

U. S. Botanical Garden
The United States Botanical Garden in Washington has an enormous collection of plants which was established by the Smithsonian Institution for the promotion of Arts and Sciences and the site was granted by congress in 1820. No law was passed until 1839, when the collection of tropical seeds and cuttings brought back from the Pacific by the Wilkes expedition. The conservatory contains rare and beautiful plants from all over the world.

Graduates Hear Francis L. Bacon Talk on Education

Speaker stresses need of Educational Preparation for Living

The need of an education in regard to the development of the individual, the progress of the nation and the well-being of the world was the subject of a talk given by Francis L. Bacon, speaker at the graduation exercises of the Barrington high school Thursday night. The speaker stressed the need of a liberal education, not only for the individual but for the nation as a whole. He pointed out that the world is full of people who are not properly educated and that this is the cause of many of our social and economic problems. He urged the graduates to continue their education and to be prepared to take on the responsibilities of citizenship.

Trustees Plan to Pass Ordinance to Regulate Peddling

The board of trustees in regular session next Monday evening probably will pass an ordinance and soliciting ordinances.

Village Attorney Maloney was instructed to draw up two ordinance measures, one to cover peddling and the other soliciting. The measure to regulate peddling probably will require $2 a day for a license for each peddler in the village. The soliciting measure may completely prohibit house to house soliciting in the village.

Plan Boy Scout Board of Review July 10 and Court of Honor July 20

Local scouts will hold their first board of review at the newly completed scout cabin Tuesday night, July 10, according to a decision of the district committee of Barrington scouts, who met last week. The interior of the cabin remains unfinished and the lawn surrounding it must be graded, but that work will be completed by the end of the summer. It was reported. For the present, the cabin can only be used during recess. The one Tuesday will not be open to the public since it is in the form of tests.

BARRINGTON REVIEW

HARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY, JUNE 21, 1934

Hermann Koenig Is Highest in Class of Fifty Seniors

Announcement of awards for 25 pupils at Barrington high school culminated the commencement exercises at the school auditorium Thursday evening. Hermann Koenig placed highest in his class of 50 seniors, having the highest total of grades for high school work in spite of having completed the course in three years instead of taking the ordinary four. Three follow-students came within 1/2 per cent of ap- proaching the average and received honorable mention. They were Ruth Jahnhoit, Robert Ulrich and Leona Kettel.

Paul Revere Club Will Be Organized Here This Summer

Intelligent Americans must re-awaken their patriotism immediately and be active in defense of their constitution if they are to retain the blessings of individual liberty and freedom they have enjoyed in the past. Ray Warner, of the Chicago Paul Revere organization told Barrington men who were assembled at the home of Mrs. C. Fleming Tuesday night. This meeting was the first of a series which will be held for the purpose of organizing a Paul Revere club in Barrington. Mr. Warren spoke on the history and purpose of the new Paul Revere movement which has been spreading throughout the country in recent months. He declared it was started for the purpose of protecting the American constitution and constitutional form of government. At the present time the constitution of the United States, the basic doctrine of human rights ever written, is in danger of being suspended.

20 IER Workmen, Then 10, Employed at School Project

Building at Barrington high school has continued steadily during the past week. The superintendent, Supt. Ernan S. Smith who reported that a shift of 20 workmen was employed by the IER at the first of the week and a shift of 10 put to work Thursday morning with promises of a larger number for next week. No improvement has been noted since the IER employes men of different trades as well as laborers and some have been busy at remodeling and other doing necessary repairs within the building. Excavating for the new boiler room which is to be built separately from the school buildings may begin next week. Mr. Smith said. According to former arrangements, the boiler project, including remodeling of the school building of the boiler rooms, and the new boiler room, should be completed July 31. The former boiler room will be converted into a classroom for mechanical drawing and manual training. The boiler workmen were employed on the project this week but five who submitted applications to an IER caseworker recently had been included in the personnel next week.

Cuba Residents Report Active in Neighborhood

Gasoline thieves have been working in Cuba territory during the last two weeks according to complaints of automobile owners living northwest of Barrington. One person has had the annoying experience of finding his automobile tires punctured with a number of nails, apparently driven by some person living in Cuba territory.

Attend Graduation

Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. and family, 120 Coolidge avenue, attended the commencement program of the Kelyra Park high school in Chicago Thursday evening. A niece, Miss Lucille Mack, was a member of the graduating class.

Report More Than Inch of Rainfall Wednesday Night

Heaviest Precipitation Since October Will Help Crops and Pastures

The rain of Wednesday night was the first full fledged down-pour since October 21, 1933, according to weather data compiled at Elgin for the northeastern Illinois territory.

The report showed that 1.10 inches of rain fell at Elgin during the night, followed by 1.00 inch on Wednesday. It is believed that the precipitation here was practically the same. Rainfall here Monday night amounted to about three-quarters of an inch. The last time that more than an inch of rain fell was on October 21 when the total precipitation was 2.4 inches.

A great deal of good was done to the growing corn and to pastures which were partially re- covered by the drenching. Only a few small grain which had survived the May drought were given a chance to produce somewhat of a crop.

Scattered damage resulted from the heavy wind storm which swept the district about Wednesday night. Limbs were ripped off some of the softwood trees in the district and few trees were blown down. The Tilley carnival, booked for Barrington and now showing at the Dundee avenue show grounds of Elgin, just about 12 miles in distance, was to be moved to a tent, etc.

Undoes Operation

Miss Louise Kneuck underwent an operation for the removal of her appendix at St. Joseph's hospital, Joliet, Sunday morning.

Thank You for the Thought as Well as Check, Mr. Kampert!

We are again sending $2.50 for the Barrington Review. We would miss our weekly letter. Have been in California since January, 1913 and miss the Review has been coming. Our daughter Pearl Kampert Eaton will be in Barrington in a few days to visit for the first time since she was born here. She left Los Angeles yesterday for Barrington and vicinity for a month's vacation and will see many changes since 1913. We wish her a pleasant trip.

Sincerely,
John Kampert
