was furnished by an accordion party. Nearby at the Robert Bucklers, another party was in full swing. After eating a delicious dinner and seeing the New Year in by dancing and songs, the guests joined the Mowbrays party.
 Mrs. Cecil Wilms who moved back to Barrington before Christmas had with another party. And the Harold Byron Smiths also celebrated with a group of their friends.
 Mrs. John Douglas of Florida arrived Friday to spend several weeks with her daughter Mrs. Harry Clark. Mrs. Sestina Douglas spent New Year's day at Madison, Wis., but expects to spend several days in town with her mother and sister before going back to her studies at Berkeley.
 It seems that the Stanford Winter people are coming to Chicago. They spent one week in the Lawrence Hallberg house and now they have taken a house in the village until it is time for their two daughters to return to Kenner hall and Nancy and Chuck to go back to their studies at Berkeley.

Moons of Planets
 Jupiter has four large and five small satellites; Saturn has ten, while Mars has but two. Each of the planets may have moons not yet identified. One of the first discoveries made by Galileo with his crude telescope, early in the seventeenth century, was that Jupiter had four moons. When Galileo reported his discovery few people believed it. One scientist refused to even look through Galileo's scope. He died soon after and Galileo remained that he hoped this skeptic had those moons on his way to heaven. It was not until three centuries later, in 1832, that the other moons of Jupiter were found. Huygens, the Dutch astronomer, discovered the first of Saturn's moons, in 1656, while the tenth was found in 1907. Nearly all the discoveries of these small moons have been made in the United States, as we possess the largest telescopes—Parrish's

Speaker's Talk on "What Shall I Eat"
 Creates Hunger
 Mrs. Carroll Makes Mouths Water As She Discusses Essentials of Diet
 In spite of his being the post-holiday season, most of the audience went away with an appetite after hearing Mrs. John H. Carroll's review of "What Shall I Eat?" at the Barrington Women's club meeting held at the Methodist church last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Carroll is the "Mary Dinsmore" of the home science department of Loyd Tech university.
 "What Shall I Eat?" is a light book, very readable and interesting reading for the layman, was published by Miss Edith M. Barber, a Philadelphia girl of prominent family who is a leader in professional work and is a free lance home economist writer.
 In summarizing the book Mrs. Carroll said: "A general knowledge of the essentials and the use of common sense are necessary factors in the selection of a diet. I have determined the nutritive values of food, and the nutritive value is really intended in the subject."
 It is very emphatic that we will ever consume our own food but we will have a little of something else. We will have a small bill. "Though this might be possible, it would destroy the dinner table sociability that means so much to most of us. Food made at one of the best of homes, is very simple once the, and for each person each day. (1) one cup of milk for the adult, a quart for the child, (2) one egg, (3) one serving of meat or vegetable, (4) three servings of bread, one potato, one fruit and one nut, and (5) one serving of fruit, one vitamin.
 "Dietary deficiencies have been reported in various parts of the country and in different countries. It is not easy to find a diet that meets the needs of all people by reason of the varying habits of eating and drinking habits and methods of eating."
 "Food liver oil used to be a spring remedy for children, they were made fat, and is now used by the doctor, being so rich that it was formerly taken during the winter months when the body does not get enough sunshine. There are a few new foods which are made with vitamin D. If we are able to have an abundance of all these vitamins, about some of which there is still little known, we will be able to live longer and be more productive."
 "Minerals in foods are important in that they help assimilate other foods and study the action of minerals is necessary in the functioning of the glands. Copper, which is found in most foods that contain iron, has been found to be important in building up the blood."
 "One of the most necessary of minerals is iodine. Iodine is the most popular by far is iodine."
 In the past few years food manufacturers have changed a great deal. Men are about the same except for a few changes, which need to be kept up. Evidently he has found other ways in which to show his wealth. The measurements of a "plummy" woman of today are parallel to those of the "thin" woman of yesterday. The lighter, simpler foods that we use today improve the health as well as the figure.
 "For those who wish to take off weight there should be a reduction of the whole intake rather than having an entirely new food. Whatever your diet may be, though, do not make it a subject for dinner table discussion. After all, it is a private matter."
 It is now definitely proved that there is good food value in flax seed. These foods are obtained in better condition when factory cannot than when taken care of in the home. This is true because the factory is usually close to the field, and the product can be ripened almost "perfectly."
 Among the "Authors I have known," Mrs. Carroll mentioned Mary Meath, graduate of Ames, as one of the original recognized writers. President Taft was a very devoted admirer of the Caroline King, of Country Gentleman, one of the best liked. J. B. Conner of the others mentioned were Alice Bradley of the Women's Home Companion, and Ann Patterson and Betty Crocker of radio fame.
 Chicago Doctor to Discuss "Choice of a Career" at Local School Wednesday
 Dr. H. K. Packard of Chicago will speak at Barrington junior and senior high school students on the subject, "The Choice of a Career," at a special assembly program to be held in the school auditorium at 1:45 p. m. Wednesday, Dr. Packard, who is well known here by the Chicago Medical Association, is reported to be well qualified to discuss the important question of the choosing of a career. He is especially anxious to tell the advantages of the medical profession but his broad contact with people of many different occupations enables him to cover his topic thoroughly. It is announced, Parents and others interested in the program have been invited to attend.
