

LAKE ZURICH REVIEW

Suggest Seed Mixtures to Be Used in AAA Acres

With probably a hundred farms in the choice from Illinois farmers taking part in the AAA contest, and wheat adjustment programs have a singular opportunity to restore some of their old permanent pastures or seed new ones, on the AAA acres.

Mr. J. P. Pieper, associate chief of the crop production of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. At least 25 of these acres are used more or less commonly in the state.

To make the most of these opportunities farmers must select the ingredients for their pasture mixtures that are best adapted to the soil and that at the same time fit the needs of the grower.

Kentucky bluegrass is one of the most popular for pastures, explained Mr. Pieper, and is adapted to the better soils somewhat inclined to be sandy. Timothy has a wide adaptation for fertility and drainage in all parts of Illinois, while red clover is a favorite on poor acid soil and has found where other grasses find it difficult to get a stand.

White clover is the most important permanent pasture legume but will not do well on poor soil. It also will grow where it is too wet and acid for alfalfa, sweet or red clover.

In the southern two-thirds of the state where the soil may be calcareous in pasture mixtures on soils too acid for alfalfa clover.

List Criticisms of New State Auto Licenses

Much of the delay in getting out the 1934 auto license plates has been due to the failure of applicants to send in their fifty cents for a certificate of ownership, as provided for by the law passed at the last regular session of the Legislature. It was reported.

This law was passed to reduce auto thefts in Chicago, where they are reported to be eight times higher than in Milwaukee.

Before the title law went into effect, however, a special auto license court was set up in Chicago to deal with this type of theft and the rule that "anybody has a right to steal one car without being caught by a policeman" was set aside. Courts had been paroling all first offenders. This new court has cut out auto thefts in Chicago by fifty per cent, more than was expected of the title registration law.

Another reason for the delay is that $50,000 worth of mechanical devices purchased by the state for a few years ago to handle license tags has been scrapped. Entirely new devices have been installed at a reported cost of $75,000 and without time to handle the work. Aids of the secretary of state, however, have been unable to operate the devices and an expert has now been called in.

Considerable complaint that the license plates, made in Juliet prison, are cracking within thirty days after being exposed to the weather, was reported. A new grade of enamel is said to have been used as an economy measure to make up, in a way, for the $75,000 spent for other devices to replace the $50,000 worth which was scrapped after only two years use.

MILLER BROS. FUN & FACTS

Vol. 6 Barrington, Illinois, Thursday, March 15, 1934 NO. 11

A little boy, according to a friend of ours, stumbled over a pile of empty tin cans on his first visit to the country. He examined them; discovered they were old condensed milk cans and called, "Daddy, come quick, I've found a cow's nest."

Sometimes it's lots easier to step to the telephone and ask for 225 than it is to come down here after things. That's the reason we had our telephone put in. Just ask for 225 and central will connect you with us.

Turn about is fair play. You help us dig up some jokes for our Fun & Facts column and we'll help you with your Farm & Home problems.

Today is the day! - Friday, March 16. Our Hardware and Farm Implement Power Farming day. Drop everything and head this way. Come early and make a day of it. Lunch at noon.
