

TANGLED WIVES

Peggy Shaw

TENTH INSTALLMENT

George Mortimer reached his car, unlocked the door, could not open it. He tried the open window and seized the wheel by the collar. He looked slowly toward the car. He had a look of surprise on his face. He had been trying to drag him out of the window.

He was startled. The car was dark in first speed, was waiting straight for a deep ditch, and his hands were tugging at the wheel.

He would only get away. The car would fall over.

He thought came to an abrupt halt. He stood upright, and looked himself at the wheel.

He turned toward them.

Rocky straightened himself. He was all right, then. Mortimer had struck against the car. He was limp now.

He got out of the car and opened the door. Mortimer lay with his head against the door. Rocky looked at the man with a look of surprise.

He got out of the car, and he looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

They Kissed. Rocky Knew Now. She Did Love Him.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

CHAPTER XII

HE SAT down beside her and he put his hands in his. His eyes were full of an anguish that swept her instantly.

"Rocky," she said, trying to rally against the waves of depression that came from him. "Didn't you hear what I said about not being Diane Merril?"

"There's not a doubt that you're Diane Merril!"

He looked at her with all her hopes was too much. The man in the cab had said she wasn't. But she could not help herself. She was sure that she was Diane Merril.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

"You mean they still love—Diane Merril?"

"Yes. And they don't believe you did it."

"But—the papers say—"

"Yes. The evidence is all against you. The Valery family will do everything in their power—to convict you."

"Why does my family think I am innocent?"

Rocky looked down at her fingers. They were cold. He held them in his hands. Only because—they love you—the same reason that I believe."

"Their eyes held. Out of the black terrible depths Doris felt waves of light and joy bearing her upward. Rocky loved her. His face touched hers with a dramatic closeness. Everything else was shut away. He loved her. "Think, darling Doris, I love you. I've always loved you. Don't be unhappy. Let me take care of you—always."

Rocky was speaking like that. He loved her. He had always loved her. She had not known so happy.

"But Rocky—"

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her. He looked at her.

Cuba Township

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Pederson of Chicago, were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Pitt of Shady Hill.

Two hundred couples attended the dance Saturday evening at Grove and North avenues, Chicago, given by the Shady Hill improvement club, the proceeds of which will be used for the betterment of their subdivision. A seven piece orchestra furnished the music for dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Pitt, Lucille Claude, Otto Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olmstead attended from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kelsey, Mrs. Joseph Brandt and granddaughter Crystal Brandt returned to Chicago Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller and nephew Albert Woodland called on Mrs. Henry Gilly Sunday. Mrs. Gilly is somewhat improved in health.

Mrs. Frank Basman and daughter Elaine, Maren and Betty enjoyed a walk from Cary to the home of Mrs. Frank Lagache Saturday.

Mrs. Harold Kelsey and children Roland and Phyllis, Mrs. Ella Kelsey and daughter Mildred motored to Woodstock Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Krien and baby of Elgin and Mrs. Tilly Krien of Carpentersville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gossett of Marengo spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. William Hilde.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lagache visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis of Algonquin.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lynd, Mr. and Mrs. George Duke and Helen McGraw of Chicago and Mrs. Charlotte McGraw were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hiley.

Mrs. John Jacobson spent the weekend with Chicago relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kelsey and children Roland and Phyllis visited

Word "Laboratory"

The word "laboratory" comes from a still longer Latin word, being a contraction of a word meaning "to work out fully and completely, to elaborate."

The Word "Laboratory"

The word "laboratory" comes from a still longer Latin word, being a contraction of a word meaning "to work out fully and completely, to elaborate."

Loans and Investments

Local Finance Company Offers Complete Financing Services

INCLUDING LOANS, SAVINGS AND INVESTMENTS

THE FIRST NATIONAL SECURITIES CO.

(Capital $100,000.00)

OFFERS:

- A—Loans for Home Financing
Loans made on good properties in conservative amounts on a systematic reduction plan. Ask for details.
- B—Combination Savings and Investment Plan
The Securities Company offers its debenture notes for those seeking safe investments. These notes are the general obligation of the Securities Company and are backed by its entire assets. They will pay the investor 5% interest payable semi-annually, and may be purchased in multiples of $100 and up, maturing in five to ten years at the selection of the purchaser. Similar notes have been in existence through the past three years of drastic deflation, and have all been paid without interruption in interest payments or loss to any investor—a record which in itself recommends them to you as a conservative and safe investment. These notes may be purchased on a long-term systematic savings plan—purchaser may pay as little as $1 per week on each $100 note. They may also be bought and paid for in full.
- C—Conservative Mortgages
Investors seeking an opportunity to invest in sound mortgages may find their requirements fully taken care of by conservative mortgages yielding attractive rates of interest. Inquire for information.

THE LOCAL SECURITIES COMPANY OFFERS BARRINGTON AND THE SURROUNDING COMMUNITY A SAFE PLACE FOR SAVINGS AND INVESTMENTS AS WELL AS FACILITIES FOR SUPPLYING FUNDS FOR HOME FINANCING

FIRST NATIONAL SECURITIES CO.

104 SOUTH COOK STREET BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS Located in the First National Bank Building

FOR THAT

Bilious Headache

Thousands of people who formerly suffered from irritable headaches, bad breath, stomach agony, belching and constipation, thank Vigo for the satisfying relief it has brought them. Try Vigo for that bilious headache.

FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES

We'll lend you an ELECTRIC IRONER for 10 days

Try it in your own home—then decide whether you want to keep it

Maybe you've longed for an electric ironer but you can't quite spare about how much help it will be. If so, here is our proposition. We'll lend you an electric ironer, send it to your home and let you try it for 10 days. And we'll send an expert to show you how to use it. She'll demonstrate how you can iron everything in the wash in about half the time—sitting down. You'll be surprised how easy it is to catch on—and be delighted at how much better your clothes are finished. Take advantage of this offer while it lasts. Get in touch with your Public Service Store.

How Electric Ironer, Model 29-D
Irones everything in the wash in half the time while you sit down. Now $49.50
With detachable wood table top for $25.00 extra.
$3 extra for detachable porcelain top for $75.00 extra.

Conlon Electric Ironer, Model B
Has both knee and finger control. Now $59.50
Hinged porcelain table top available at small extra cost. $2.50 Down

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

MANY OTHER LOCAL DEALERS ARE ALSO SELLING ELECTRIC IRONERS

YOUR "LIGHT BILL"
Once a month a meter reader calls at your home and reads your electric meter. A few days later a bill comes covering the electricity used in the preceding 30 days. Most people call it their "light bill." As a matter of fact, it's much more than that. Electricity does much more than illuminate the average home; it sweeps rugs, runs a radio, washes and irons clothes. It makes toast, bakes waffles, warms up stinky corners. Often it provides beautiful refrigeration, mixes food, ventilates the kitchen, tells accurate time. Electric service makes homes more comfortable for the whole family. It makes home chores easier for the homemaker. And its cost is but a small item in the home budget.

Classified Ads Bring Results

Classified Ads Bring Results