Miss Eva Engelmann a Bride

A beautiful wedding took place at the Drexel Park Presbyterian church in Chicago Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock when Miss Eva Engelmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Engelmann of Barrington, became the bride of Edward P. Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sullivan of Chicago. Rev. Cox officiated at the single ring service. The bride was given away by her father and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Howard Hughes, as matron of honor and Miss Mae Donohue as bridesmaid. The groom was served by Walter Davies and a brother, J. Sullivan.

The bride was lovely in white satin with cap and veil of tulle. She carried an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Hughes wore blue and gold and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Donohue wore a yellow and green with trimmings of brown and carried yellow chrysanthemums also. A wedding reception was held at the home of the groom's parents following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will live in Chicago.

The following relatives and friends from Barrington attended the wedding: Mr. and Mrs. J. Engelmann and son Irvin, R. H. Engelmann, Miss Marian Hart, Henry Bull, Mrs. Baude Boyle, and Mrs. George Hansen.

In Hostess at Dinner

Barrington Woman's Club

At the study class held in the library Thursday afternoon there were only 23 present. Mrs. W. Dettmer introduced Mrs. John Schwemmer as the speaker of the day, who discussed "Current events, history in the making." After reading an article pertaining to Noble prize awards in Sweden, of which four Americans received a worth of Medicine, Mr. Schwemmer gave short resumes on foreign affairs: China, preparing a new constitution; England working out her economic survey, armaments causing high taxes; Russia, joining the League of Nations; Sweden, leading the world in being at peace with her neighbors; the countries of Central Europe, spending more money than they can afford to armaments but all afraid; Germany and Austria facing a hard winter with Germany boycotting Austria and no free speech.

The difference between the United States and Europe in the freedom of speech, the speaker said. Of the new books, Mrs. Schwemmer mentioned "The New Germany," "The New Peter," "Going Abroad," "The Story of Her Life by Marie Dressler," "The World Outside" Mrs. Hoover's book shows caution, she said; and Mr. Wallace's vision. Both deal with the present time and are quite different from the general run. Two books that are enjoyable are "Retreat From Glory," "Frelids by the Past." The speaker mentioned two new plays, "Between Two Worlds" and "Valley Forge." In conclusion, she said, "To day's news becomes history and all our todays are later our tomorrows."

The Barrington Woman's club extends to all its members best wishes for a very Merry Christmas. —Pres Committee.
