WILLIAMSON CASE COLLAPSES

(Illinois State Journal)

A Sangamon county circuit court jury yesterday evening returned a verdict of not guilty in the case against Hiram L. Williamson, former state superintendent of printing, and Miss Nelle A. Machin, his secretary. The verdict was not unexpected. From its inception, residents of this city have looked upon it as a political prosecution, undertaken in consequence of Williamson's activity in opposition to the democratic state administration.

The cityle sees was disserved from the latest con-cratic state administration.

The state's case was discredited from the beginning by the singling out of Williamson and his secretary as conspirators, when the evidence adduced showed that the payroll manipulation was for the benefit of attorney general Oscar Carlstrom, who had employed this method of paying undercover employes. Naturally enough, selection of Williamson and his secretary for indictment, prejudiced the whole proceeding in the minds of practically everyone.

Spectacular methods employed in the beinging of the ceeding in the minds of practically everyone.

Spectacular methods employed in the bringing of the indictments—the calling of a special session of the grand jury; the sidetracking of the state's attorney and the presence of an assistant attorney general and, later, the importation of a widely-heralded criminal prosecutor from Chicago; the appearance of special investigators on the scene—all these things tended to weaken the state's position. They confirmed Williamson's assertion that he was the victim of a political frame-up.

While the United States is experimenting with regimentation and bureaucratic regulation, Great Britain is encouraging industry and commerce to proceed with the usual freedom from government interference, and the impartial figures show that the policy of non-interference is scoring highest in the serious game of getting along.

A multitude of regulatory experiments by government have served to bewilder industry in the United States. Instead of being permitted to remain at their plants and carry out the plea for "more jobs at higher pay," managers of industry are forced to congregate in Washington and try to interprete the various laws and regulations adopted in the new deal.

With industrial production for 1928 considered at 100, With industrial production for 1928 considered at 100, the figures announced by the league for some of the principal countries, covering February reports, were: Germany, 80.6: Belgium, 66.0: Canada, 71.3: Chile, 121.4: United States, 73.0: France, 83.5; Japan, 125.7; Norway, 105.9: Poland, 61.1: Great Britain, 104.5: Sweden, 100.00.

TO THE TAXPAVER

If the taxpayer would vote for those men, to state pub-lic office, whose private lives show them honest, careful, thrifty, efficient, we would not be burdened with such fear-ful taxes. When the taxpayers vote for township and village officials, they do usually vote for such men, and the taxes in these units have been reduced.—Standard, Fairfax, Minn.

Perhaps the most unexpected development of this see Perhaps the most unexpected development of this session of congress has been the attacks of democrats upon the "new deal" program . . . while republicans have hesitated to speak out, the halls of the senate have rung with outspoken criticism by Senators Glass, Byrd, Bailey, Smith and other democratic leaders from the South . . this opposition within his own party to "brain trust" ideas did more than anything else to restrain Mr. Roosevelt from pressing for some of the pending measures and pushing congress homeward.

Republicans, with a minority in the senate, virtually controlled the final days of congress . . . with the president insistent upon a speedy adjournment they were able to bargain as to what should be enacted, something they have not been able to do since the new administration took office . . . their strategic position of being able to talk for several days upon any piece of legislation they disliked was instrumental in scuttling several regimenting measures, including the extension of powers to the agriculture department.

WHAT'S GOING ON WASHINGTON

Explaining the new deal will mortgage insurance, rather comthe chief task of the summer,

Not account to the control of the co

tion of a widely-heralded criminal prosecutor from Chicago, the appearance of special investigators on the scene—all these things tended to weaken the state's position. They confirmed Williamson's assertion that he was the victim of a political frame-up.

There will be little disposition to criticize the jury for its decision. The regret is that the case was permitted to come to trial. The community doesn't relish the use of its courts in the game of politics, and it probably will be some time before another Sangamon county grand jury can be induced to lend itself to a political prosecution.

TOO MUCH EXPERIMENTATION

Government statisticians who are engaged in compiling figures showing wonders performed by various panaceas were staggered by a recent report issued by the League of Wations, revealing that only three countries rank below the United States in industrial recovery.

Lising figures for 1928 for comparison with current in dustrial production, the monthly bulletin of statistics issued by the league shows that Germany, Chile, France, Japan, Norway, Great Britain and Sweden are leading the United States in industrial recovery.
