wouldn't buy those eyes

Yet in two out of three homes, children's eyes probably suffer from the wrong kind of lighting. Don't delay. Send today for our free light test. It measures accurately every light in your home.

HOW about the lamp by which your child reads? Does it give enough light? Does the light strike the printed page at the right angle? Is it free from the glare that works such havoc with eyes? Experts estimate that in nine out of ten homes, some member of the family suffers from the wrong kind of lighting. Perhaps it's mother who is squinting because the lining of her reading lamp is too dark. Or the home may be so deficient in attractive, hospitable light that the young members of the family hate to stay home. Or father may be paying for light that is wasted through lack of the right kind of fixtures.

ing the kind of light their lamps give. And so night after night eyes struggle on with danger of permanent injury. How to get it In the last few years some wonderful discoveries have been made about proper lighting. Lighting engineers have found that just by changing the position of shades, by raising or lowering the height of bulbs, and by designing a special kind of "light reflecting" shade, these handicaps to eyesight are completely overcome.

What correct lighting is
To protect eyes, you should have from 20 to 30 foot-candles of light falling on the printed page. It should be properly diffused with no glare, no deep shadows, no contrasts to cause eyes to change focus frequently. Under such lighting, eye tension is relieved. Your body relaxes. Your nerves relax, too. Most women would be glad to give their families the benefit of safe lighting; to protect the eyesight of their children. But they have no way of measur-
