Trustees Lay Out Streets Eligible for Gas Tax Aid

Trustees probably First to be Improved From Fuel Tax Funds

Trustees of the village of Barrington have laid out the streets eligible for gas tax aid from the state. The streets are: Main, Broadway, and Washington. The trustees will also lay out the streets eligible for aid from the village fund.

15 Candidates in Race for Village Elective Offices

Ten candidates for three positions on the board of trustees and three candidates for the position of village clerk will engage the attention of local voters between the present time and election day, April 17. Two candidates for library trustees will be without competition.

Tuesday of this week was the final day for filing nomination papers. Seventeen persons took out papers, ten of them returned them filled out for nomination for trustees, three returned them filled out for nomination for clerk, two returned them filled out for nomination for library trustee nomination, and two failed to return the papers. Any candidate who desires to withdraw from the race will do so until next Monday night to be without stip.

The election ballot this year will have the candidates listed in a single column, probably in the order in which they filed their nomination papers. On several occasions in recent years, the candidates have been grouped according to parties or "tickets." This year every candidate's name was filed independently, so that theoretically no candidate will be lined up with another candidate. However, groups or tickets may form between now and election. It appears at the present time that any candidate for trustee who can poll 350 votes will be sure to stand among the three highest at election. This would depend on the occasion that all or most of the ten men ran fairly even and split up the votes. More than a possibility exists that within the next few weeks four or five candidates will be virtually out of the running and the remaining five or six will garner more than 350 votes each.

The election of a village clerk will be completed for the first time in four years. The three candidates in the field should split up the votes to the extent that the race will be competitive. As usual there will be no competition for the thankless and payless job of library trustees. There are only two candidates for the position of village officers. The candidates are to be elected for three year terms as has been the case in the past. The candidates for village officers will be elected for only one year so that next year a complete village board can be elected for a two year term.

The candidates for village and library positions are:

For Clerk
A. C. Burand, D. B. Pomeroy, A. T. Ultsch.

For Trustees
John Blanko, J. J. Carroll, J. C. Cadwallader, Robert Frick, H. D. Kay, Reuben Jahrick, Herman Kuhlman, Archie Mitchell, Sammie H. Wiest.

For Library Trustees
Mrs. W. D. Dotterer, Mrs. John Schwemm.

Street Lights to Be Left Burning Throughout Night

Storm of Protests Greets Plan of Reducing Consumption of Electricity

Ornamental lights in the downtown district and Jewel park and street lights throughout the residential district of Barrington will again burn from dusk to dawn.

After considering a petition, a resolution and requests from individuals the trustees decided to leave the lights on until dawn instead of having them turned out at 2 a. m. as has been the case for the last two weeks.

A petition was circulated through the business district by Arnold Schaubke asking for full night service. It was signed by the majority of merchants. The Lions club passed a resolution asking that full lighting service be restored and applied to P. F. Fleming to appear before the village board to present the resolution. T. E. Davis also appeared at the board meeting to urge restoration of lighting service.

A committee of board members will meet with a committee of Lions and others interested in street lighting service to make a feasible plan for reducing cost of lighting without leaving the streets in darkness at any time during the night.

Man Dies After Plunge in Fox River Monday

Fox river claimed another victim late Monday afternoon when William Williamson of Chicago, who was spending his days at his summer cottage at Spring Beach for the purpose of cleaning and preparing the place to receive for the summer, walked across the river to purchase an evening newspaper and on returning, stepped on a weak spot at about mid-stream and broke through. His cries for help attracted the attention of his sister, Mrs. Hanson, who lived with him, and a number of neighbors. Hanson made a desperate effort to reach him but the thin ice broke under her weight and instantly she also was in the river. Jones, Gary, a rural mail carrier and his son, Hebert, did some heroic work when they snatched a leaky boat from the shore line, shoved it off the ice, and pushed through across the river struggling in the water. Even though the boat was filling with water rapidly, the rescuers held the other end steady until all the fire department arrived. With the aid of ropes and ladders Joe Opatryk and Elmer Kuehner of the fire department dragged the two to Opatryk beach where Mr. Williamson was pronounced dead. Both Gearman helped Mrs. Hanson back to land by means of artificial respiration and the other really died from shock and heart attack suffered when his body struck the chill water.

Mr. Williamson, a native of Norway, had emigrated to the United States several years ago. He was 55 years old and a bachelor. In addition to his sister, Mrs. Hanson, he is survived by several sons including Charles Erickson of Ski Hill.

