

Loans on Corn Are Available to Farm Plan Co-Operators

Reorganize and Elect Five Community Committees for Program

Lake county farmers who are eligible for 1937-38 federal corn loans of 50 cents a bushel may file their applications at the office of the Lake county agricultural conservation committee, according to information received by Farm Adviser H. C. Gilkerson through the extension service of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

Loans will be available after December 1, it is thought, and until April 1, 1938, bearing per cent interest, the loans will become due 10 months following the date of which they are made with no maturity later than November 1, 1938.

Only farm owners or tenants who will receive payments for cooperating in the 1937 agricultural conservation program are eligible to borrow under the corn loan program. To be eligible as security for a corn loan, corn must have been produced on a farm operated in cooperation with the 1937 agricultural conservation program.

Generally, the corn loan program will operate along the lines followed in previous programs. However, for the first time the corn loan program will be administered by the service facilities made available by the county agricultural conservation committee of the AAA.

Herman Ahlgrim Fatally Injured Thanksgiving Day

Dies At Palatine Hospital Friday; Funeral Held Here Sunday

Funeral services for Herman Ahlgrim, 22 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ahlgrim of Elm township, who died at Palatine hospital from injuries received early Thanksgiving Day morning in an auto crash, were held at the funeral chapel, 149 W. Main street, and at St. Paul Evangelical church Sunday afternoon with Rev. Hermann Koenig officiating. Burial was in St. Paul cemetery.

The young man was fatally injured when the car he was driving struck a tree on Plum Grove avenue in Palatine at 2:30 a. m. Thursday. Traveling north on Plum Grove avenue, he swerved his car to the left side of the street to avoid striking a machine that was backing out of a driveway.

The speed of the machine carried it over the curb where it struck the tree. The car was completely wrecked by the impact.

Mr. Ahlgrim was taken to the Palatine Community hospital for treatment. It was first believed that his condition was not critical, as he was conscious during the day and able to recognize his family. He grew worse later in the evening and died shortly after 1 o'clock Friday morning. He suffered internal injuries with hemorrhages and a slight skull fracture.

At an inquest held in Palatine, a verdict of accidental death was returned by the coroner's jury. The young man was born in Palatine township on November 24, 1915. The accident occurred the day following his 22nd birthday. He was educated at the Quinlan Convent school in Elm township where his parents have had their home for many years. At the time of his death he was employed by his brother, John, in the hauling business.

In addition to his parents and brother John, another brother, Clarence, of Barrington, survives.

Mrs. Kirk Smith Tells of Trip Home From War Area

Mrs. Kirk Smith who is visiting at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Smith, 528 Grove avenue, this week with her small son, has written the following account of her 35 day trip from Chefoo, North China to her mother's home at Plojo, Illinois: Our last rickshaw ride—5:30 a. m. Tuesday, Oct. 5—taking my 8 1/2 months old son and me to the Kaijing Jetty. We were from the small boat out to the large U. S. Marblehead, where we presented what was to become our most valued possession and shown at each port—our certifying medicine we had just completed a series of cholera shots. It was a relief to leave Chefoo, with its large Chinese army, trenches and war preparations. Traveling north on Japanese planes, which might drop a bomb any minute.

China is so interesting and I regretted exceedingly that the war so drastically altered our plans and prevented my seeing more of the country. Peking and Shanghai, where I had intended to spend several months. It goes without saying that we all were heartach at the uttering and destruction endured by our Chinese friends. We felt sorry for the Chinese friends we left in Chefoo and we hope our faithful amah, Ah Sae, was able to secure passage to her home in Hong Kong.

Since no commercial transportation was available, nor had been for weeks, the navy came to our rescue, and riding on the large light cruiser was a novel experience for all on board.

To my knowledge, it is the first time families have been evacuated on such a warship. We were treated so royally on the Marblehead that we wished we could continue on her the entire voyage. However, Tsingtau was her destination, and we reached there about five that afternoon.

The bay was terribly rough so that the transfer from the Marblehead to the U. S. S. Canopus was very difficult, dangerous and thrilling.

Aboard the Canopus, a submarine tender of the U. S. Asiatic fleet, we were treated to a dinner Wednesday, Oct. 6, started for Japan.

When one considers that no navy ship is accustomed or equipped to accommodate the horde of women and children that were aboard, one realizes that we did well to manage.

An electric plane was provided near the galley, where we women were seated.

Burand, village clerk, for presentation to village trustees at its next board meeting. The railroad company sustained a proportionate share of the cost by previous agreement.

This amount is slightly higher than estimated when work was started on the crossing in design of sidewalk and other improvements brought about the increase over the original $3,200. The crossing was opened to traffic Monday evening.

The village's portion of the expense is to be taken from the state gas tax fund credited Barrington.

Factions Seek to Arouse Voters for Election Tuesday

Both the republican and democratic organizations of Lake, McHenry, Boone and Winnebago counties this week are striving to arouse partisan interest in the seventeenth judicial district election to be held Tuesday, December 7, for the purpose of electing a judge to fill the vacancy resulting from the death of the late Judge Edward D. Shurtlett of McHenry.

William L. Pierce, attorney at Belvidere, is the republican banner carrier and George R. Lyon, Waubesa attorney, is the democratic candidate. Both men were accepted as candidates for the unexpired term of office at convention held at Woodstock in October.

Although both candidates have conducted fairly active campaigns, as yet little response has been shown by voters. Some political observers have forecast the total vote for the county will be far below primary registrations.

A meeting of the Cuba Township Republican club will be held in the Barrington village hall Friday evening for the purpose of making election plans for next Tuesday.

Voters of Cuba township will cast their ballots at the Standard Motor Garage, 205 Railroad street, Tuesday instead of the Schauble Brothers and Collins garage as has been the practice for the last several years. The polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 5 p. m. Residents of Elm township will go to Elm town hall to vote their preferences.

Judges and clerks of election to serve in the 24 Lake county precincts Tuesday received their final instructions on their duties from Judge Perry L. Persons last Tuesday.

Assistant State's Attorney Olet S. Pucua, who interpreted the election laws, stated that only judges have permission to give ballots. The chief district clerks are to record the names of the voters and after polls are closed to tally votes as announced by the judges.
