Suggests Traffic Control Lights at Downtown Crossing

Trustee R. L. Berg Presents Safety Plan at Meeting Tuesday Night. A safety measure was proposed by Trustee Rudolph L. Berg at the meeting held Tuesday night, when he recommended traffic actuary stop and lights at the intersection of Main and Hough streets. The widening of Main street and traffic increase on route 59 made the signal necessary, he said.

The cost of the improvement, he added, could be borne by the fund credited to the village of Barrington from the state gas tax. At present, more than $7000 is allocated here.

The board approved a motion made by Mr. Berg and seconded by Trustee N. O. Plagge to confer with the state highway traffic engineers' department to obtain from that unit an approved set-up in regard to type and location. During the discussion it was pointed out that it would be possible to bear a traffic actuary light that is controlled by the movement of automobiles. Vehicles approaching intersections where these automatic signals are installed cause bars that control the light change.

Mr. Berg also pointed out that the state highway department might place lights at the intersection of Hough street and Northwest highway if the village will take care of Main and Hough.

Attended Funeral. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weidert, Mrs. Mathilda Rieck and Miss Carrie Gilly attended the funeral of Fred C. Franck of Elgin Saturday afternoon.

Mail Notices in Cuba Township for Delinquent Taxes

Judgements Will Be Sought if Payments Are Not Made Within 10 Days

The first steps in the collection of delinquent personal property assessments in Cuba township were taken this week with the mailing of notices to delinquent personal owners by Justices of the Peace J. J. Claude and E. Gross. The action is part of a drive sponsored by the county tax commission to collect $13,000 in delinquent personal property taxes for the 185 taxing bodies in the county. The lists and notices were compiled by the tax commission and forwarded to the justice. If payment is not made within ten days after the mailing of the notices, summonses will be served, and judgments against the personal property owners asked.

In Cuba township there are approximately 150 delinquencies on the list, the justices reported. Justice Claude was furnished with an alphabetical list from L to Z and Justice Gross has a list from L to Z.

Justice Claude reported they were acting in conjunction with the justice of the peace and a board of supervisors when it established the tax commission to clear up delinquent personal and real estate assessments.

The matter of penalties is the matter of most concern. Justice Claude stated. He cited one instance where one individual was delinquent since 1925. For the 1926 tax of $7.50 on $15.00 assessed valuation, a total of $6.84 in penalties had accrued. The penalty is one per cent a month, and in the instance of delinquent 1925 taxes, it amounted to 95 per cent of the total tax.

Payment made before the 10 day period has expired will save the delinquent property owner costs of $15.00 in litigation. The only fee necessary is for mailing notices, plus the delinquent tax and penalty.

In the meantime over 100 personal property owners in the township were notified.