Health Regained, Reverend P. Buscher Will Return to Barrington March 22

Restored and refreshed after a vacation in the south, Rev. Philip Buscher will return to Barrington March 22, according to a message he announced to the Review early this week. Mr. Buscher will return with his husband who plans to resume his activities at Salem Evangelical church as soon as he returns.

His message read: "My friend Dr. Graber did a wonderful thing for me in advising me to go to Florida at once. Not only have we enjoyed the finest weather, similar to our September and October, but I have been fully restored my health. My plan is to be at home March 22 and fill my pulpit the following Sunday. Kindly announce my services and a special lecture for Sunday evening, subject 'The Mountain Lake Sanctuary and the Singing Tower.' We have been made of wood since a special study. With kindest greetings to you and Barrington folks. P. H. Buscher."

Writes for Magazine
An article by Harold Grebe, successful young sign painter of this village, appeared in the March issue of "Signs of the Times," a trade magazine. In it, Mr. Grebe described the window display he arranged during "national sign week" for the association of sign artists of advertising to increase business volume even in a "one man shop in a town of 4,300 population." Accompanying his article is a picture taken of his attractive window display.

Board of Directors Elected at Meeting of New Loan Group

Association Organizes: Will Build Up $25,000 Capital

A board of seven directors was elected and a set of by-laws adopted by the stockholders of the Barrington Savings and Loan association at its first meeting in the lobby of the Gordon Motor company Tuesday night. Twenty stockholders were in attendance.

The directors elected include the following representative men of the Barrington community: Russell W. Hough, N. W. Springlinger, Earl Lawrence, R. Leroy Huszagh, Carl Schwemm, George Buffington, and Q. W. Paulson. This board will meet within the next two weeks to elect a president and vice president, a secretary and a treasurer.

The set of by-laws, which is similar to those in accordance with the by-laws governing all federal savings and loan associations, was read to the stockholders by Howard Brinlinger, temporary chairman, and then voted upon and adopted with a few minor alterations. The first annual meeting of the stockholders as provided in the charter will be held on the fourth Wednesday in January, 1935, and subsequent annual meetings will be held on the fourth Wednesday of each January. The board of directors elected Tuesday night will serve until the first annual meeting next year. At that time a new board will be elected consisting of three directors to be elected on the following dates:

Rumor of Man Murdered in Barrington Spiked; "Laboratory Arm" Found

Rumors that the body of a murdered man had been found in the alley behind the store building at the intersection of Park and Washington streets, circulated through the village, and in fact spread to nearby villages before it was spiked by Chicago police Ernest Baade Wednesday.

The story grew larger as it passed from mouth to ear until it included the finding of a well dressed man's body minus a hand.

Chief Baade reported that a possible source of the yarn was the finding on March 13 of a complete human arm, including hand and shoulder blade which obviously had been used in surgical laboratory study. It had been kept in a preservative similar to that used in medical school laboratories. It was found by a clerk in one of the grocery stores.

W. S. Kennedy Dies
A. W. Abbott, 126 W. Main street, received word this week of the death of his brother-in-law, W. S. Kennedy at Aberdeen, Wash. Monday, March 12. Mr. Kennedy was known in Barrington having visited at the Abbott home several times.

Tiny Tropical Island Great Place for Vacation, Chet Catlow Finds

After three months of glorious vacation, Chester Catlow returned to Barrington Tuesday enthusiastic about the beauty of the West Indies. He spent the greater part of his time on the island of St. Lucia, an island ecotically beautiful, rugged and primitive. It is the most perfect beach imaginable, a curve of sand five miles in length. "This little island, 28 miles long, 14 miles wide, has a well traveled back and forth between the French and English 15 times during the past two or three hundred years. The natives of the island are Creoles, a French patois having no apparent grammatical rhyme or reason. The natives are eddy primitive in their modes of living, dress, and occupations as well as in their speech. Ladies of the older generation, with the name of the West Indies, a head kerchief, a plain waist sewed on a full, flowered cotton skirt with a circular train. There is a tradition connected with carrying such a train: the wearer must lift it over her left arm with her right arm just high enough to show her fancy petticoat underneath. A wide silk handkerchief around the

E. S. Smith Names Men to Plan N. W. Conference Meets

School Principals, Coaches Attend Meeting at Leyden Wednesday

At a meeting of principals and coaches of the northwest conference, held at Leyden Wednesday evening, E. S. Smith of this village, president of the conference, appointed the following committees to handle athletic affairs of the conference during the coming year: track—E. Eiler, principal of Palatine high school, chairman, Trapp of Bensenville, and J. Martin of Libertyville; basketball—O. Bright of Antioch, chairman, Russell G. Anderson of Barrington, Trapp of Bensenville, and J. Martin of Libertyville; baseball—G. Keithall—George B. Dier, principal of Leyden high school, chairman, Paul Clark of Barrington, Trapp of Bensenville, and J. Martin of Libertyville; new schedules—L. W. Thompson, principal of Warren township high school, chairman, Jack Gross of Arlington Heights and W. A. Johnson of Chicago.

