Barn on Lageschulte Farm Near Huntley Is Burned Friday

Fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated $15,000 loss at the farm owned by Henry Lageschulte of Barrington, 1 1/2 miles northeast of Huntley, at noon Friday. A barn, 120 feet by 40 feet, filled with hay and grain, was burned so quickly that only sufficient time was had to drive the stock to safety. Corn shredding was in progress at the farm and men engaged in the work first noticed smoke and flames shooting from the hay mow. The Huntley fire department was called but the fire had gained headway so quickly that efforts were confined to saving other farm buildings.

Gilbert Frost, tenant on the farm, set the loss at a high figure due to the large amount of stored hay and grain in the building.
