

Marx Brothers' Comedy Feature Coming to Catlow

"A Day at the Races" Starts Sunday for Three Day Showing

With three of the strongest personalities of the modern screen—Bette Davis, Edward G. Robinson, Humphrey Bogart—leading the cast, "Kid Galahad," drama of the fight ring, opened Wednesday at the Catlow theatre, to a delighted audience.

As a very special feature, the Catlow is running a Saturday matinee, at 2:30 of "Elephant Boy," film version of Rudyard Kipling's "Tomal of the Elephants."

Filmed in the course of a two-year expedition into the heart of the Indian jungles, headed by Robert Flaherty, famous explorer-director, "Elephant Boy" is described as one of the most thrilling natural background pictures ever to reach the screen.

"Elephant Boy" is a double feature for the evening show with the Jones Family in "Big Business."

Audiences in five cities virtually wrote the final screen play of the new Marx Brothers comedy, "A Day at the Races," which comes to the Catlow screen Sunday for three days.

Repeating the successful experiment which they first tried out with their earlier hit, "A Night at the Opera," the Marx Brothers incorporated the material of "A Day at the Races," into a stage production and tried out the laughs on the audiences of Duluth, Minneapolis, Chicago, Cleveland and San Francisco.

The laughter and comment of the patrons served as a barometer by which the Marx maniacs were able to decide which gags to discard and which to retain for the film production of "A Day at the Races."

The comedians took along thousands of preview cards. Audiences were asked to jot down their impressions and opinions of the scenes they saw before them. From these the comedy for "A Day at the Races" was moulded.

After fighting continually for a character role in the picture, the screen roles granted to screen actresses of her beauty, Rochelle Hudson finds her plea answered in "Woman-Wise," film of the prize, coming Wednesday to the Catlow in which the lovely star, featured opposite Michael Whalen, finds ample scope for real dramatic ability.

A special treat to Will Rogers' fans, "David Harum," will return to play a double feature bill on Tuesday with "Woman-Wise."

Among the never-forgotten characters of present-day magazine fiction is that picturesque old chap called Cappy Ricks, who owns steamships for the operation of the out of San Francisco in all parts of the world.

In more intimate fashion old Cappy now comes before the public again—almost in real life. He's in a movie entitled "The Go-Getter," which comes to the Catlow Thursday and Friday.

McMillen Will Meet Rudy Kay at Round Lake Arena Friday

A capacity crowd of more than 2,000 Lake County sport lovers are expected to fill every available space in Peg's Round Lake arena Friday night, August 6th, to see the "wrestling natural" when rough and ready Rudy Kay, the most hated matman ever to appear in the local arena gets the acid test of his professional career, facing Jim McMillen, Lake County's favorite son and the outstanding contender for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, in the main event of the fifth all-star card of the current season.

Kay, who became a sensation in his first appearance at Round Lake several weeks ago, is undefeated.

here with four consecutive wins to his credit. If he can get past McMillen, he will automatically become number one challenger for a match with the world's champion Everett Marshall, and because of his rough and tumble style experts figure him for a fifty-fifty chance for a world title.

A powerful supporting card, set for the biggest arenas in the country, may take some of the play from the main event, and should insure local and state a big evening of excitement. In the semi-weekend Fred Grubiner, world famous exponent of the rib crushing body scissor who is better known as the "Iron Egg" takes hold with "Bad Boy" Brown, highly touted Southern wrestling brawler. Brown, who is in a class with Rudy Kay as a roughster, will have a tough assignment in this great lowan who ranks among the first fifteen in the business.

One of the preliminaries at drawing more than its share of interest features the bearded wonder, Mike London, who made his local debut last Friday and became a sensation when he won the "Black Panther" Jack Claybourne, in the most spectacular contest of the year when the colored star missed a tackle and landed in the third row ringside. London will face the mighty Frankie Talsler, flashy contender for the world's light-heavyweight championship, and this match is expected to steal the show. The final match brings the colored star, Jack Claybourne, to face "Bully Boy" Kogut.