Members of the track and baseball committees will arrange schedules for the spring and summer athletic meets. The basketball committee will plan tournament centers and arrange schedules for the next year in accordance with the old system. Mr. Smith reported the appointment of a committee to submit new plans of scheduling basketball games was made so that the conference would be more comparable and conference members have a choice of procedure. The latter committee will report suggestions of the conference meeting April 15.

Other business transacted at the meeting included a decision to award trophies to each of the schools which would be presented for first place, there having been three ties for first in the highweights, Palatine and Leyden. About 20 men attended the conference Wednesday evening. Prior to the business meeting, girls of the Leyden high school home economics club served a delicious dinner. Messrs Smith, Clark and Anderson were present from Barrington.

Music Clinic
Music instructors of high schools of the conference were invited to a music clinic at Leyden that evening, the meeting being held in the new music room which was built at Leyden high school last summer. The lively large music practice rooms, 7 or 8 in number, and special instructors' rooms and a room for student and member instruments stimulated an interest in music at Leyden, the instructors Messrs. Stark and Krueger, told their practical or otherwise every municipal outlet in Illinois is illegal and every municipality or every industry having an outlet can be harassed even though they are doing everything that modern knowledge knows how to do to take care of one of the problems of civilization.

"Therefore, I hope that you will petition for a rehearing and that you will bring this matter to the attention of the municipalities in the state."

"I am hoping to see the attorney general next week and also that next week the sanitary water board will consider this matter."

Village Seeks Aid in Trying to Get Decree Modified

Petitions for Rehearing of Sewer Case; Asks Municipal League's Help

Following formal notification that the Barrington sanitary water board has received application for a federal loan had been approved by the Chicago board of the public works administration and had been forwarded to Washington for final consideration, the village board has received assurance from the state sanitary water board of cooperation in its attempt to get a rehearing of the sewer case.

The state sanitary water board's application for a federal loan and the sewer case in which the village is enjoined from using Flint rock for sanitary water disposal, is that the engineering plans accompanying the application contemplate use of the rock for outlet.

If the public works administration should approve the plan and grant the loan, the village could go ahead and rebuild its system. The plans would have to be altered to include piping to the Fox river and the amount of the loan increased considerably. This might re-act to the effect that the application would be refused.

The village trustees have instructed Attorney D. B. Maloney to petition for a rehearing. The state sanitary water board chairman, they have asked assistance in the fight from the Illinois Municipal League and from the state sanitary water board. The answer received from H. F. Ferguson, chief sanitary engineer on the water board, follows:

"The state sanitary water board has duly received and I have since obtained and read a copy of Judge Farthing's opinion affirming the decision in principle or otherwise every municipal outlet in Illinois is illegal and every municipality or every industry having an outlet can be harassed even though they are doing everything that modern knowledge knows how to do to take care of one of the problems of civilization."

"Therefore, I hope that you will petition for a rehearing and that you will bring this matter to the attention of the municipalities in the state."

"I am hoping to see the attorney general next week and also that next week the sanitary water board will consider this matter."

FERA Replaces CWA for Giving Needy Men Relief

And now it is the FERA. Village President Elden Glensk received notice Thursday from the CWA headquarters in Chicago that the organization will be discontinued at the end of this month and succeeded by the federal emergency relief administration. Only heads of families on relief will be given work under the FERA. They will be required to perform work for school districts, villages or cities, park districts, etc., to pay for the relief help they receive. Whether the work will be handled in project administration, CWA was not explained. It is expected that the village hall and scout cabin projects will be completed under CWA before April 1.

To Give Benefit Party
The American Legion Auxiliary will give a card party in the lobby of the Catholic theatre Wednesday afternoon, March 21, at two p. m. There will be a prize at each table and refreshments will be served.

Sister Dies
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elmer and family attended the funeral of Mrs. P. W. Peterson, in Chicago, Thursday.
