Glenn and Donald Hager, Owen Berger in Golf Tourneys

Owen Hager, Donald Hager and Glenn Berger are playing in the Midwest public links championship tournaments at Lincoln park this week.

Owen Berger played in two recent golf tournaments and although not winning, made good showings in each.

He played in the Chicago Junior Golf association's first annual championship July 9 and shot 78-77-184 which was 7 over par. In his first match he played Chuck Moulter from North shore and won the match 1 up with a birdie on the 18th hole. Ken Heilmann, Jr., defeated him in the second match 2 and 1.

He played in the qualifying round for the public links team July 16 and shot a 75. In the final he had 75-79-154 which put him in the upper half of a fast field.

The Norvegian Expedition of 1910

The Norvegian expedition of 1910 proved definitely that the Saragoso sea does not contain a mass of marine plants so dense and thick that sailing ships venturing therein are to free themselves. The position of the Saragoso sea varies with the wind and currents, but is approximately 20 to 35 degrees west, and 30 to 70 degrees north. There is no record of any other places where derelict vessels might be detected, though there are areas in the Pacific, Indian and Antarctic similar to the Saragoso sea.

Merchants to Mix With Des Plaines All-Stars Friday

The Barrington Merchant football aggregation has a feature game billed for Friday night when it will meet the strong Des Plaines All-Stars on the local field Spinner's park at 7 p. m. Des Plaines is reputed to have a fast, hard-hitting team and a top-notch tackle should result.

On last Friday night the Merchants made it two straight over the Riggs Kittens of Elgin, triumphing 3 to 0 on the losers diamond. It took the local players a few innings to get used to playing under lights but the heavy hitting of Mike Taylor, Benny Klinge, and Bill Grabenrook decided the issue in favor of the Merchants. Barrington collected nine hits to Elgin's five.
