Thanksgiving Program Sent to County Schools

"Thankful for Health Day" is the title of a grade school Thanksgiving program which the Lake county tuberculosis association is sending out to the schools this week. Songs, poems, and a play are included in the program. The play tells the story of the first tuberculosis sanatorium which was established by Edward Livingston Trudeau 50 years ago. In addition to furnishing school health programs, the tuberculosis association is sponsoring an essay contest in the schools. The title of Trudeau is the topic for the essay. The best one will be broadcast from a Chicago radio station by the writer.

Judges of the contest will be W. C. Poty, county superintendent of schools, and Messrs. J. H. S. of Highland Park and Mrs. John C. Mehan of Lake Forest. Material on the life of Trudeau may be obtained from the association office in the court house at Waukegan.
