PROGRESS

Competition, the right of an individual to get ahead in the world on his own merits, has been the keystone of progress in the New World. Any man who had an idea, and the ability and initiative, could go into business for himself. And so far, he still retains that privilege.

Unfortunately, that is not true of the rest of the world. Some recent statements by the commerce department in Washington show the contrast. These are the stories they tell:

1. For many years, interior towns in the South American nation of Columbia have offered a sizeable market for United States fruits. But because of the distance, there was no way of reaching the market. Now, however, the answer has been found. American fruits are shipped to Puerto Colombia in refrigerated steamers. There they are put aboard airplanes and carried in a few minutes to interior ports which it used to take days to reach with mule trains.

2. Years ago, deposits of radium were discovered at La Bine Point, Canada—in the Arctic region—1500 miles from the nearest railroad. The distance from transportation made it impossible to work the mine. Now, airplanes again are being used to carry materials, supplies and radium the 1600 miles so it may be used to help ailing mankind.

3. In Estonia, the minister of economic affairs has deferred for seven months a decision on whether to permit establishment of a new glass factory.

There's the contrast: In the New World, men with ideas have succeeded in flying health-giving fruits and health-restoring radium to their fellow men. In the Old World, a man with an idea that he can produce glass more cheaply for his fellow men is going to have to sit idle seven months while the government "investigates."

NEED STOP LIGHTS

With part of the bend taken out of Hough street at the Main street crossing, a natural speed retarder for vehicles has been removed. To make the crossing safer rather than less safe, "Stop and Go" lights should be installed. Tourists approaching on Hough do not know that Main is a stop street. The addition of route 59 to Hough will increase the number of tourists.

"In the regulations which congress may prescribe respecting the custody of the public moneys, it is desirable that as little discretion as may be deemed consistent with their safe keeping should be given to executive agents. No one can be more deeply impressed than I am with the soundness of the doctrine which restrains and limits, by specific provisions, executive discretion, as far as it can be done consistently with the preservation of its constitutional character. In respect to the control over the public money this doctrine is particularly applicable."—Andrew Jackson.

Distribute $992 to County Schools for Student Aid Program

Nearly $2,000,000 was spent in Illinois by the national youth administration in its student aid program during the school year just closed, permitting some 29,000 young men and girls to continue their education in high schools and colleges, according to a report issued today by William J. Campbell, state NYA director. In Lake county, 154 students were provided with part-time work after class hours for which the national youth administration expended a total of $992.30, the figures just released showed.

High school students received a maximum of $6 monthly with which to take care of such necessary expenses as carfare, lunches and other incidentals. The average for undergraduate college students was $15 per month and graduate students $25 per month.

Student work consists of such socially desirable tasks as marking papers, assisting teachers, classification of laboratory specimens, scientific research work and other tasks which do not displace full-time workers. A list of nearby schools, with the number of NYA students attending and the wages received follows:

Cow and Calf Wander Off Farm; Deputies Join in Round-Up

A Jersey cow and calf, first believed to have been stolen, were found by Lake county deputy sheriffs when they were called to investigate Mrs. Murray Mangoonian, residing about a mile north of Wauconda, Friday evening. Mrs. Mangoonian's attention was attracted by the flashing of a light on her farm about 10 o'clock. She went out to check the cattle and poultry. A Jersey cow and calf were missing.

Deputy sheriff started an investigation, and with the aid of Mrs. Mangoonian's son, the cattle were found wandering on a side road a short distance from the farm.

The Birthday Child of the Week

There is going to be a large celebration for the two children featured in this week's Birthday Child of the Week column on their biggest birthdays. In fact, the celebration can be rated as the biggest of the year. You have probably guessed by now that the two youngsters, and they are girls, were born on July 5, and will be honored along with Independence Day this year.

A Star Is Born Is Week-End Bill at Catlow Theatre

"Seventh Heaven" Now Playing; Double Bill Tuesday and Saturday. Simone Simon, sensational screen star who rose to fame in her first American picture, "Girl of the Year," shares starring honors with James Stewart in "Seventh Heaven," now at the Catlow theatre.

Because Hugh Herbert, the film comedian, attracts too large an audience to the sets on which he works, Lou King, the director of "That Man's Here Again," Hugh's current assignment, had to issue a "No Visitors" order. It comes to the Catlow Saturday. Whenever Herbert's name appears on the studio call sheet, there is an influx of visitors to the set to watch him go through his antics.

Playing on the double feature bill Saturday night is "Girl Overboard," with Gloria Stuart and Walter Pidgeon. Janet Gaynor and Fredric March come to the Catlow for three days Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in "A Star Is Born."

This glamorous story of a little country girl who came to Hollywood, faced the odds of 100,000 to one and scaled the heights of stardom, marks the first up-to-the-minute story to be filmed in technicolor.

Adolphe Menjou, May Robson, Andy Devine and Lionel Stander are featured in the supporting cast. Marking a departure in the use of technical advisors, Lal Chand Mehra, Hindu lecturer and authority on spiritualism, was signed by the studio to check the authenticity of occult sequences in "The Thirteenth Chair," the mystery feature coming Wednesday to the Catlow.

It was Mehra's task to advise on all matters dealing with spiritualism and supernatural happenings. "The Bayard Vellier play is placed in India and deals with the solution of two murders through the use of spiritualism at a séance. "Dore featured with "The Thirteenth Chair," is "Six of a Kind," starring W. C. Fields, Mary Boland, Burns and Allen—it's the funniest picture ever made.