Swimming Meet and Carnival Scheduled at Northside Park

Triangular Meet Sunday at 3; Exhibition Planned for August 13

Members of the Barrington Park district swimming team will attempt to indicate two previous losses to Elgin and Wheaton swimming teams in a triangular meet to be held in the pool at Northside park Sunday afternoon starting at 3 o'clock. The locals traveled to Elgin last Friday night and were defeated by a score of 52 to 18. Wheaton swimmers previously defeated the Barrington team in a match at that town by a margin of 45 to 15.

In addition to the meet Sunday afternoon, a water carnival, including races, novelty numbers and swimming demonstrations will be held at Northside park Friday evening, August 13, at 8 o'clock.

Sunday's meet will feature races for boys' and girls' and women and men divisions. Diving exhibitions are also carded.

D. Melville Carr, director of life-saving and accident prevention of the American Red Cross, will address the gathering August 13, and also give a demonstration of water safety. Two teams will play water polo and there will be water polo races for boys and girls. Miscellaneous relay races will include a night gown scramble for boys and a candle relay for girls. Those under 12 will participate in balloon races. Junior High girls will be awarded to the following girls by Mr. Carr: Eleanor Nightengale, Lorelei Langendorf, Ellen Jensen, Mary Jean McClure, Mary Jean Hargrove, Polly Ann Brown, Beverly Linn, Lorraine Grom, Carol Gardner and Phyllis Stout.

Organize Suburban Polo League; Local Teams Win 1st Game

The Barrington Polo club joined with other neighboring units in forming a Suburban Polo league and a schedule of play for the remainder of the summer has been completed. The locals played the first game last Sunday and defeated the Park Ridge Reds by a score of 8 to 3 at Park Ridge.

Included in the league are the following other teams: Fort Sheridan 122nd Field Artillery, Oakshire, Park Ridge Reds, Park Ridge Whites, River Trails. Playing for Barrington are: Jerry Corbett, C. Buckley, Harold Smith, Donald Bateman, Leonard Bernard of Wheeling and de Koven Bowen. The first home game for the local mallet swingers will be played with the River Trails Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the field on Hart road. It was reported a cup will be offered for the winning team in the scheduled play. Games will be played every Sunday, weather permitting.

Plymouth Awards Merit Diploma to 5 Men at Brewers

Lloyd Elfrink, of Brewer Motor Sales, Ltd., DePue and Plymouth dealer, announced today that five members of the service department have been awarded the Plymouth certificate of merit. Those recipients are: C. Buckley, Harold Smith, Brewer, G. Elfrink, L. Yeager, B. Sutlin and E. Nelson.

The certificate, which is signed by D. S. Eddins, president, and J. D. McCrimmon, director of service of the Plymouth Motor corporation, division of Chrysler corporation, is presented to service men and service managers of DeSoto-Plymouth dealerships who have demonstrated proficiency and knowledge in the servicing of Plymouth cars. A written examination is the final qualifying test for this certificate of merit.

Both of these varieties produce bloom on the current season's wood and should never be pruned in the summer or fall. Any pruning should be done in the spring, and then the plants should be cut back severely.

Hydrangeas Popular for Fall Blooming

By The Master Gardener Hydrangeas are a versatile family. The two most commonly planted varieties are giving us a fine display of bloom now, or will do so soon. I refer to the Hills-of-Snow (Hydrangea arborescens grandiflora). Many gardeners feel the latter variety is overplanted, but I do not agree. It must be that the blossoms are very showy, and not suitable in all locations, but the white flowers, which appear in August and then turn to pink and russet shades as they age, can be used for very good effect in formal hedges where a specimen plant is needed.

Of course, the efficiency with which the early spring pruning was done has an important effect on the blooming quality, but the size and effectiveness of the flowers are determined largely by the amount of food available at this time. Feed hydrangeas now with a complete balanced plant food and water in thoroughly.

And while on the subject of hydrangeas, I want to tell you about two of this family of plants which are not listed in many catalogues but which are well worth having. One is the Climbing Hydrangea (Hydrangea petiolaris), an attractive rampant-growing vine. It will cling to brick or stone buildings by its rootlets, and the flowers are quite fragrant. They appear about June.

The other is a very fine shrub, Oakleaf Hydrangea (Hydrangea quercifolia). The oak-shaped leaf
