with Confidence

Sally and Jim need no introduction here. They bought their first piece of furniture at Daniels & Clark "right after the war." Their home is one of those picture-book places... not gaudily furnished, but artistically arranged with the kind of furniture that grows more charming as the years roll by.

Here they are "back to buy"... and with full assurance that whatever they choose, dependability is theirs. The years have built this confidence... every claim of quality has been substantiated. Those little acts of service... beyond the usual transaction, have won their return again and again.

Mid-Summer Furniture Clearance

... and too, Sally and Jim have learned that many dollars are saved by making their selections at Mid-Summer Sale reductions. Whether it's a single chair, a whole suite or a new rug, dollars spent now will pay big dividends... in happiness too.

Sally and Jim, like others, know also the convenience of our Budget Plan. If you aren't familiar with it, we'll tell you how others use it to save here.
