

Tri-County League Resumes Play With Revised Schedule

Contests Shifted to Home Diamonds; Continue First Round

With play to be resumed on Thursday, July 8, in the Tri-County league some of the fastest baseball of the season will be played. All teams have had an opportunity during the district tournament to strengthen their lineups and the league leaders at the present time can expect some real upsets from teams in the lower brackets.

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost, Pct. Rows include Roselle, Dundee, Plato Center, Elgin Stags, Elgin West Ends, Elgin Parkrides, Barrington, St. Charles, Algonquin, Elgin White Sox.

The present standing of the league is as follows: The revised schedule as released by Commissioner Art Jones today calls for games on home fields as follows:

Roselle, 3 home games; Plato, 3 home games; St. Charles, 4 home games; Algonquin, 2 home games; Barrington, 1 home game; Parkrides, 3 home games; Dundee, 2 home games. Nine games at tournament park of which six will be played under lights and three Sunday afternoon games.

The second round of play will begin on Thursday, August 12. Fans are urged to save this revised schedule from this paper due to the fact that a number of games have been shifted to home fields. This was made necessary by the fact that the district tournament had to be prolonged due to bad weather.

(Revised schedule for July) Thursday, July 8—White Sox vs. White Sox, Lords Park, 8:30; Dundee vs. Stags, Tournament Park, 8:30; St. Charles vs. Plato, Tournament Park, 8:30.

Shikina and Bruns Set for Match at Round Lake July 9

Lake County sport lovers who have unanimously accepted professional wrestling and by their attendance during the past three years have made it one of the most important summer sports in this part of the county, will once again get a chance to watch champions and near champions from all parts of the world wrestle it out beneath the stars in the first card of the season in the Round Lake Hunted-House Open-air arena Friday night, July 9.

Featured in the main event are two of the country's outstanding contenders for the world's championship, Ori Shikina, Jiu-jitsu starred and Bobby Bruns, 220 pound blond sensation, who is the greatest favorite ever to appear in the Round Lake arena. Both men have their eyes on a world's title match with Champion Everett Marshall and a win for either of them will place him that much closer to a title shot.

In the semi-windup Frankie Talaber, clever light heavyweight who is undefeated as a professional, will meet 'Billy Boy' Kogut, Canadian light-heavyweight champion, in the first round of the Northern Illinois sectional tournament which is a part of the national tournament now underway to uncover a new and official world's light-heavyweight champion.

Three high class preliminary matches complete the card and promise plenty of thrills and action for local mat addicts.

Give Vegetables and Plants Room to Grow

By THE MASTER GARDENER. How a real gardener hates to destroy a plant! So, to us an old and homely expression, it's like "pulling teeth" to thin out your vegetables and flowers—but most necessary, I assure you. Your children require room to grow—they resent undue restriction; and just as surely, by weakened growth, do your plants resent being crowded. Will lettuce form heads if you don't thin out the seedlings? Will you have radishes that have enjoyed that rapid unimpeded growth which results in crisp tender sweet crunchiness if you don't give them plenty of room to develop and grow quickly? And so on through the list.

And ditto for your flowers. I am speaking now of annuals, both those which require transplanting and those which must be thinned in the original planting site. Crowded plants, with no room for either roots or top to develop, with a limited feeding area for each plant, result in spindly, leggy plants that bloom late, and have very few and small flowers—if any.

Your plants must have an adequate supply of food, too, if they are to make satisfactory growth. Now is the time to give another feeding of a complete balanced plant food to your vegetable and flower garden.

The plants which are removed in the thinning process can be transplanted to another section of the garden if there is space available. If you plan to do this, be careful in taking the plants out of the ground so that you do not break off many of the hair roots. The best way is to dig them out with a small trowel.

Thoroughly prepare the soil in which you are going to transplant the extra plants. Incorporate a supply of complete plant food in the top few inches of soil. This will give the plants the added nourishment they need to help them make up the time they will lose as the result of transplanting.

Be sure to shade the transplanted plants from the very hot sun of the afternoons until they are thoroughly established in their new home. Boards propped on inverted flower roots afford a simple way of providing the necessary shade. Immediately after transplanting, water the plants thoroughly and continue to water frequently at least until you are sure that the roots have taken hold.

Making Rayon. Rayon is made by liquefying cellulose or one of its chemical derivatives and forcing this fluid through small holes into a solution that hardens it into a silky fiber. Because they are smooth and translucent, such fibers are much more lustrous than those of silk. Their brilliance is not highly regarded by rayon users, probably because it is a characteristic of what was once an inferior product. It is therefore a practice to add to the rayon a de-lustrant to make it duller and more like silk, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune.
