"The King and the Chorus Girl" Here Sunday, Monday

"Seventh Heaven" Will Open Wednesday for Three Day Showing

Loretta Young, Tyrone Power and Adolphe Menjou are starred in "Cafe Metropole," now playing at the Catlow.
Laurel and Hardy, those past masters of whimsical pantomime and artistic fantasy, come to the Catlow theatre Saturday in their latest feature comedy, "Way Out West," with the plot and action along the lines to a degree of the great success which marked their silent films.
Double featured with "Way Out West" is "King of Gamblers" starring Claire Tror, Lloyd Nolan, Larry Crabbe and Helen Burgess.

The unusual procedure of launching a newcomer to American films with a starring role is followed in "The King and the Chorus Girl," the spirited comedy romance which opens Sunday.
The player in this case is Fernand, the famous Continental screen star, who makes his American bow in this picture.
Norman Kraza and Groucho Marx fashioned a swift-paced, laugh crammed story for this new star. In it, he plays the role of a wealthy, spendthrift ex-king who falls head over heels in love with an American chorus girl who isn't impressed by royalty. The chorine in this case is Jean Blondell.
Dramatising for the first time on the screen the conflict between railroads and trucking companies for freight haulage, "California Straight Ahead" opens at the Catlow Tuesday. Most significant story of the present era, "California Straight Ahead" is the screen featuring John Wayne, supported by such well known players as Louise Latimer, Robert McWade and "Tul" Marshall.

Double featured with "California Straight Ahead" is "She's Dangerous," with Tal Rial, Cesar Romero and Walter Brennan.
The tenderest romance of our time lives again on the screen when "Seventh Heaven" opens Wednesday for three days with Simone Simone and James Stewart in the starring roles.
