Reject Proposal to Hire Village Nurse

A proposal that the village of Barrington cooperate with the board of education of district No. 4 in engaging a full time health nurse was rejected Friday night by members of the village board. The plan had been suggested by officers of the Parent-Teacher association some time ago.

Reasons given for the rejection were the fact that the tax levy had been passed and funds would not be available. Under the proposal, the village would have paid $60 a month to the salary. This, the trustees felt, was more expense than could be absorbed by the village at this time.

Village Weed Cutter Put Into Operation

The village of Barrington started its campaign against the growth of noxious and unsightly weeds by placing in operation the new powered weed cutter Wednesday afternoon. Paul Parcell, superintendent of streets, began supervising cutting along parkways with E. Nicolai operating the machine.

The weed cutting machine was purchased by the village upon the recommendation of Village President Earl Hatje, who has instituted a campaign to remove the weeds from the village.

In order to control the unhampered growth of weeds on vacant property, the village trustees approved an ordinance last week containing provisions for cutting them and providing penalties for failure to do so.

The machine is driven by a small horsepower gasoline motor, a cutting bar operating off a drive shaft. It is propelled by man power and rated as capable of doing the work of six men. Its 16 inch cutting bar moves a 30 inch strip which the Detroit company, maker of the machine, claims is equal to six men using hand scythes. The cost of operation is nominal, using approximately a pint of fuel an hour.

Prospects of Court Battle for Relief Finances in View

Prospects of a court, fight to force the state to turn over the one-cent share of the sales tax for relief purposes to the townships' poor relief administration were revealed Tuesday at the meeting of the Lake County board of supervisors.

Harold B. Piliplant, supervisor of Waukegan town, is reported considering preparation of a test case for his town in an attempt to get more funds for poor relief. Of the three-cent sales tax, one cent is for the purpose of meeting poor relief costs. It was stated.

Piliplant pointed out that his township was not receiving its full share. For August, he declared, an allotment of $21,480 was asked and he received $16,177 from the state.

H. D. Kelsey, supervisor of the town of Cuba, has taken an active interest in the proposal, and indicated he would join Piliplant in the effort to get more funds for relief administration.
